Goldwater Gets Bipartisan Welcome On Senate Return

Nominee Says He's Sorry To See GOP Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater received a noisy, hand-clapping welcome from his Senate colleagues, Democrats as well as Republicans, as he returned to the chamber today for the first time since he captured the Republican presidential nomination.

Senators on both parties arose and loudly applauded as he entered a side door and went to his regularly assigned seat—immediately next to Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), who had withheld his endorsement of the GOP national ticket.

Welcoming speeches by Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, greeted Goldwater.

Dirksen hailed Goldwater as a "great public servant, a great citizen" to whom he was delighted to extend the hand of friendship.

Mansfield said it was "a source of pride" to the Senate whenever one of its members is "chosen as the candidate for the highest honor" in the land.

Goldwater, moved by the tribute, said that he would be remiss if he did not thank his colleagues "for the welcome back given me today."

"I treasure the friendships of the senators on the other side of the aisle," Goldwater said of the Democrats, just as he treasures those of fellow Republicans.

He reminded his colleagues

Poll Shows Sharp Goldwater Upswing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharp upswing of voter support in the South has boosted Sen. Barry Goldwater's popularity, but he still trails President Lyndon B. Johnson nationally by 64 per cent to 36, according to the latest Louis Harris poll.

Goldwater swept into a clear lead in the South, with the support of 55 per cent of those polled.

The poll, copyrighted by the Washington Post, showed that before the Republican National Convention, Johnson led nationally 72-22, with 6 per cent undecided.

The same voters, questioned after the convention, preferred Johnson 74-26 before the convention to 64-36 afterward.

Goldwater showed gains in all four sections of the country after the convention. The biggest surge, however, was in the South where he went from 39 per cent to 55 per cent, while Johnson dropped from 61 to 45.

President Johnson leads in the other three sections: in the East, 74-26; in the Midwest, 64-36; and in the West, 69-31.

Johnson's overall 64-36 per cent lead, the Harris poll said, was the widest enjoyed by any candidate for president in modern times at this stage.

LBJ Pledges Every Effort For Peaceful Race Solution

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson pledged today to do everything possible during current racial strife to bend passions "to peaceful obedience to law."

Speaking to an assembly of 264 of the nation's top business, industrial, communications and banking executives, Johnson also warned against permitting any political acts during the coming campaign to damage the health of the economy or interrupt steady expansion.

Johnson called the executives to a White House lunch to discuss problems facing the federal government—from civil rights to economic health. He will hold a similar meeting with top labor leaders at the White House tomorrow.

Johnson asked the executives to join in a campaign of persuasion to see that the new civil rights act is obeyed.

The president said the Constitution and laws of this country placed upon everyone a duty to provide equal justice for all.

"To fail to observe this duty attacks the entire structure of ordered liberty on which the life of this nation depends," he said. "I ask you to use the influence and position and respect which you possess in such abundant measure to persuade others that the law of the land must be obeyed."

Johnson told the group: "I did not become president to preside over mounting violence and deepening disorder."

He said, "I fully intend to use all the resources I have to make sure that those who claim rights and those who deny them bend their passions to peaceful obedience to law."

The president, who recently has been deeply concerned by racial violence in Mississippi, Georgia and New York City, added, "I intend to work to ensure that every person enjoys the full constitutional rights and equal opportunity that are his birthright as an American citizen."

Father, Son Sought; Span Leap Feared

Earlier, Soldier Leaps To Death At Golden Gate

A suicide note, wallet and child's toys and clothing were found today in the locked auto of a man who was reported to have threatened to leap off the Golden Gate Bridge and take his 4-year-old with him.

A 1961 Chevrolet station wagon belonging to Leonard M. Jenkins, 44, of Bryte, Yolo County, was first noticed by California Highway Patrol officers parked in the Vista Point parking area two days ago.

NOTE FOUND

It was not until 5:35 a.m. today, after the highway patrol received notification from Sacramento that Jenkins had told his estranged wife, Jean, that he was going to jump off the bridge with his son, Harold, that officers forced open the locked car.

Inside they found a note typed on unruled yellow paper, saying that because of "marital difficulties and such I have decided to end it all." Jenkins' name was typed on the note.

CHILD'S CLOTHES

Two shirts and a pair of trousers which would fit a 4-year-old boy were found in the car, said highway patrol Officer Ivan Jump. Jenkins' wallet, containing identification papers showing he was a civilian employee at McLellan Air Force Base, was found in the glove compartment. It contained no money.

Patrolman Jump reserved judgment on whether Jenkins had actually leaped from the span because, he said, "suicides never lock their cars." Also he noted it might be significant that no money was left in the wallet.

A delay of more than nine hours in the investigation of the

Goldwater Asks To See Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater has asked the White House for an appointment with President Lyndon B. Johnson to discuss civil rights and the campaign ahead.

Goldwater's press secretary, Tony Smith, said today that an aide to the senator talked yesterday with a White House aide, seeking a meeting between the Arizona senator and the man he is challenging for the presidency.

"A contact has been made with the White House relative to an appointment," Smith said.

Negro Riots, Looting Continue Fifth Night

Wagner Plea Is Unheeded

NEW YORK (AP)—Negro rioting and looting and police gunfire erupted again during the night despite a broadcast by Mayor Robert F. Wagner for peace and order.

Police shot and wounded three Negroes and arrested 122 in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn in the fifth straight night of disorders in the city.

WINDOWS SMASHED

Police said about 200 store windows were smashed during the night in the section, raising the total to nearly 500 in the city.

The trouble broke out in Harlem Saturday night after a white police lieutenant fatally shot a 15-year-old Negro boy last Thursday. The lieutenant said the youth was coming at him with a knife.

The disorders have centered for the past two nights in the predominantly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant district.

LAW AND ORDER

Wagner went on radio and television and said continued disorders could set back Negro and civil rights programs for half a century.

"Law and order are the Negro's best friend—make no mistake about that," he said. "The opposite of law and order is mob rule, and that is the way of the Ku Klux Klan and the night riders and the lynch mobs."

Some 150 Negro leaders in a rare display of unity among their various factions demanded the immediate ouster of Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy.

Wagner, in his speech, expressed "complete confidence"

CLIFF-HANGER RESCUE VIA GARDEN HOSE ROPE

Mary Beth Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Ryan of 8 Carmel Court, got stuck part way up a 120-foot cliff where she had been playing east of her home at 10:45 a.m.

Mailman Bert Netter of 225 Olema Drive, Fairfax, was one of the first to see Mary Beth's plight. He got a garden hose from a neighbor's home and uncoiled it down the face of the cliff. This gave the girl something to hold onto until Marin Sheriff's Deputies Ernest Nielsen and William Wallace arrived and helped her climb to safety.

San Rafael Demands Rail Service Orders

San Rafael, through attorney Boris H. Lakusta, today asked the California Public Utilities Commission to order Northwestern Pacific Railroad to restore service in Marin County.

Lakusta filed a brief with the PUC, demanding that the commission issue an order on the railroad to reopen the Puerto Suello Tunnel. The brief said the work should begin within 30 days of the issuance of a favorable ruling by the United States Supreme Court, which now has the much-prolonged case.

The railroad, a subsidiary of Southern Pacific Co., has used every legal means to avoid or delay opening of the tunnel since it was destroyed by fire July 20, 1961.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, supported by the Federal District Court in San Francisco, ordered the tunnel opened and normal service to Southern Marin restored.

Lakusta, retained by San Rafael and other interested Marin cities and industries, said the railroad also was due to file a brief before the PUC today. The briefs were requested after a PUC hearing at the Civic Center June 12.

Lakusta said there will be no further arguments before the PUC. He expects that the commission, after studying the briefs, will issue a ruling similar to that requested in his brief.

Such a decision was evidenced by the comments of William Bennett, then commission chairman. Bennett called the hearing to find what, if anything, the railroad had done toward restoring service.

Penalty Phase Reveals Past Of King, Jones

By ROSS DAVIS

Tales of prison escape, molesting of a 13-year-old girl, and kidnaping of a cab driver gave indication this morning in the Donald G. Corbett Jr. slaying case that the first penalty phase trial in the history of Marin County will also be one fraught with drama and revelation.

The Marin Superior Court jury —the same that Tuesday found defendants Robert Lee Jones and John Lee King guilty of first degree murder—convened at 10 a.m. today to determine whether the killers shall die in the gas chamber or be sentenced to life in prison, a penalty which leaves them eligible for eventual parole.

DEFENSE MOTIONS

After futile motions by defense attorneys for separate penalty trials for their respective clients, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales opened with introduction of prison records of both defendants.

He said Jones was convicted Feb. 13, 1962, of armed robbery of a Las Vegas, Nev., pawnbroker and sentenced to five to 15 years in Nevada State Prison.

THREE MONTHS

Bales' first witness, Aldon Arigoni, head of the Nevada prison honor camp near Lake Tahoe, testified that Jones served two years at the main prison in Carson City, then was transferred to the camp.

Jones had been at the camp three months, he said, when he escaped Feb. 16 by padding his bunk with clothing including a

READS CONSTITUTION — Segregationist Lester Maddox, Atlanta, Ga. restaurant owner who has defied the civil rights act and refused to serve Negroes in his place of business, reads the U.S. Constitution yesterday while waiting ruling by a three-judge federal panel on his opposition to the new law. The ruling went against him, as well as a protest suit brought by the Heart of Atlanta Motel Corp. (AP Wirephoto)

Segregationists Will Appeal Rights Ruling

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Owners of a restaurant and a motel are preparing to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court the landmark decision by a three-judge federal court upholding constitutionality of the new Civil Rights Act.

"I think justice will prevail and we will be given a favorable verdict by the Supreme Court," said Lester Maddox, proprietor of the Pickrick Restaurant.

Moreton Rolleston Jr., head of the Heart of Atlanta Motel Corp., said he would abide by the order but would appeal immediately.

The men commented yesterday shortly after the judges issued injunctions against their establishments in the first two court tests of the new law.

The effective date of the injunctions was delayed until Aug. 11 to allow time for appeals.

Rolleston filed suit against the government to block enforcement of the law within two hours after it was signed on July 2 by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Maddox was sued by three Negroes he chased from his restaurant at gunpoint on July 3. The Negroes later were joined by the Justice Department.

Both suits questioned the constitutionality of the public accommodations sections of the law.

Basic arguments in each case hinged on whether Congress had constitutional authority to enact the law. The court disposed of this issue before ruling on the law's application.

The decisions were handed down by Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and District Judges Lewis R. Morgan and Frank A. Hooper.

They said that motels and restaurants offering to serve interstate travelers can be brought under interstate commerce regulations as the act directs, and therefore cannot discriminate against Negroes.

"It is clear that the definition includes the Pickrick," the court held. "This is the limit of the case. Congress had the power to go this far."

All three judges concurred in both injunctions.

In a special concurring opinion, Hooper said it appeared that the Pickrick came within the law since it offered to serve interstate travelers by virtue of its location and a sign on a major route.

However, Hooper added: "The majority opinion rules in effect that segregation in this particular restaurant affects commerce because of the fact that 'a substantial portion of the food which it serves has moved in commerce'."

In the motel decision, the court held there was no need to justify the outlawing of discrimination on the ground that the business is actually in the stream of commerce.

GOP ISSUE?

Rusk Bares Leak—Old Wet Kind

The terrace atop the State Department building, which overlooks much of downtown Washington, is not available to guests because it is under repair.

Apologizing at a formal dinner for Malaysia's visiting Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman, Rusk said the terrace had begun to leak on "those of us on the famous seventh floor," where he and his top aides have their offices.

"This is dangerous to say, I know," Rusk said. "It opens the way for our Republican friends to say that the Republicans built the State Department and it worked fine and then the Democrats got in and it began to leak."

Gov. Wallace Drops Role Of Favorite Son

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Gov. George Wallace, declining to play a "favorite son" role, last night released Alabama's delegates to the Democratic National Convention from supporting him for president.

The 38-member delegation voted unanimously to invite convention delegations from 13 other Southern and border states to meet Aug. 23, prior to the convention in Atlantic City, N.J., to map plans to fight for a platform favorable to Dixie.

Wallace's release came as no surprise at the organizational meeting of the delegation, but the governor cautioned the delegates to stick together and present a united front. "Alabama has helped awake the nation in the past few months and I think we should be united at the convention," he told them.

UNITY THEME

The unity theme was the basis used by James Kahalley of Mobile who suggested the pre-convention caucus of states in the old Confederacy. Kahalley was picked by Wallace for a convention committee appointment.

The delegates came close to a showdown split in their first session over the election of a permanent chairman, but Wallace forces pushed Bessemer Mayor Jess Lanier into the job after stopping a bid by National Democratic Committeeman Eugene (Bull) Connor, former Birmingham police chief.

In his brief talk before the delegation, Wallace said his presidential campaign "sent a message that will be heeded by most national parties. I have accomplished my mission."

The threatened split in the delegation came shortly before Wallace appeared at the meeting.

FORCED OUT

Wallace supporters forced Connor out of the picture after suffering a setback when the delegates voted 20-16 to hold the chairman election by secret ballot. The vote was reconsidered and Connor asked that he not be nominated when it became apparent the Wallace forces had gained the upper hand.

"To keep harmony in this delegation, I yield to the governor and his friends," Connor said.

The governor made no bid to personally lead the delegation to Atlantic City as a member. Earlier, it had been rumored that Wallace would step into a vacancy created by temporary active military duty for State Sen. Neal Metcalf of Geneva.

Political observers were predicting that Wallace would now attend the convention as a spectator, and would perhaps make an appearance before the platform committee.

$100,000 Suit Against Ara

CHICAGO (AP) — A $100,000 civil suit was filed yesterday against Ara Parseghian, Notre Dame football coach, by the mother of a boy injured in an auto accident.

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court in behalf of Mrs. Lois Hudson of Evanston, whose auto was involved in a collision with Parseghian's car in Evanston, Dec.11.

She charged that Parseghian was guilty of negligence and that her son, Scott, 9, was permanently injured in the crash.

Murray Quitting Dance Business

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Murray is stepping out of the dance studio business he started in the 1930s when he taught residents of Minneapolis to circle and say "oi" to the tune of the Lambeth Walk.

He said yesterday two franchises have purchased control of the cross-country chain, Arthur Murray Inc., for about 1 million dollars. The new owners said they would retain Murray's name, though he said he wishes they wouldn't. Mrs. Murray will continue as an adviser.

Murray, 69, said he plans to produce dramatic television shows.

Murray said he sold out his ownership interests in 1948 for about 2 million dollars. He has remained in a role of diminishing activity since.

Viet General's Threats Toned Down A Little

SAIGON, Vietnam (UPI) — The South Vietnamese defense ministry today issued a cautiously worded repudiation of its air force commander's call for an attack on Communist North Vietnam.

But it did not deny his account of commando raids.

The ministry did not mention the name of Air Commodore Nguyen Cao Ky, who described the raids yesterday.

"It seems that a general has told some reporters that the Vietnamese Air Force is now able to attack against communist military forces in North Vietnam and said that in order to put an end to communist aggression it is necessary to resort to military measures right on the enemy's territory," the ministry said.

"The defense ministry wants to clarify that . . . personal opinions of a military commander (are not) policy of the defense ministry."

Viet Reds Repeat Bloody Ambush

SAIGON, Vietnam (AP)—A powerful Communist unit pounced on a South Vietnamese mechanized relief force late yesterday, inflicting 54 casualties and destroying an armored vehicle with recoilless cannon.

The clash, about 25 miles northwest of Saigon, was the latest in a bloody series of one-a-day attacks on big government units.

Vietnamese officers estimated however, that their force killed 60 of the enemy. They captured one Communist gun, a 57-MM recoilless cannon.

Seventeen government troops were killed, 34 were wounded and three were missing. Several U.S. advisers were involved, but all were reported uninjured.

The fight began along a road as several hundred troops and about 25 amphibious personnel carriers were rushing from the Trung Lap ranger post to the defense of a beleaguered outpost.

The government force evidently was not caught by surprise, and was fighting as soon as first shots rang out.

The road runs near the edge of the Communist-controlled and densely jungled area north of Saigon that is called "D Zone."

suicide was caused by the original teletype message from Sacramento at 8 p.m. yesterday being missed in the highway patrol's office at the bridge. As a result the investigation did not begin until 5:35 a.m. today, when the CHP office at the bridge asked Sacramento why there had been no answer to a previous request to trace the car by its license number.

The Coast Guard said that it had notified its boats to be on the lookout for the bodies, but did not plan to launch a search.

A positive suicide was recorded on the bridge yesterday, and a 24-year-old San Francisco woman was taken to San Francisco general hospital for observation after she attempted to sneak onto the bridge last night.

Pfc. Drake E. Rodgers Jr., 20, stationed at the Two Rock army camp near Petaluma, was driving south on the Golden Gate Bridge at 8:30 a.m. yesterday when he halted his car 100 yards south of midspan during the commuter rush hour.

Rodgers, who resided in Petaluma with his wife, raised the hood on his car as if it had engine trouble. Then, according to witnesses, he walked across the pedestrian sidewalk and jumped over the railing.

His body was found by the Coast Guard one hour later.

Lucille Clare Wanko was stopped by Officer Jump, who saw her trying to sneak around the side of the roundhouse at 11:35 p.m. She had taken a taxi to the toll lines and got out to jump off the bridge, Officer Jump said.

Father Arrested For Beating Son

Charles Francis Campbell Jr., 38, of 802 Rosal Way, Santa Venetia, was arrested by Marin sheriff's deputies last night, for allegedly beating his 8-year-old son, Lance Frank Campbell.

Campbell's wife called deputies to the home at 11:45 p.m. The boy told them his father had beaten him and tried to choke him after chasing him around the house. Deputies said Campbell suffered a bloody nose when he fell off a bed during the struggle.

Rattlesnake Killed At Marinwood Home

Deputy Sheriff Martin Conlin shot and killed a rattlesnake behind a home in Marinwood about 11 a.m. yesterday.

"It was about two and one-half feet long and had five rattles and a button," said Conlin. The rattler had been found by children about 50 yards behind the home of Mrs. Evelyn Petray at 465 Peachstone Drive.

MILL VALLEY JOB

Teen-Agers Clean Up City Parks, Streets

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Ten young "trail men" are working this week with brush axes, pruning knives, mattocks and picks to clear a Mill Valley road — Monte Vista Avenue — which had almost returned to a deer trail.

The job is part of the city's second summer work program for high school age boys.

Besides clearing trails and roads, the youths are cleaning out creek beds in parks, the parks themselves, and removing brush from areas considered to be fire hazards.

Brush is being cleared from a primitive unpaved section of Monte Vista between Rose and Cascade Avenues to enable fire equipment to use the road. Elaine Avenue, overgrown with trees and brush, has been foraged, too, to permit firemen to get to one end of West Blithedale Avenue without having to make a long trip via Summit Avenue during the time work is being done on the sewer along West Blithedale.

The program began June 22, ends Aug. 28. Joseph F. Penders, park superintendent, in overall charge, said: "Most of the boys are ambitious and cooperate with the supervisors. Most of them are working for money either to use on vacation or to pay for part of their schooling."

"It's good experience for the kids, some having never worked before," said Ray Cless, 19, one of the two supervisors. Cless, a junior at University of San Francisco, added that the boys have cleared a lot of poison oak. "That's our main injury."

He said recommendations are made to the state department of employment after the two-week sessions, telling how good a worker a boy is, which is helpful to him in getting another job later. All boys must first apply to the department of employment office in San Rafael.

Randy Wilkes, a student at University of California, is the other supervisor.

Fifty boys are in the program, for which the city council budgeted $3,284. Each works 8 a.m. to noon five days a week and is paid $1 an hour. The boys are divided into two groups with a supervisor over each. The supervisor is paid $2 an hour and puts in an eight-hour day, working in the afternoon with the park department.

Penders collects the boys at the City Hall in the morning and they ride to their work in the back of a flat-bed truck.

Work began in Cascade Park, said Penders, cleaning trails and making repairs, then moved to Three Wells Trail and Old Mill and Boyle parks. Other work has been done on Scott Highland Park and it is expected that work will be done on other street clearing as well as in Sycamore and Molino Parks.

Meeting Slated On Proposed Unification

The Marin County Committee of School District Organization today announced it will adopt a final recommendation for the proposed unification of the San Rafael and Dixie Elementary school districts at a meeting of the augmented committee at San Rafael High School auditorium Aug. 6 at 8 p.m.

The augmented committee includes members of the San Rafael Board of Education and the Dixie School District Board.

Arigoni said guards found that another inmate fled with Jones. They stole a guard's jeep.

It was later found abandoned in Reno, Nev., Arigoni added. Arigoni said the second escapee, Earl Clements was later caught.

Record for King, under the alias of John Louis Farnsworth, shows he was convicted in April of 1955 of "indecent liberties" and sentenced to Illinois State Prison for one to three years.

Bales said King was accused of molesting a girl, believed to be 13 years old, in Belleville, Ill. He said the girl was a relative. King, asked by newsmen which was his true name declined to say. He added he discarded the Farnsworth name "many years ago" and does not prefer now to be associated with it.

He said he "honestly" doesn't know if his father's name was Farnsworth, and he has used the name King for a long time.

Second prosecution witness was Charles Frederick of San Francisco, Yellow Cab driver, who named King as the man who on March 14 hailed his cab in San Francisco and had him drive to Stinson Beach in Marin County.

Frederick said King then stuck a gun, which he said was similar to the .380 automatic pistol already introduced into evidence, against the side of his nose and robbed him of $53, a wristwatch and a ring.

The cab driver said he was then forced into the cab's trunk, and King drove the cab back to San Francisco before returning to Marin County and abandoning the vehicle.

Corbett was killed in his Sausalito apartment March 27.

Woman Patron Of Bar Fined For Mischief

An Oakland nurse, who broke the plate glass door at Gateway Inn in Sausalito a week ago, paid $29 fine today in Marin Municipal Court.

Officer Eugene J. Coady of Sausalito police said Miss Mattick apparently became angry because she was ordered out of the Gateway about 2 a.m. while she was trying to make a telephone call.

Deputy Dist. Atty. William Mackay prosecuted the case. Miss Mattick defended herself.

Teamsters Will Vote On Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Teamsters union the California Processors and Growers, Inc., reached tentative agreement today on a new contract, easing the threat of a strike affecting 50,000 cannery workers.

Mike Elorduy, secretary of the Teamsters' state council of cannery unions, said union negotiators were recommending approval of the three-year pact. Members will vote on it next week.

Details of the agreement were not released pending membership action, but it was said to contain innovations in the field of fringe benefits.

Mountain Lion Spotted At Taylor State Park

A woman who would not give her name called the Marin County Sheriff's Department today to report that she saw a mountain lion last night near Tocaloma Bridge west of Samuel P. Taylor State Park.

Reports of lions are infrequent in Marin these days, but one was reportedly seen in the park last summer.

HARLEM

in Murphy, a former beat patrolman who obtained a law degree before advancing to his $35,000 a year post.

In Washington, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, a Harlem Negro Democrat, said the violence represented "the built-in, continuing resentment of the black people of the black ghetto of New York" against police policies.

He said the violence could be "ended before the sun goes down" if Wagner would: set up a non-police board to review charges of police brutality; assign a Negro police captain to the troubled Harlem precinct; suspend Lt. James R. Gilligan, who shot the Negro youth; expand the jurisdiction of grand juries to include "misuse of police authority," and stop assigning rookie policemen to Harlem.

Negro Harlem has a population of about 300,000.

Bedford-Stuyvesant—no dead, 16 injured (six civilians, 10 policemen), 227 arrested, 371 property damage incidents.

In Manhattan, 500 white teenagers pelted Negro demonstrators outside police headquarters. A police charge broke up the mob.

Harlem, however, was quiet—even quieter than on a normal summer Wednesday night, police said.

There were no riot arrests. No police shots were fired. No streets were sealed off in the nation's largest Negro community, where violence had flared for four nights in a row following the fatal shooting of a 15-year-old Negro boy by a white police lieutenant.

Seventy-six Negroes were arrested last night and early today in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section. Charges included felonious assault, looting from stores whose windows were smashed, and disorderly conduct.

Wagner later told newsmen that there is "some evidence" of Communist instigation of the racial rioting.

Several Negro leaders in Harlem have said that Communist influence—if it existed at all—has been minor.

In Brooklyn, a crowd composed mostly of Negro teenagers gathered around a truck with a loudspeaker and jeered officials of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People as they appealed to Negroes to get off the streets. Police dispersed the crowd.

Novato's New Fire Alarm System Due

Novato's new fire alarm system should be in operation by Sept. 1, Charles Onorato, who is in charge of the system, reported last night to the Novato Fire District board.

The alarm boxes have been shipped and installation will start on Aug. 3, Onorato reported.

County Jail's Inmates Quickly Put Out Blaze

A small fire broke out inside the day room of the Marin County Jail at 10:27 p.m. yesterday but flames were doused by inmates before causing any damage.

Jailer David Estes said one of the inmates probably tossed a lighted cigarette or a match on the mop.

Grand Jury Meets

The Marin County Grand Jury met last night, but took no action, according to Foreman Joseph Warren Crane. He said last night's session consisted only of routine committee reports. There was to be another committee meeting this afternoon, but Crane said there would be little to come out of this, also.

OBITUARIES

Agnes J. Green, 75, Rites Held

Private Requiem Mass for Agnes J. Green, 75, former Marin County recorder who died in a Terra Linda convalescent home Tuesday after a short illness, was celebrated at St. Isabella's Church in Terra Linda.

Miss Green went to work in the recorder's office in March 1908. She was appointed recorder in October, 1949, to fill the unexpired term of Frank J. Burrows who was killed in an automobile accident.

She chose not to run for election to the position in 1950 and was succeeded by Noel T. Giacomini, whom she served as chief deputy recorder for several months before retiring in May, 1951.

A native of San Francisco, she had lived in Marin County for 63 years. Her home was at 205 Laurel Place, San Rafael, until she moved to Nazareth House in Terra Linda nearly three years ago.

She was a member of St. Raphael's Parish and the Marin County Employees' Assn.

that he had withdrawn his bid for reelection to the Senate from Arizona, and said he will now be forced to "work much harder" to remain in politics.

Both Republicans and Democrats filed by to shake Goldwater's hand.

He even received a handshake or pat on the back from some Republicans who have indicated they may not support him.

These included New York's two GOP senators, Javits and Kenneth B. Keating.

Goldwater, speaking with newsmen before he went to the Senate chamber, said he was sorry that some Republicans had said they could not support him at this time.

"That's their own choice," he said.

JOHN KENNEDY

John M. Kennedy of San Francisco, longtime civic leader and printer, died in a Marin County hospital yesterday after a long cancer illness. He was 75.

Survivors include two sons, John M. Kennedy Jr. of Mill Valley and Richard T. Kennedy of Greenbrae.

For 15 years, Kennedy and his wife, Hazel, who also survive him, had been spending two months each year in Ross at a summer home.

He was a native of San Francisco. In his youth he played semi-professional baseball. He attended Sacred Heart College until the San Francisco earthquake in 1906. The earthquake killed his father, and Kennedy had to go to work at the age of 17. He became a bookkeeper in the Bosch Printing Co.

In 1920, with the aid of earnings from baseball, he purchased control of the firm and changed its name to Kennedy-ten-Bosch Co. He was president for 44 years. He also headed Lithographic Producers, Inc.

He had served on the San Francisco Civil Service Commission, the San Franciso Chamber of Commerce board of directors, and was once president of Franklin Hospital. He was a member of the Bohemian Club, the Olympic Club and San Francisco Golf Club.

Other survivors, all residents of San Francisco, are a daughter, Mrs. Jeanne Kennedy Longley; a brother, Tom Kennedy; three sisters, Sister Mary Adrienne of Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet, Mrs. Rose Brunn and Mrs. Mary Flynn, and seven grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Dominic's Church, San Francisco. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Carew and English Mortuary, San Francisco.

The family prefers contributions to the American Cancer Society.

FREE UNTIL OCTOBER

Dr. Sam Sheppard and his bride of five days, the former Ariane Tebbenjohanns, leave the courthouse in Akron, Ohio, after a three-judge panel of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday upheld his $10,000 bond—and his freedom—until the court could decide if last week's U. S. District Court order releasing him from prison should stand. It will be at least October before the appellate court sits again. Dr. Sheppard had been serving a life sentence for the 1954 bludgeon slaying of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, which he has stoutly maintained was committed by "a bushy haired" intruder. Last week, a federal judge ruled he had not received a fair trial. Today, his attorney, F. Lee Bailey, held that, "I don't think this case will ever be retried." (AP Wirephoto)

County Commission Studies Handicapped Recreation

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission agreed yesterday that a pilot program should be developed to provide recreation for handicapped persons.

The Marin Council for Crippled Children and Adults has offered to provide the staff, reported Recreation Director Kelvin J. Nelson.

Commissioners said they wanted more details of the proposed program and authorized Nelson to work with the San Rafael Park and Recreation Commission to develop it.

Joseph D. Rodota, San Rafael recreation director, said the proposed program "is in the exploratory stage." The recreation center would be available but there might have to be alterations such as installing ramps or handrails for the handicapped, but that possibly some local organization could undertake the job as a service project. He said he would like to see the city and the county cooperate on the project.

"What is the role of the county?" asked commission Chairman Gibbs Lawson.

"The same as with the senior citizens, setting up a pilot program," Nelson said.

According to a survey by the commission, there are at least 329 handicapped persons in Marin who could participate in a recreation program. The survey listed 175 mentally retarded children and 77 adults, and 74 physically handicapped children and 47 adults.

The commission also reviewed plans for the first phase of development of Paradise Beach Park on the Tiburon Peninsula, including grading, paving, irrigation and planting.

Commissioners agreed to ask the supervisors to restore funds for rest rooms at the park which were cut during budget sessions. Lawson said it would be more economical to install the rest rooms at the beginning phase because it will disrupt the turf and irrigation system if they are installed later.

Nelson said he hopes to have the park project out for bid next month and have work start early in September.

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission also:

1. Toured the Muir Beach Overlook site, but postponed discussion on the area at the meeting because members returned late from the trip.

2. Decided to seek a system whereby the commission would be notified when county surplus land was available so it could be checked for possible recreation use.

OAS Ministers Seek Compromise On Cuba Sanction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Foreign ministers of the Organization of American States (OAS), including Secretary of State Dean Rusk, conferred privately in small groups today in a search for compromise sanctions against Cuba.

But Argentine Foreign Minister Miguel Zavala Ortiz told the third formal session of the conference later that even though Cuba was guilty of aggression against Venezuela any OAS sanctions would be just another form of intervention.

Venezuelan Ambassador Enrique Tejera-Paris criticized Zavala Ortiz's statements that poverty and underdevelopment were greater disruptive forces than Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Woman, Son, 8, Rest After Rescue

EUREKA (AP)—In good condition, with no serious injuries, a Sacramento woman and her 8-year-old son rested here today after having been rescued in the rugged hill country of Humboldt County.

Mrs. Esther Louise Allmendinger, 50, was treated at a hospital for exposure, cuts and bruises after she and the boy, Leif, were brought by helicopter and a ground party from a wooded ridge 15 miles east of Orick.

Fledgling City's Mayor Uses Pipe In Lieu Of Gavel

Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge banged down his pipe on a desk and the Tiburon City Council and Planning Commission got under way with their discussion last night.

"The only reason I smoke a pipe is so I'll have a gavel," said Strawbridge.

Since the city was incorporated last month, the mayor has raised his usually quiet voice to gain order or tapped pencils on the temporary city hall desk at Del Mar School.

One night he turned up with a miniature toy gavel with a chic yellow head, which he said he'd found in his front yard.

Amid rumors that the City of Belvedere was going to present its sister city with a gavel, councilmen ignored the need in the interest of economy.

GOP Members Stall Vote On Appalachia Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Republicans, accusing the administration of "bulldozing" tactics, today delayed final committee approval for at least a day on President Lyndon B. Johnson's plan for economic revitalization of Appalachia.

Earlier, a public works subcommittee that has been holding hearings on the one-billion-dollar measure approved the legislation. But GOP members demanded that the bill be read word by word as the Public Works Committee began its consideration.

"We were shut off in subcommittee so we're insisting on a complete reading of the bill," Rep. William C. Cramer (R-Fla.) told reporters after the closed session. "It's the only way we can offer amendments."

Cramer said all amendments offered so far were "summarily" rejected by the Democratic majority.

"It's so obvious that orders have come down to force the bill out and bulldoze it through Congress regardless of what it contains," Cramer charged.

Republicans have complained that hearings have not been held on the revamped measure.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Night's Dream' Is Merry Indeed

By ELLEN DIETSCHY

'Twas a merry midsummer's night indeed for those who attended last night's first performance of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" of the Marin Shakespeare Festival.

A totally successful performance was presented at the Marin Art and Garden Center. The play can be expected to command much larger audiences than the near-200 persons who shared the romance and comedy of the dream.

Laurels must go to Derek Beard for his outstanding portrayal of Puck, the spritely servant of Oberon, King of the Fairies.

The young lovers, enchanted by Puck on orders of Oberon, left no doubt that "the course of true love never did run smooth."

Victims of Puck's error in following his master's orders were Nancy McGettigan as Helena, Roger Lane as Demetrius, Diane Houser as Hermia, and David Dukes as Lysander. Each gave a delightful performance.

David McCauley will not be remembered as Snug, an Athenian workman, as his role was listed by Shakespeare, but as the lion in his fellow-workers' comical presentation of a tragedy in the court of the Duke of Athens on the Duke's wedding night. McCauley's performance was exceptionally delightful.

Incidental music, composed by Richard Cumming, added the finish to the memorable performance. Costuming was royally done and the lighting was well rehearsed and executed.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream," "The Merry Wives of Windsor" and "Taming of the Shrew" will be performed in repertory Wednesday through Saturday nights through Sept. 5 at the Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Purse Is Stolen

Mrs. John E. Crain of 306 Ferndale Avenue, Mill Valley,& told police at 1:11 p.m. yesterday that her daughter Cathleen's purse was stolen while she was at Tamalpais High School. It contained a driver's license, a $20 check payable to Miss Crain, and a house key.

State Agents Firing Truce Announced

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The State Department of Water Resources today announced that it would permit the resignations "with prejudice" of two state land agents who were fired last month for alleged speculating in real estate near the site of Oroville Dam.

In return, the two men—Gerold N. De Roca, 30, and Robert C. Johnson, 31—agreed to end their legal battle before the state personnel board to get their jobs back.

Walter Taylor, attorney for the two, said the combined actions amounted to this: The Water Resources Department dropped its charges against the men, allowing them to resign, but said it did not want them working for it again.

Citizen's Arrest

Mrs. Hazel Hanna Doyharcabal, 41, of 114 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, placed her husband, Paul, 39, a cook, under citizen's arrest at 12:40 a.m. today on charges of assault and battery. She told police her husband struck her with his fist, causing a slight bruise and scratches on her left arm.

Battered and soaked, a Volkswagen is back on dry land today after a half-mile trip through a St. Paul, Minn., storm sewer and a plunge into the Mississippi River. The vehicle vanished during a July 11 downpour, after owner William A. Birdsall, 18, bailed out of it during flash flooding which swept it into a sewer opening. Coast Guard Ends Bay 'Naval Battle'

The Coast Guard intercepted a whaleboat in Richardson Bay yesterday to land four youths in the toils of the law for a one-sided naval battle.

Victim of the high seas aggression, according to her call to the sheriff's office, was Mrs. Janet L. Miller of 217 Cobblestone Drive, Marinwood. She told officers she and her son were sailing in a small dinghy on the bay at 2:30 p.m. when their boat's centerboard fouled a fishing line from a whaleboat.

Mrs. Miller said she and her son freed the line, but the four teen-agers on the whaleboat began swearing at them. One opened fire with a slingshot.

The sheriff's office called the Coast Guard for help. A Coast Guard cutter overhauled the whaleboat and escorted it to shore. Two Sausalito youths, one 19 and one 17, and two Fairfax boys, 16 and 17, were taken into custody by sheriff's officers and cited to Marin County Juvenile court.

It wasn't necessary to fire a shot across the bow of the whaleboat, the Coast Guard said —not even with a slingshot.

Dixie School District Budget Has Increase Of $365,590

The Dixie School District board last night approved a 1964-65 publication budget of $1,969,590, an increase of $365,590 over last year.

The budget is not expected to increase the overall tax rate of $3.03 per $100 assessed valuation, reported Asst. Supt. Joseph Goff.

The general tax rate is expected to drop one cent to $2.73 but the 29-cent bond rate may rise slightly, Goff said.

Approximately $200,000 of the increased expenditure is because the district anticipates an enrollment increase of more than 500 pupils. Two new schools are to be opened. Also the district will increase its foreign language program in the upper grades.

The board set a budget hearing Aug. 5 at 8 p.m. in the administration office at 35 Trellis Drive, San Rafael.

The board also authorized start of proceedings to acquire an 11-acre school site along Idylberry Road in Upper Lucas Valley from Eichler Homes. It ordered condemnation proceedings, but authorized Goff to delay filing for a week pending negotiations with the owner.

The Dixie School District board also:

1. Directed Goff to work out an agreement with the City of San Rafael for sharing the cost of turning fields at Vallecito School on Novato Albion Way, and to seek an agreement with Marinwood Community Services District to allow a pedestrian bridge to be constructed across Miller Creek from Quietwood Drive to the Miller Creek School.

2. Authorized installation of concrete walkways in an inner court at Vallecito School and at the entrance to Lucas Valley School, and of chain link fence along one side of the basketball courts at Don Timoteo School.

3. Granted maternity leave to Mrs. Lois Malone, first grade teacher at Don Timoteo School.

TV Antenna Agreements Conflicting

Two firms have conflicting agreements and permits for installation of a community antenna television system in the Santa Venetia area, it developed today.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. has signed an agreement with Tele-Vue Systems of Marin Inc. for stringing cables on its poles in the Santa Venetia area. The policy of the company permits only one cable to be strung.

Clear View Cable Systems Inc. of Fairfax has obtained an encroachment permit from the county board of supervisors for installation of a community antenna television system in Santa Venetia. It is the only permit issued for that area.

Other areas which are included in the permit for a cable system by Clear View are in the unincorporated areas of Kentfield, Alto, Mill Valley, Greenbrae and Fairfax.

Dick Webster, general manager for Clear View, said today, "you might well wonder if the telephone company has gone against the action taken by the board of supervisors."

Lindsey Spight, president of Tele-Vue, said, "We can go in and get another encroachment permit. However, they can not get a pole line agreement. It is issued by the telephone company on an exclusive basis."

Gordon C. Davenport, North Marin manager for the telephone company, has stated that the pole line contract was signed with Spight's company.

Questioned today on the company's policy if an encroachment permit were issued to one firm and a pole line contract signed with another firm, he said he wanted to check if "he was absolutely right" that the contract had been signed with Tele-Vue.

Spight said today, "We have the only pole line agreement signed for the county," referring to the Santa Venetia area.

Rec Group Hits Council On Park Sign

The Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission last night joined the planning commission in criticizing the city council for allowing a sign pointing the way toward Park View Terrace to be erected in the town park.

The recreation commission directed that a letter be sent to the council stating its "displeasure" at the action. Commissioners pointed out the permit would open the way for many similar requests.

The commission requested that residents of Mariner Cove prepare a plan for planting trees which the improvement association had requested from surplus stock in the town's nursery. The association had asked one be planted in front of each of the 400 homes in Mariner Cove.

San Anselmo School Bonds: New Try Seen

The thrice-defeated construction program in San Anselmo School District will undoubtedly come before the voters again early next year, Supt. Stephen L. Parodi said today.

"We're first going to take some time to discuss the reasons for the failure of Tuesday's election to get approval from two-thirds of the voters on the 1.2 million dollar construction program," he said today.

"If school had been in session, I think we would have had enough 'yes' votes to get the $700,000 in bonds and $500,000 state loan approved, but we had to try during the summer so that if the measures were approved, there would be no need for double sessions next September.

"Four class groups will be sharing two rooms on a double session basis this fall at Brookside School and the multi-use room there has been turned into a library to make room for more students."

"Graduating Yolansdale fourth graders should attend Isabel Cook School but there will be no room for them there. We used to try to squeeze them into rooms at Brookside School, but some classes there will be on double sessions so we don't know what to do."

Congress Honor Due Hoover's Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate adopted unanimously today a resolution calling for official recognition of former President Herbert Hoover's 90th birthday Aug. 10.

The resolution was introduced by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) for himself and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield (Mont.). It now goes to the House.

Marin Fire Chiefs Drop Communications Plan

Marin County fire chiefs discussed costs of enlarging the county communications center at a meeting of their association yesterday at the Alto Fire Department, but decided the price is "too great."

Cost for centers comparable to that suggested, said Carl O. Heynen, Jr., Alto chief, is about $600,000.

Purpose of a larger control center would be to create better communications. With more and more radio frequencies being issued, said Heynen, transmissions overlap each other. Most of the Marin fire departments are radio-equipped and tie in with the Marin communications center, different departments, such as sheriff's office, being on different frequencies.

Mansfield Lewis, county communications officer, explained radio communication problems in the fire service to the 18 men present.

Classes in peacetime radiation hazards in fire departments will be held starting Aug. 31 at the San Rafael Fire House and starting Sept. 1 at Kentfield fire house. The courses are 15 hours long. Other classes in fire training will be held at Larkspur, Tiburon and San Anselmo this fall.

The next association meeting will be Aug. 26 in Belvedere, when the chiefs plan to discuss the increase in fires which have been wilfully or carelessly set, said Heynen.

Bike Victim Unconscious 13 Days After Car Mishap

Twelve-year-old Robert Miller of Greenbrae remained unconscious today in Marin General Hospital — as he has been ever since his bicycle was hit by an auto on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard 13 days ago.

Condition of the boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller of 30 Corte Loyola, was still described as "poor" by hospital attendants. He suffered fractures of the pelvis and left leg, severe head injuries, and many cuts and bruises.

The Greenbrae Property Owners Assn., seeking funds to defray the boy's hospital expenses, so far has collected over $40, said Peter Gottheimer, association president.

Pickets Close 2 Coffee Factories

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A machinists' union strike has closed two coffee processing plants here.

Hills Brothers and Standard Brands, where Chase and Sanborn is processed, were shut down yesterday when members of other unions refused to cross the machinists' picket lines. The union, seeking higher wages and fringe benefits, first struck the plants Tuesday.

About 175 workers have been idled at Hills Brothers and 103 at Standard Brands.

Mill Valley Firemen Help Ailing Boy, 2

Mill Valley firemen gave inhalation with a resuscitator to 2-year-old Mark Green yesterday afternoon after he was taken to the office of Dr. T. G. Brown at 61 Camino Alto, reported to have convulsions.

The child, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Green Jr. of 88 Montford Avenue, was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital. Cause of his ailment had not been determined.

Rights Case Men Arrested

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents arrested three Mississippi white men today and charged them with violating the civil rights act by conspiring to keep a Negro from going to a movie.

Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the arrests are the first to be made in the wake of the civil rights act which became law earlier this month.

The three men, all residents of Greenwood, Miss., are Willie Amon Belk, 47; his son, Jimmy Allen Belk, 19, and Sam Allen Shaffer Jr., 40. All are employed in Belk's plumbing firm.

Air Force Comes To Rescue Of Charnow

The United States Air Force will help Marin's Mr. Senior Citizen, Manny Charnow of San Rafael, celebrate his 80th birthday on Aug. 21.

Lt. Col. N. H. Traverso, director of information at Hamilton Air Force Base, wrote Charnow yesterday saying that he and his guests, up to 350 of them, are welcome to tour the base and have lunch at the Non-Commissioned Officers Club at a nominal fee.

The invitation solves a problem that has been plaguing Charnow and the Marin Senior Citizens for some time. Charnow was hoping for a repeat of the successful birthday party at the Marin Rod and Gun Club at Point San Quentin, but club officers several weeys ago turned the request down.

The Air Force will furnish three buses for transportation of the seniors. The luncheon menu will include shrimp creole and rice, fried chicken, whipped potatos, peas, tossed salad, and buttered rolls.

Barbecue Set By Hub Legion

The barbecue, open to the public, will start at 5 p.m. "Reservations are not necessary," said Helen H. Parent, publicity chairman. "Come as you are and bring your own choice meat."

Chefs Chester Smith and Ralph Lewis will prepare the guests' meat, and the Legion post will furnish salad, rolls, butter, coffee, and beer.

De Gaulle Favors 4-Power Meeting On Vietnam War

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle proposed today a four-power parley for the settlement of the Vietnamese conflict and the future status of the whole Indochinese Peninsula.

Speaking to his semi-annual news conference in Elysee Palace, the President said the big nations with a direct responsibility for the fate of Vietnam should meet to settle the nation's difficulties.

He said these nations were the United States, Red China, the Soviet Union and France.

De Gaulle said they should agree on peace conditions for Vietnam, then join in a massive reconstruction program for the states of former Indo-China.

Speaking about Indochina, President de Gaulle declared that "things have changed" and the United States no longer directly or indirectly runs the affairs of the Western world and that the grip of the Soviet Union on the Communist world is weakening.

Concerning Indochina, which France lost a decade ago, the president said a military solution in Vietnam is impossible, and that the big powers should guarantee peace in the area.

This implied a joint guarantee of neutrality for the two Vietnams Cambodia and Laos. It simply reiterated a policy De Gaulle first enunciated last August.

The president said that France only wants peace in the area, "and the sooner the better."

The president said the United States obviously could carry the war to North Vietnam if it wished, but it would be difficult for Washington to assume responsibility for the danger of an enormous generalized conflict.

De Gaulle asserted that the South Vietnamese population seems less and less willing to support a cause which seems to them that of a foreign power, regardless of the people's opinion of communism.

De Gaulle noted that former President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Vietnam had placed himself "in Washington's orbit," only to see his policies become more unpopular. Finally, the United States began to mistrust Diem, De Gaulle said, and added that Diem had been overthrown and slain, and that still another coup d'etat erupted in Saigon later.

The president also declared that the post-war era of U.S. dominance in the West has ended.

At a news conference Jan. 31, de Gaulle called for neutralization of Southeast Asia, including Vietnam, and declared that diplomatic relations with Red China were necessary to bring it about.

He spoke just after France had extended diplomatic recognition to Communist China. He did not then suggest a four-power meeting such as he proposed today.

Federal Bureau Vetoes Rat Island Sale Plans

The Bureau of Land Management of the Department of Interior has notified Marin County that it plans to deny the companies' petition that the island be made available for public sale.

Draper Companies has a month to protest the proposed decision to classify the island as a recreational area for public use.

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday said it would reaffirm its stand that the island, comprising .08 of an acre, should be county-owned rather than privately owned.

Kenneth Mak, Bureau of Land Management representative, said the bureau's tentative decision was based on the suitability of the island for recreation.

County supervisors and the Draper Companies agreed in March that Draper would buy the land, but only for limited use. Under the agreement, the land would automatically revert to the county if Draper tried to develop it.

"An intention to make no use of the land by the applicant is an indication there is no compelling reason to disperse of the land through public sale," Mak commented. "The only significant change likely would be the exclusion of the public."

Pathet Lao Retake Neutralists' Hill

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Communist forces reoccupied Phou Koutt Hill last night, routing neutralist troops from the strategic point 20 miles west of the Plaine des Jarres.

A neutralist spokesman said the Pathet Lao retook three peaks of the 4,200-foot hill, but neutralist forces which captured it Tuesday still held positions at the foot.

Tiburon Debates Hiring Of Planner

By ELLEN BRY

Eight spectators last night watched nine Tiburon city officials informally agree to hire a consulting firm soon for aid in city planning.

A firm commitment on what the planning commission recommends for planning advisers is scheduled in its report to the council on Aug. 10.

Stephen H. Nash, planning commission chairman, informally proposed that the commission aim for a September deadline in hiring consultants to advise the commission, research items which come before it, and possibly begin work on updating the master plan.

The firm will be paid from the up to $30,000 which the council agreed to borrow from the Tiburon National Bank at 3¼ per cent interest, paid only on the amount actually drawn.

The decision came at a brief council session before the joint council-commission meeting. After hearing that Crocker-Citizens National Bank yesterday had dropped its previous 3½ per cent offer to 3 per cent, councilmen and City Treasurer Gordon W. Russell, who have negotiated for weeks with banks, agreed to take the firm Tiburon National offer.

City officials indicated that at least five planning consultant firms were interested in serving the city. Interim City Mgr. Warren Schmid was directed to begin screening of applicants.

The commission is expected in its Aug. 10 report to recommend how much the city should spend on planning. The city now has a contract with Marin County to provide planning research and advice for approximately $16,320 yearly. The contract expires Aug. 15, when the council must decide whether to continue all county planning services, only a portion of them, or set a future cut-off date.

"Let's shop around for the best possible help we can afford," said Planning Commissioner Erik Rettig.

"If it means up to $20,000 a year and another nickel on the tax rate, all right," said Councilman Fred C. Hannahs, indicating he might favor holding down other city budget categories to spend more on planning.

"This is a unique community, it may cost a little more to keep it unique," said Planning Commissioner Mrs. William B. Newman.

Councilmen and commissioners generally agreed that the city soon should have its own planning consultant or department but differed on their interpretations of "soon."

There is "intangible good" in continuing with the county for some time "because they have more in their memory boxes" about Tiburon problems, said Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood.

But commission chairman Nash noted that there had been hints from the county that there would be barely enough time available for work on Tiburon planning because of staff shortages.

"The main reason for incorporating was planning," said Councilman Leo Souza, urging that the city get its own consultant.

"The basic drive in incorporation was to get superior planning. You can see things going up now that shouldn't be built," agreed Hannahs.

The council-commission dilemma on how soon is soon was reflected in the audience. Fred Mantegani, Tiburon businessman, on hearing city officials say they would continue for a time with country planning advisers, objected: "The number one thing we sold them on was self-government" during incorporation proceedings. "Sitting here listening to this, it seems like you're kind of drifting away from it."

But Tiburon architect Nick D. Ferzacca urged the city to stay with county advisers who have background in Tiburon matters.

To gain public interest in planning, councilmen left to the commission whether it needs what councilman Ellinwood called a "short-term, intensive citizens committee . . . to identify the problems of planning."

The eight spectators left by 10 p.m. Officials talked about the problem until 10:50 p.m.

Officials agreed that a public hearing on Aug. 20 with L. H. McVicar, Fremont director of community recreation, as main speaker might spark community interest. Mrs. Newman reported that McVicar was the "catalyst" for much new thinking when he spoke to the county parks and recreation commission.

Some citizens arose, councilmen said, from Monday night's planning commission decision to allow a change of use from self-service laundry to snack bar for the small shop at Juanita Lane and Tiburon Boulevard.

The action came unannounced at what had been billed as a commission work-study session. Miss Ellinwood said she had received two telephone calls about the decision. Councilmen questioned the right procedure, whether they might review the decision, and whether parking would be adequate.

The questions were turned over to the city attorney and city administrator to discuss procedures and law.

All councilmen and planning commissioners were present except commissioner Peter Macgowan.

The planning commission will meet in special session at 8 p.m. Monday at Del Mar School to discuss a commission budget and draw up the general planning policy statement requested by the council.

The meeting was called this morning by commission chairman Nash.

Five Missing After British Guiana Clash

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (UPI)—East Indians and Negroes clashed again yesterday in a battle in a Demarara River settlement, and five men were reported missing.

Fourteen homes were burned and a truck was damaged by a land mine, injuring several persons.

Water District Approves Fish Trap At Nicasio Dam

Marin Municipal Water District board members yesterday approved specifications for a fish trap on Halleck Creek in Nicasio.

Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger said construction of the fish trap was part of an agreement with state fish and game officials for the Nicasio Dam project. Newborn fish caught in the trap will be hauled downstream, Seeger said. Bids are to be opened Aug. 12.

The Marin Municipal Water District Board also:

1. Approved specifications for painting the Marin Professional Center water tank and for the annual supply of water meters, with bids to be opened on Aug. 12.

2. Approved purchase of control equipment for waste water recovery tank at San Geronimo from the Square D Co. of San Francisco for $554.

3. Approved purchase of map racks for $272.48 and installation of security fencing around the Marin City tank for $916.

4. Approved a fire line extension agreement with the City of Fairfax for 500 feet of 8-inch pipe on Bothin Road.

Tiburon Earth Slide Attacked From 2 Sides

The earth slide on Mar West Street in Tiburon is being attacked from two sides.

As county-financed contractors work to build a new cut-off around the slide to Tiburon Boulevard, the land owner this week began soil tests preliminary to correcting the slide itself.

County officials hope the new road will be completed in about a month, but the completion date depends on possible other committments of Piombo Brothers, San Rafael contractors.

Meanwhile, representatives of Harding Associates, soil mechanics engineers in San Rafael, began to make test bores to repair and find the best way to stop the tons of earth from further sliding onto Mar West.

The land is owned by Redhill Land Co., San Francisco, which acquired it in March from RCR Inc., Terrell W. Hill, president of the Redhill company reported.

Hill said he hopes to repair the slide and compact the earth so that the area will be "stronger than any other part of Red Hill." He said he regards the land as prime spot for apartment construction.

Summer Band At College Slates Concert For Sunday

Sixty musicians, comprising the largest College of Marin Summer Band, will present a concert at 4 p.m. Sunday in the quadrangle outside Harlan Hall on the Kentfield campus.

Band Director John H. Myers claims the band is not only the largest but probably the best yet assembled at the college.

It will be the first time the band has presented its annual concert outdoors, Myers said.

The program will include several well-known marches, including the works of John Philip Sousa, K. L. King and O. R. Farrar. For light classics there will be Franck Ericson's Irish folk song suite, "Two Moods Overture" by Claire Grundman, and aria and fuge by Handel. "Beguine for Band" and "Amparita Roca" will provide a Latin touch.

Three trumpets will be featured in John Morrissey's "Bravure for Trumpets."

There is no admission charge.

Negro GOP Leader Won't Support Barry

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Negro attorney James L. Flourney, vice president of the California Republican Assembly, says that as of now he cannot support Sen. Barry Goldwater as the Republican presidential nominee even though the assembly endorsed him.

But Flourney also said yesterday he will not join the Republicans for Johnson Committee, and neither would he resign his CRA post.

Dinner-Dance

St. James Branch 161 of the Italian-Catholic Federation will hold a dinner-dance Saturday from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. at St. Patrick's Hall in Larkspur. Reservations must be made by tonight, according to Mrs. Florence Falvey of Larkspur.

Two More Balloons Are Found

Two more helium-filled balloons launched June 25 during the San Rafael Park and Recreation Department's "Operation Blastoff" have been returned to earth, but not without a struggle against gravity that carried them far into Northern California.

The department reported yesterday that it has received postcards from Sutter in Sutter County and from Suisun in Yolo County confirming the landings.

The balloon which landed at Sutter was sent up by Jerry Miller, 12, of 2337 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, who participated at Sun Valley Playground. His was the second farthest launch yet reported.

Andy Laufer, 9, of 25 Roosevelt Avenue, San Rafael, set off the one which came down in Suisun, also from Sun Valley Playground.

Ten balloons have been reported so far.

NO AIR CLEARED ON SMOG DEVICES

Panelists Argue Pros And Cons But No One Changes Mind About Usefulness

Four men argued for an hour today over radio station KTIM on the pros and cons of automobile smog control devices, but all went away convinced as ever that they are correct and the opposing view is wrong.

Speakers on the "Marin Sounding Board" program were Donald A. Jensen, executive officer of the State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board; D. J. Callaghan, Bay Area air pollution control officer; and Marin residents Lester Jennings Jr. and Lars Williamson, coordinators of Citizens for Sensible Smog Suppression. Today's discussion will be re-broadcast over KTIM Sunday noon.

Jensen contended that the automobile crankcase devices, required by the state, if properly installed and maintained, help engine performance in addition to helping eliminate smog from cars.

He said Detroit manufacturers have simulated the life of cars (36,000 to 50,000 miles) and then have torn down "every bolt and nut" for minute inspection and found no harm from the devices. Jensen said he has seen the results of these tests and would rather believe them than the words of "engineers" quoted by Williamson and Jennings.

Jennings said the actual proving grounds are on California highways. He and Williamson insisted that new cars with factory-installed devices have been known to require a complete overhaul after about 25,000 miles.

Williamson argued the Detroit tests that simulate the life of a car at 36,000 to 50,000 miles are not valid because Marin commuters can run up that mileage in one and one-half to two years.

All speakers agreed that auto smog should be abated, but they remained split on how it should be done.

Jensen and Callaghan insisted that the devices are not harmful to the engine, whereas the other two contended that the devices gum up the engine.

Jensen said about one-third of auto smog comes from the crankcase and two-thirds from the exhaust pipe. He said that all cars sold in California since 1961 come with the crankcase device factory equipped. The exhaust pipe devices will come factory equipped, probably about 1967, he predicted.

Complaints are running only about one-half of 1 per cent of the four million devices installed in California, said Jensen. One problem is that mechanics and installers like to tinker with the devices without following the manual of installation, he contended.

Jennings and Williamson charged that the cost of installation and maintenance is unwarranted, and the solution should be a change in basic design of the engine at Detroit.

The panelists agreed that cost of servicing crankcase devices runs between $2 and $5. But they disagreed on the frequency of servicing.

Smog officials said the devices need servicing about 6,000 to 12,000 miles. Jennings said car owners find they must service every 2,000 to 4,000 miles, and some as often as every 1,000 miles.

Ross Traffic Bottleneck Due To Vanish

A bottleneck on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Ross which has fouled up traffic for several days was scheduled to be eased today with completion of resurfacing of the town's portion of the thoroughfare by I. J. Ely Co. of Larkspur.

The resurfacing, which has forced Greyhound buses to make a perilous navigation down Shady Lane while the boulevard is restricted to one-way traffic, is costing the town of Ross $6,677.30.

Partial resurfacing of Laurel Grove Avenue between Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Walters Avenue will begin next Monday or Tuesday after completion of the Sir Francis Drake Boulevard project. The $2,100 project will include taking off and replacing the present lumpy street surface with asphalt by Brown-Ely Contractors of San Rafael.

Girl's Right Arm Caught In Seat

Fellow theater goers and theater personnel tried to free Lisa Regalia's arm, caught in the side of the seat up to her elbow, for about 10 minutes, but to no avail. The fire department was called at 2:20 p.m.

Capt. Henry Pierroz said he picked Lisa up, pushed the seat up and made her straighten out her arm and "out came the arm."

"Lisa was uninjured," said the fireman, "and she was happy."

BID FOR ENERGY MARKET

Coal Scientists Stepping Up Research On Gas Converting

By WIL LEPKOWSKI
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Coal scientists are stepping up research on converting coal to gasoline in a serious bid to wrest part of the energy market from the oil industry.

Late next spring, a 10-million-dollar pilot plant in Cresap, W. Va., is scheduled to begin probing the economic feasibility of turning chunks of soft coal into high-octane gasoline.

Consolidation Coal Co. of Pittsburgh will run the plant under a contract from the Office of Coal Research, a three-year-old agency of the Interior Department. Consolidation has spent about 10 million dollars itself in developing the conversion process.

If the experiment proves successful, the company foresees a full-scale plant converting 10,000 tons of coal a day into 35,000 barrels of 100-octane gasoline. An engineering consultant estimates a per-gallon cost of about 13 cents under this process, a return of 6.7 per cent on a 125-million-dollar investment.

About 3,000 tons of solid black residue known as char also would be produced daily and shunted off to an adjacent power plant as a fuel. This volatile substance is roughly equivalent to the controversial residual fuel oil Venezuela sells to New England power plants at prices persistently below coal.

The oil industry could flex its competitive muscles to meet a coal challenge. It could work on lowering the price of conventionally refined gasoline; it could put more money into converting its vast western oil shale reserves into gasoline; or it could enter the coal-to-oil arena itself.

The last possibility isn't so remote. Oilmen are reported buying coal for research purposes. And carefully watching the possible surge of coal into their markets.

The 13-cent-a-gallon production forecast for the coal-to-gasoline process would be fully competitive with what it costs refineries to produce gasoline. And moreover the figure could even drop.

"If the 10,000-ton-per-day plant ever becomes a reality," says Edward Larson, chief of contracts and administration for the Office of Coal Research, "the by-products could really make the process go.

"For example, the char could also be used as a source of hydrogen, the key element in the conversion process. Instead of piping increasingly expensive natural gas into the system for our hydrogen, we could get it from the char and lower production costs by about two cents."

Equally significant could be the recovery of raw minerals that reside in coal or lie next to seams. These include aluminum, germanium, the rare earth elements, and various types of ceramic-grade clay. One little-known plant in North Dakota is burning off tons of lignite each day just to recover the uranium that speckles this low-grade fuel.

Development of catalysts to raise both the speed and efficiency of the hydrogenation process could really determine the eventual success of Consolidation's effort. A new technique about to be patented by the government could be the main reason for its willingness to take the 10-million-dollar gamble with Consolidation.

A final justification for going ahead with the work is the prospect of Congress raising coal's depletion allowance once it gets into the oil business. The average tax break for oil is currently 27.5 per cent. Coal gets only 10 per cent.

The fossil fuel outlook today is admittedly fuzzy, due mainly to conflicting predictions of atomic energy's position in future markets. Some say nuclear power will generate most of America's electricity in less than a century. Coal producers contend that only massive atomic power plants will ever compete with coal. Small, specialized power demands, which collectively are immense, will buttress an increasingly larger coal market, they say.

The petroleum picture is also cloudy. Nobody agrees on how much of it still lies under the ground. Coalmen contend petroleum could run out in 30 to 40 years. They give natural gas even less time. Oilmen, however, carry predictions well into the next century.

The result is controversy among coalmen whether to emphasize research into combustion, which from the tonnage aspect makes immediate sense, or push basic research into new uses. The venture into gasoline could be a turning point.

Jury Clears Sonoma Youth In Novato Girl Attack Case

A Marin Superior Court jury cleared an 18-year-old Sonoma youth of a statutory rape charge yesterday after a two-day trial before Judge Leonard A. Thomas.

Ronald Gene Arrasmith, who lives in Boyes Springs, was found innocent by the jury, which deliberated for about an hour. Jerome Durham, assistant public defender, represented the youth.

Post Office Fund Grows In Novato

A $1,000 contribution toward preserving Novato's first post-office has been given to Alfred W. Bowman, who is raising funds to preserve the historic building.

Mrs. Albert J. Cain of 916 Sherman Avenue, Novato, made the contribution in the memory of her late husband. For many years he owned the Novato Utilities Co., which was the telephone company, water company, and gas company, Bowman said.

This brings contributions to date to $3,100 of the $5,000 needed to purchase the house, which is the home of Robert L. Gaut at 1416 South Novato Boulevard, Novato, Bowman said. It served as Novato's first postoffice in 1856.

Crash Victim In Fair Condition

Opie L. Harmon Jr., of 220 Canal Street, Apt. 17, San Rafael, was in fair condition today at Mercy Hospital in Sacramento, where he was taken Tuesday after a two-car crash in Yolo County that claimed the lives of his wife, Dorothey Teresa Harmon, and a Seattle couple.

Harmon, a pile driver mechanic, was listed in poor condition yesterday, but the hospital reported that he had a fair night and was improved today.

Novato Father Stabbed During Family Battle

A Novato father was stabbed three times last night after his blind 78-year-old father-in-law reportedly intervened to stop him from beating his 12-year-old daughter.

The father, Russell Roundtree, 46, of 1609 Novato Boulevard, was reported in good condition today at Novato General Hospital with two knife wounds in the abdomen and a five-inch cut below the right knee.

Police did not hold his father-in-law, blind Joseph G. Dutra, who lives with the Roundtrees, pending further investigation. Dutra denied the stabbing, but both Roundtree and his wife claimed he inflicted the wounds with a pocket knife.

Police were called to the home at 10 p.m. yesterday by the 12-year-old daughter, Toni. She reported her father had been assaulted with a knife.

Roundtree and his wife obviously had been drinking, Merkley reported. Neither was able to give a coherent account of what happened; nor was Dutra. From Toni and her 10-year-old sister, Colinda, however, the officer got this story:

Roundtree, enraged at Toni, began beating her. The girl's grandfather intervened to protect her. Roundtree knocked him to the floor.

In the scuffle, a glass was knocked to the floor and broken. Roundtree dragged Dutra through the broken glass, cutting his arm. Dutra then drew his pocket knife and slashed at his assailant.

Police Chief Robert diGrazia reported the county welfare department had sent an investigator to the home only yesterday and was considering placing the two children in a foster home. Police have had many calls to the address because of domestic brawls, the chief said.

Hunt Continues For Lost Boy, 10

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK (AP)—More than 100 men resumed the search today for 10-year-old John Ireland Jr. of Los Angeles, but a park spokesman said, "Each passing day makes it less likely we'll find him alive."

Stanford Gets $1-Million Gift

STANFORD (AP)—A gift of one million dollars has been received by Stanford University from the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation of New York, the university said today.

The money will help finance construction of the new Stanford graduate school of business, which will cost more than 5.2 million dollars.

Construction, now under way, will take about two years.

Mrs. Amos Alonzo Stagg, Wife Of Famed Coach Dies

The spritely woman who helped scout opposing teams during her husband's long coaching career succumbed to acute kidney failure following surgery.

Mrs. Stagg, the former Stella Robertson, was graduated in the first class at the University of Chicago in 1896, two years after marrying Stagg who was the school's first football coach.

They spent their honeymoon in 1894 chaperoned by the Chicago football squad en route to the West Coast for two games with Stanford.

The Staggs had three children, a daughter Ruth and two sons, Amos Alonzo Jr., and Paul. Since leaving Chicago in 1933 after Stagg reached the mandatory retirement age of 70, the couple lived in a modest cottage in Stockton.

The past few years, Stagg, who will be 102 on Aug. 16, has been confined to a convalescent home.

Mrs. Stagg was said to have been the greatest living woman expert on football during her husband's career. For years she charted games, took notes on practice sessions and went on scouting trips.

Mrs. Stagg underwent surgery July 17 for an abdominal ailment. Kidney failure occurred Wednesday.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p.m. Saturday at the B. C. Wallace and Son Funeral Chapel in Stockton with burial in Parkview Cemetery.

About 10,000 people die each year in India from snake bites.

There were 26 per cent more women than men past 65 in 1963 and this margin may increase to 43 per cent by 1985, says the Census Bureau.

The median age of skiers is 24.7 years, according to the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce's Travel Development Bureau.

DOPE ADDICTION

'Not So Deadly As Alcoholism'

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—A scientifically dispassionate way of looking at narcotic addicts is to keep in mind that "most of us have addictions — to alcohol, food, smoking, snuff, even to religion and hard work."

This recognition of the humanity of addiction belongs to Dr. Herbert Berger, who has achieved prominence, particularly in New York City, in years of urging medical science to accept addiction as one of its problems.

Furthermore, he said, it is helpful to the narcotic addict to know "his particular addiction is not as life threatening as severe obesity or alcoholism and may be less dangerous than smoking.

"This makes him feel less 'different'. It restores some pride in himself. He has little enough of this attribute, for even fellow criminals castigate the addict."

Few physicians will accept the drug addict as a private patient—for treatment of his addiction. They're afraid of getting into trouble with federal authorities who enforce the stringent federal narcotics law.

But Berger has been accepting them for years, on the grounds that they are sick people and a physician cannot properly deny his services to the sick. In his medical opinion, narcotic addiction as a "disease—a chronic, relapsing disease."

By and large addicts are exasperating patients. They "relapse" after weeks and even months of difficult medical treatment. They steal from their doctors, "to support their habits." They are troublesome at every turn because they tolerate no frustration "and are frequently physically dirty."

But "the very difficulties they present are, in themselves, a challenge," he continued in presenting the medical case of the addict in a technical organ of the American Medical Assn.

In 15 years Berger has had little success with addicts who were under 30. They lacked the maturity to recognize their lack of health. The first requirement of successful treatment of addiction is for the patient to be soundly motivated to work for his own good, he said.

Of 21 addicts over 30 he treated as private patients—that is, without recourse to police, prison or any type of legal coercion —18 have now been free of the "habit" for two years or longer. But he warned that his treatment methods "are not applicable or meaningful if applied to the entire narcotic problem" because most addicts are not motivated toward getting themselves cured.

As of now, physicians know too little about addictive diseases. They're not taught in medical schools and addicts are rarely admitted either to psychiatric institutions or general hospitals. If more of them were accepted as private patients and admitted to hospitals, medical science would acquire the knowledge from which to devise more effective techinques.

And "as such techniques are discovered, they might well be applied to our other, larger addictive problems of obesity, smoking and alcoholism," he added. But first, physicians should be given the unquestionable right to employ narcotics in the treatment of addiction.

"Certainly the physician whose license permits him to treat all diseases to which man is heir should not be interfered with when he prescribes narcotics to any patient, regardless of diagnosis."

In early days, silver coins of all denominations were made from household silver and foreign coins. There were no silver mines.

Corte Madera Teen-Agers Admit Thefts, Cite Idleness

Corte Madera police late yesterday smashed a juvenile burglary ring which they claimed was responsible for 11 burglaries in the town during the past two months.

Two of the three youths, one 14 years old and the other 16, were responsible for stealing about $450 and two watches. One watch, valued at $150, was thrown into a slough near Redwood High School, police said. The other watch was recovered.

The third youth, 14 years old, was cited by police for receiving stolen property. The other two were cited for burglary and conspiracy to commit burglary. In addition, the 16-year-old youth was cited for receiving stolen property.

All three, according to Police Inspector Harold N. Hockett, come from "good upper middle class families." Hockett said the parents had cooperated to the extent that he thinks the youths will make restitution of the money and watch.

They spent the stolen money on pinball machines and food. One of the youths bought a bowling ball bag and bowling shoes.

The homes entered by the 14-year-old were: three times at the home of Jean Scarrone, 34 Ash Avenue, for $310 loot; Mrs. Alice G. Gayter, 65 Lakeside Drive, $10; Robert Cunningham, 41 Ash, and an unknown home on Birch Avenue, attempted entries.

The 16-year-old entered the homes of Ron L. Stuart, 35 Mohawk Drive, to get a $150 watch; Anthony T. Fadale, 29 Spindrift Drive, $86; Leo Jarvis, 26 El Camino Drive, $20; John R. Polach, 53 Hickory Avenue, $18; George R. Hubbard, 38 El Camino Drive, a watch.

The youths got change for two $100 bills stolen from the Scarrone residence at the drive-in window of a San Rafael bank. From the 14-year-old youth, $90 of the Scarrone money was recovered.

The 16-year-old gave police $32.70 which he said was stolen from the Fadale residence. The second 14-year-old was given $20 to spend by the two other boys, Hockett said.

Auto Is Stolen

Robert Brain Spencer told Marin sheriff's deputies that his 1952 Plymouth sedan, light green, was stolen from its parking space at Kapps Yacht Harbor, near Sausalito, sometime between midnight and 6:30 a.m. yesterday.

Young Sailor Determined To Get Boat

A 9-year-old San Rafael boy was booked at Marin Juvenile Hall yesterday for the second time in three weeks for attempts to steal boats on the San Rafael Canal.

He refused, also for the second time, to give his name to San Rafael police, and was identified only because his mother had called police to report him missing.

The boy was apprehended at 6:10 p.m. by Patrolman Gary K. Walters after an irate apartment dweller at 177 Canal Street called to complain he was climbing her balcony.

Before that, he untied two dinghies at nearby docks in attempts to sail them away, other Canal Street residents said.

On June 29, the boy hopped into a speedboat at Western Boat Shop, 101 Third Street, started down the canal with dockside residents in hot pursuit. He was later cornered, but captured only after one resident dove in the water and swam under a dock to catch him.

When he refused to identify himself yesterday at the San Rafael police station, the boy was taken to juvenile hall, charged with petty theft and being a runaway.

Three weeks ago, after refusing to identify himself, he was booked at the hall as "John Doe," charged with attempted boat theft.

New Immigration Law 'No Threat To Jobs'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said today the administration's proposed new immigration policy would have little effect on U.S. employment.

The proposed changes would add only about 23,000 to a work force of 79 million in 1969, when the new program would be fully in effect, Wirtz told a House immigration subcommittee.

Advertising Agency Has Record Gains

NEW YORK — Metromedia, Inc., parent company of Foster and Kleiser and of Fielder, Sorenson and Davis of San Francisco, has reported record high gross revenues for the 26 weeks ended June 28 of $44,869,102, up 60 per cent over revenues of $27,978,446 for the 26 weeks ended June 30, 1963.

Net income for the first half amounted to $2,016,110, a record high, up from $1,838,228 for the comparable period a year earlier. On a per share basis earnings were $1.07 versus $1.03.

Aluminum Firm Reports Record Quarter Sales

OAKLAND—Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. net earnings for the quarter ended June 30 were $7,525,000, compared with $6,124,000 a year ago, T. J. Ready Jr., president, has announced.

Net sales for the quarter were $132,550,000 compared with $114,306,000 in 1963.

Per share earnings were 41 cents after preferred dividends, based on 15,573,597 common shares outstanding, compared with 32 cents in 1963 on 15,293,552 shares.

Higher sales and earnings are due principally to increased shipments by all of the corporation's major divisions. Aluminum shipments during the second quarter of this year were the highest on record.

Very Narrow Change In A Mixed Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed mixed today with extremely narrow changes in most cases.

Selected issues affected by special situations were about the only ones to show moves of as much as a point.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.7 million shares, compared with 4.57 million yesterday.

Market averages showed only tiny moves, sometimes slightly on the upside and then on the downside. Only in special situations were stock movements as large as a point.

Chrysler and Ford, basking in the light of record earnings, responded with fractional advances. Ford had been higher by as much as a point earlier. G.M., however, which hasn't reported first half results, was off ½.

Savings and loan holdings companies were generally weak.

United Air Lines was off about 1 while American and Eastern Airlines were down fractions.

Bond prices were mixed to a little higher in spots.

Fast Climb In Time Deposits Slowing Down

Might Mark Leveling Off Of Interests

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The fast climb in time deposits and savings accounts that has made this business upswing different from most others has slowed down. And so has the rise in interest rates paid for savings.

Bankers think that the high yields to be had now on various short-term investments here, and even higher returns abroad, may mark a leveling off or softening of interest to be paid savers.

MORTGAGE MARKETS

Also tending to have the same result is the easing in the mortgage markets. Investment fund supplies are exceeding demand for new mortgages in many regions. As mortgage charges have eased a bit, so has the rate which the lending institutions can pay for savings that form the pool from which the money for mortgages comes.

This may be one of the reasons some bankers have been urging the Federal Reserve Board to modify the easy money policies followed with little variation through most of the present business upswing. The American Bankers Association has suggested the board might think twice about keeping money easy if the business upturn approaches boom stage.

MOVE OPPOSED

The ABA, however, has opposed any moves to increase the 4 per cent limit the Federal Reserve places on interest on time deposits in commercial banks. Many small banks aren't paying that much, anyway, saying they can't afford to in their business. They'd hate to see savings siphoned off by much higher interest rates paid elsewhere.

Many mutual savings banks have offered more than 4 per cent. And some savings and loan associations, especially in the West, have been offering close to 5 per cent in dividends to get funds for the mortgage market there.

EXPANSION PERIOD

The rise in the total of time deposits in the commercial banks has been a phenomenon of this expansion period, the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis notes in its July Review.

Previously such forms of savings rose rapidly during recessions and then tapered off during the expansions that followed. In the 1953-54 recession, time deposits grew at an annual rate of 10 per cent, but dropped to a 6 per cent increase in the following upswing. In the 1957-5858 slump the growth rate of bank deposits was 15 per cent at an annual rate, with a drop to 5 per cent when times turned good again.

In the last recession, 1960-61, the annual growth rate of time deposits was 15 per cent. But when business turned upward in 1961, time deposits continued to grow at an annual rate of 14 per cent until mid-1963.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

It Looks Like Shopping Center At Strawberry Will Be A Reality

From time to time there has been talk of a shopping center being constructed on the remaining 10 acres owned by the late Samuel R. Neider at the foot of Reed Boulevard and near the east service road along the Redwood Highway in Strawberry.

It now appears to be nearing reality. This week, graders of the William Brothers Construction Co. of Mountain View set to work leveling off the ground. A building permit for construction has not yet been issued, but plans by architects Bakke-Cann-Page Associates of Palo Alto have been submitted for approval.

The project is being steered along by Town and Country Shopping Center, Palo Alto, and the proposed center here will generally resemble that Peninsula development.

NEIDER HAD originally planned that this parcel would be used in some such venture. At that time Safeway Stores was the interested party in occupying the market. The architecture, as I recall, was to feature a huge aluminum geodesic dome as the centerpiece attraction.

After Neider's death, all the rest of his Strawberry properties (around 260-270 acres) were purchased by the Milland Development Co. of San Francisco. Much of this has since been resold through the Crowley Co. Recently it was announced that a five-acre promontory parcel was to become a 71-unit apartment complex called Harbor Vista.

But the commercially zoned 10 acres were never sold by the Neider estate and became part of a trust, with the Pacific National Bank in San Francisco as co-trustee.

Detailed plans are expected to be released after the building permit is issued.

WHILE NEW RECORDS are continually being set in Marin real estate sales, Daniel F. Deedy, executive manager of the Marin County Real Estate Board, notes in the last issue of the Realtors' Rooster that we are losing a lot of good transactions, both in residential and commercial properties, because of a growing trend by property owners in setting unreasonable asking prices when making the listing.

It's natural for any land owner to ride the crest of a boom and try to get all the traffic will bear, but Deedy reflects that many worthwhile developers are bypassing Marin for Sonoma, Napa and Contra Costa counties where land "as good or better" is being offered at 15 to 50 per cent of prices asked here.

MOTORCRAFT. Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet will be open for business at new showrooms at 5880 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, Monday morning for sales and service . . . Best sellers this model year are said to be the "intermediates." With some exceptions compacts are down a little from last year . . . Though small, Sweden's Volvo plant is heralded as a successful and highly automated factory, operating well inside the black. Sales have consistently increased 15 per cent each year since 1961 and should do all of that or better in 1964. (Annex Motors handles sales in Marin) . . . Volkswagen is now showing large gains in convertibles and Karmann-Ghia sportsters . . . Lou Concilio of Ames Ford Sales has trouble keeping up with Mustang orders. He's managed to swing over some prospects to Galaxies for the same amount of money.

CORRECTION. Currie Heating and Plumbing Co. does have its new shop where L. C. Smith Building Supplies used to be—but not at 427 Irwin Street, San Rafael. Correct address is 55 De Luca Place, where the piywood stocks were kept. And Russell Thompson says his middle initial is not "O" but "C" for Chadwick. You can blame Polk's directory for that mistake—and me for copying it.

Railroad Reports Gain In Earnings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Western Pacific railroad has reported $2,016,000 in second quarter net income, amounting to $1.01 a share.

The earnings gain of $212,000 over the 1963 second quarter net of $1,804,000 was achieved despite a drop in operating revenues from 14.65 million dollars to 14.54 million dollars. The 1963 earnings amounted to 90 cents a share.

Ernie Banks Again Proclaims Cubs' Chances Of Winning N.L. Pennant

Jack Hanley

Ernie Banks' one burning desire is to play in a World Series in Wrigley Field. Every Cub fan knows that. As the four-game Giant-Cub series entered the finale, Banks once again declared his faith in the Cub 1964 pennant chances.

"Of course we can do it," said the perennial Cub optimist. "We got to win the final game of the series today. I think we're going to make a lot of noise through the rest of the season."

BANKS' bat didn't make any noise whatsoever in the series until the third game when he broke out of a mild 0-for-9 slump with a couple of singles.

"We're all hitting now and the pitching rotation is squared away," Banks said. "Look at what Andy Rodgers is doing. Andy's batting streak is at 11 games, just three behind Ron Santo's club high of 14 games."

"Is Banks' overall hitting better now?"

"VERY MUCH so," said Kennedy. "What he said about the others hitting, too, is true. And he also is right about our pitching. It is squared away, thanks to a recent string of complete games."

Did Kennedy himself share Banks' unshakable feeling that this could be the year of the Cubs?

"The way the league is going now," said Kennedy, "there might be as many as seven clubs in a very tight race come September with the seventh club only six out. The race could be decided in the last week of the season."

BUT PITCHING is the name of the game. Don't Dick Ellsworth and Ernie Broglio have aching arms?

"That's right, pitching is the name of the game," said Kennedy. "But the little stiffness in Ellsworth's arm is no reason for alarm. I just thought it would be a good idea to give him an extra day's rest and substituted Lou Burdette for him today.

"As for Broglio, I've said several times that Ernie is going to be all right despite a bothersome elbow."

ELLSWORTH and Broglio, with Larry Jackson and Bob Buhl, must carry the four starting roles for the Cubs if Banks' pennant dreams are to come true. Burdette now is cast in the No. 5 role as an occasional starter and bullpen aide to Lindy McDaniel, Don Elston and Bobby Shantz.

It's not impossible for the Cubs to finish in the first division this year. But even if the entire pitching staff suddenly performs miracles, it is difficult to share Banks' pennant feelings. There just are too many teams the Cubs must climb over. But you have to admire his faith in the Cubs.

Hayes Pulled From U.S.-Russia Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob Hayes, holder of the world's record for the 100-yard dash, was scratched today from the USA-USSR dual track meet this weekend because of a recurring cramp in his left leg.

"We feel there is a real good chance of further injury to his leg if he competes," said Sam Bell, head coach of the American team, "and we don't believe that we should take that chance."

Hayes was dropped from the 100-meter dash and the 400-meter relay at the Los Angeles Coliseum meet.

Bell said John Moon of the U. S. Army will replace Hayes in the relay, but no substitute for the dash will be announced until Friday afternoon.

Moon has been timed at 10.5 for 100 meters this season.

Polevaulter Fred Hansen, a postgraduate student at Rice, cleared 17 feet in practice at Memorial Coliseum yesterday. Hansen, who has done 17-2 in competition this year, started at 15 feet and took seven vaults in working up the 17 foot level.

Then he quit for the day. It was the best he'd ever accomplished in a practice session.

Both teams were booked for a tour of the Disneyland amusement park today. The athletes were guests at a civic luncheon yesterday attended by 700 persons.

Mayor Samuel W. Yorty drew laughs when he addressed the visiting Soviets in not-too-perfect Russian.

McKinley Leads Way In Tourney

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP)—Chuck McKinley, the No. 1 U.S. tennis player, led a wholesale advance of Americans in the men's singles competition at the Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis Championships yesterday, sweeping aside all foreign competition, as the field was narrowed down to eight.

Defending champion McKinley, of San Antonio, Tex., in advancing to the quarter-final round, was extended to 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 in a tough 65-minute match with Ray Moore, South African junior champion.

Impressive in his victory was Dennis Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., McKinley's Davis Cup teammate, who disposed of William Lenoir of Tucson, Ariz., 6-1, 9-7.

Pasarell ousted Patricio Rodriguez of Chile, 6-1, 6-2, to advance to the quarter-finals.

Third-seeded Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., also advanced to the quarter-finals, overcoming Bitsy Harrison of Richmond, Va., 6-3, 6-2.

Other top-seeded players among the eight survivors in the tournament are Eugene Scott of St. James, N.Y., who beat David Sanderlin of El Cajon, Calif., 6-3, 9-7, Arthur Ashe of Richmond, who rallied to defeat Clark Graebner of Shaker Heights, Ohio, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn, N.Y., eliminated Premjit Lall of India's Davis Cup team 13-11, 6-3, and Martin Riessen of Evanston, Ill., beat Abe Segal of South Africa 6-4, 10-8.

Ho-hum.

Sandy Koufax pitched again last night.

Won again. Struck out 10 or more again. Didn't allow any runs again.

Same old stuff.

That's the way it is with systematic Sandy. His latest effort was another Koufax special, a four-hit, 12-strikeout job that beat Houston 1-0 and ended the Los Angeles Dodgers losing streak at four games.

Walt Alston's personal tranquilizer — the Dodgers have to mix in at least one run for complete relaxation—now has won 11 games in a row since he last lost on May 27, boosting his record to 15-4 while his sixth shutout lowered his earned run average to a remarkable 1.78.

Just as remarkable was the feat of Philadelphia's light-hitting Bobby Wine, a .205 swinger who slammed his second homer in two nights, a bases-empty shot off Warren Spahn that triggered the National League leading Phillies to a 4-1 victory over Milwaukee.

Hitting honors for the day, however, went to Pittsburgh's Bill Mazeroski and Willie Stargell. Mazeroski drove in five runs and Stargell hit for the cycle with a single, double, triple and homer as the Pirates lashed 18 hits and crushed St. Louis 13-2.

Elsewhere, the second-place San Francisco Giants remained one game off the pace by belting the Chicago Cubs 7-3 but the third-place Cincinnati Reds fell 4½ games back by losing their fifth straight to the New York Mets, 4-3 in 10 innings.

Koufax, who struck out 10 or more batters in a game for the 58th time in his career, had to be at his best against Houston's Ken Johnson, who allowed only seven hits before he left for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

The lone Dodger run came across in the third when Derrell Griffith and Ron Fairly smacked doubles.

Wine, who hit a homer Tuesday night before singling home the decisive run, got the job done again for the Phillies by breaking a 1-1 tie with his homer in the seventh inning. The Braves only run came on a homer by Spahn off Ray Culp, 8-5.

The homer was the 35th of Spahn's career. The loss was the 11th this season for the 43-year-old left-hander, who has won only six games and failed to finish for the 11th time in 12 starts.

Mazeroski batted in a run with a sacrifice fly in the first, doubled home two runs in the seventh and hit a two-run homer in the ninth. Stargell contributed three runs batted in with his 4-for-4 performance while Jerry Lynch came up with the same run production on a homer and single.

Bob Veale got the victory, his 11th against six losses. The loser was Roger Craig, 5-5.

The Reds tied the score 3-3 in the eighth when singles by Frank Robinson and Don Pavletich around an infield out produced a run, but the Mets won it in the 10th when Ron Hunt singled, moved up on a sacrifice and scored on a pinch-hit double by Jim Hickman.

Larry Elliot homered for the Mets, Deron Johnson for the Reds.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Red-Hot Angels Take Over Fourth Place With 3-2 Win

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Quick quiz: Which major league team has the best record since June 15?

You're wrong.

It's not the American League leading New York Yankees, and it's not the Baltimore Orioles, who until two days ago were on top of the A.L. 27 out of 28 days. And it's not Philadelphia or San Francisco in the National League.

It's the Los Angeles Angels, who moved into sole possession of fourth place in the A.L. last night with a 3-2 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

The Angels, one of the zaniest collections of major leaguers since St. Louis' Gas House Gang, were lodged in ninth place June 15 with a poor record of 24-37. Since then, they have won 26 and lost 11, a lofty percentage of .703.

The Yankees, at .639, are the only other team who have played above .600 in that time. As a comparison, the Orioles stand at .595, the White Sox .575, the Phillies .568 and the Giants .553.

The Angels, two games over .500 for the first time this year, have won eight of their last nine and 12 of their last 14.

For their latest victory, though, they needed the aid of a couple of pitches from knuckle ball artist Hoyt Wilhelm. The Angels trailed 2-1 entering the ninth inning.

Jim Fregosi singled with one out, trotted to second when Wilhelm hit Willie Smith with a pitch and scored the tying run on a single by Bob Rodgers. One out later, with Lou Clinton at bat, Wilhelm uncorked a pitch that got away from catcher J. C. Martin for a passed ball, and Smith scampered home with the winning run.

In other American League games, New York defeated Washington 6-3, Cleveland knocked off Baltimore 7-4, Kansas City trimmed Minnesota 6-4 and Detroit outlasted Boston 8-6.

The White Sox grabbed a 2-0 lead in the first inning on run-scoring doubles by Don Buford and Pete Ward. But Fred Newman settled down and at one stretch retired 17 straight Chicago batters. Joel Horlen allowed the Angels only three hits before leaving for Wilhelm in the eighth.

The Yankees managed only four hits against the Senators, but all came in the fifth inning when they erupted for five runs, the last three on Joe Pepitone's bases-loaded triple. Mickey Mantle batted in the first two runs with a double.

The victory kept the Yankees in first place, only the second time this season they've held that spot two straight days.

Pitcher Dick Donovan rapped a two-run single that snapped a 3-3 tie and shot the Indians past the Orioles. Woodie Held was given an intentional walk, loading the bases, before Donovan singled with two out in the eighth. The Indians scored twice more in the rally.

Kansas City handed the Twins their seventh straight defeat behind the hitting of Rocky Colavito. The A's slugger homered in the first inning, then connected for his 24th following Nelson Mathews' single in the ninth. The second blast broke a 4-4 deadlock. Earl Battey and Tony Oliva homered for Minnesota.

Christensen Pleased With 49er Drill

MORAGA, Calif. (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers turned back to non-contact drills today after their first scrimmage of the training season.

Coach Jack Christensen was obviously pleased after watching his National Football League charges battle in full gear for 30 minutes yesterday.

"That kind of contact is what you always hope for but rarely get this early in the season," he said.

Duty-Free Liquor And Cigarettes At '64 Olympics

TOKYO (AP) — Foreign athletes, officials and newsmen coming to the Tokyo Olympics will be allowed to bring in 30-day supplies of liquor and cigarettes duty free, the Japanese Finance Ministry announced today.

The cigarette quota will be figured at 40 per day, or 1,200 for 30 days. The daily liquor quota will include one bottle of wine, one bottle of beer, one-fourth liter of whiskey, and three bottles of mineral water.

American brand names of bourbon range from $7 to $10; per fifth gallon; scotch whiskey $10 to $13.

Sauer's Lessons To Hal Lanier Paid Off

A dozen years ago, Hank Sauer wore the uniform of the Chicago Cubs, hit 37 homers, knocked in 121 runs and was voted the National League's Most Valuable Player.

The Cubs might have a five-game winning streak going today if it weren't for the same Hank Sauer.

Now 45, the ex-Cub star scouts for the San Francisco Giants and youngsters on the club look to him for advice.

Some of Hank's coaching paid off yesterday as the Giants whipped the Chicago Cubs 7-3, ignited by a three-run homer by rookie Hal Lanier in the fifth inning.

The ball off the bat of the right-handed hitter sailed over the right field fence, near the foul line, a drive most frequently described as an off-field hit.

The triumph, only the Giants' third in their last 10 games, kept San Francisco on the heels of the league leading Philadelphia Phils.

"I've been trying lately to hit the ball to right field," the 22-year-old son of former big league pitcher Max Lanier declared. "I seem to get more hits. Hank Sauer has been working with me on waiting for the ball and hitting to the off field.

"Hank has been throwing batting practice pitches to me and showing me how to go to right."

Almost as if taking a cue, Orlando Cepeda smashed a drive over the right field fence in the sixth inning for a two-run homer and the Giants had a 5-3 lead that veteran southpaw Billy Pierce protected.

In the finale of the four-game series today, left-hander Billy O'Dell drew the starting assignment facing another veteran, right-hander Lew Burdette of the Cubs.

Dick Ellsworth was slated to start but head coach Bob Kennedy said the southpaw from nearby Fresno had a little stiffness in his arm and needed an extra day's rest.

The homers by Lanier and Cepeda both came off Larry Jackson, who failed in quest of his 13th victory and took his eighth loss instead.

Pierce, also a well known figure around Chicago, worked four scoreless innings and wants one and all to note that he collected his first hit of the season and drove in his first run.

The 37-year-old former White Sox star drove in the second run of the eighth inning when the Giants added four singles to their attack.

And the first thing he said on returning to the clubhouse following his second victory of the campaign was:

"How'd you like my hit?"

Title Fight Plans Hit Snag—Money

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A proposed title fight between middleweight king Joey Giardello and challenger Rubin Hurricane Carter Oct. 23 is "still a long way from being set," the promoter of the bout said yesterday.

Mel (Red) Greb, who represents the Silver State Sports Club, said he and Michael Del Collo, Giardello's attorney, were "about $15,000 apart" in their negotiations over the guarantee.

Del Collo is asking $100,000 for Giardello.

Greb said $100,000 is all that is available for both fighters.

The promoter said Carter "is ready to go at any figure . . . but in fairness we have to give him at least $15,000."

This means either Del Collo must retreat to an $85,000 guarantee for Giardello "or somebody is going to have to come up with some more money," Greb said.

The promoter said the only source of more money would be Telescript Inc.—the firm which plans to put the fight on closed circuit television.

At present, Silver State has agreed to give $55,000 to the fighters from the live gate and Telescript has guaranteed $45,000.

Telescript's end would have to be upped to $60,000 to meet Giardello's present demands, Greb said.

Giardello said early yesterday he understood negotiations were over and he had been offered $100,000 for the Las Vegas title defense.

Del Collo, however, who plans to return to New Jersey today to consult with Giardello, said:

"This thing is still far from being concluded . . . We have reached no conclusions yet."

The fight would be Giardello's first defense of his title since he won it from Dick Tiger in Atlantic City, N.J., last December.

In New York, Murray Goodman, who promoted the Atlantic City fight, said he has a "very legal document" giving his Garden State Sports Corp. promotional rights to Giardello's first title defense.

"Naturally we intend to stand up for our rights," Goodman said. "I will discuss the situation with my partners and we'll decided what steps to take. Anyone who goes as far to sign any contract could be open to legal action.

"If Giardello signed anything, it proves the ingratitude of a man who virtually got down on his knees to get a title fight and only through our efforts did he get it."

Olympic Live TV Welcomed

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese government and Olympic officials today welcomed joint U.S.-Japan arrangements made for live telecast of the October Tokyo Olympics to the United States and Canada.

Postal Service Minister Jitsuzo Tokuyasu expressed gratitude for U.S. cooperation in the project and said the arrangements "would further raise the significance of the Tokyo Olympics and greatly promote international understandings."

Plans simultaneously announced in Washington and Tokyo today called for launching Syncom III satellite in mid-August into a stationary orbit above the Pacific to relay television programs to the United States and Canada. They also provided for speeding videotapes of the Syncom transmissions to Europe.

Tsuneyoshi Takeda, vice president of the Tokyo Olympic Organizing Committee, said, "It is a matter of extreme significance and epoch-making that people around the world will be able to see the Olympic Games simultaneously."

Hiroyuki Ueda, director of the Postal Service Ministry's radio research laboratories, said his laboratories will complete all necessary preparations by the end of August.

LITTLE GUY, BIG FISH

Kevin Kelly, 11, will never forget his vacation and the 200-pound halibut he caught this week off the coast of Saco, Maine. The youngster, fishing with Capt. Holly Moore (left), hooked the fish about 13 miles off shore. It took the little guy almost an hour to land the whopper, at times getting help and advice from Capt. Moore. The giant had to be fought like a tuna when it came to surface four times before being boated. (AP Wirephoto)

Olson-Pastrano Bout Slated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ancient Bobo Olson—whose hopes for a light heavyweight title fight looked slim a month ago—will get the chance after all.

Olson will meet light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano of New Orleans in a 10-round non-title fight Aug. 28 at Kezar Pavilion.

Art Benjamin of the National Boxing Club, promoter of the match, said yesterday Pastrano has agreed to give Olson a shot at the title if the ex-middleweight wins their San Francisco encounter.

Olson's chances for a title fight appeared to have faded after he lost decisively to young Johnny Persol in a televised fight on July 19. It ended a streak of seven straight victories for the one-time middleweight king.

Boccabella Leads Salt Lake To Win With Four RBI's

John Boccabella of San Anselmo drove in four runs to lead Salt Lake City to a victory in the Pacific Coast League yesterday and Ron Cole of Mill Valley lost a one-run decision for Modesto in the California League.

Boccabella knocked in three of the runs with his 19th homer of the season. Salt Lake crushed Dallas, 9-0.

Cole, a righthanded pitcher, was on the losing end of a 4-3 decision with Fresno gaining the victory. He allowed 8 hits in going the distance.

Hornung In Old Form

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Paul Hornung is back with the Green Bay Packers and that means trouble for the Chicago Bears, the National Football League champions.

Hornung, star halfback who led the Packers to the 1962 NFL title then was suspended a year for betting on league games, worked out with the Packers yesterday for the first time since his suspension in April, 1963.

He appeared in top physical condition, brightening Green Bay hopes of regaining the NFL crown from the Bears. The first time he carried the ball in a controlled scrimmage he burst through the defensive line.

The next few times he was tackled hard, but bounced up after each effort and seemed none the worse.

The Bears, preparing for their game with the College All-Stars Aug. 7 in Chicago that officially kicks off the season, put in a 45-minute scrimmage at their camp. Bill Wade's 58-yard touchdown pass to Rich Kreitling highlighted the workout.

The San Diego Chargers, champions of the American League, held their first pre-season drills and coach Sid Gillman said they were the best in his 19 years as a mentor. He praised rookies Kenny Dill of Mississippi and Sammie Taylor of Grambling.

Other developments on the pro football front as the training tempo picked up included:

Baltimore Colts—Defense beat the Offense 16-0 in a scrimmage in which the defense was credited with two points each time they stopped the offense short of a first down.

Oakland Raiders — Star end Art Powell still is missing from camp. Doug Brown of Fresno State signed contract as free agent.

Orioles Again Put Pitcher Estrada On Disabled List

The 26-year-old pitcher, who won 18 games in 1960 and 15 in 1961, underwent an operation last Sept. 25 to remove a bone spur and calcium deposits from his elbow.

This season, he had pitched only 52 innings. Although Estrada's record was 3-1, his earned run average was 5.02 and he hadn't pitched since reinjuring his elbow 11 days ago. Doctors had advised Estrada it would take a year to recover completely from the operation.

Estrada's place on the roster was not filled immediately, but the Orioles are expected to recall either Herm Starrette from Rochester or Frank Bertaina from Elmira. Starrette, a right-handed reliever, was recalled June 16, appeared in five games, and was sent back to Rochester last week. He didn't report until Monday, however, and can't be recalled until a 10-day waiting period expires next Thursday.

Bertaina, a 20-year-old lefthander, has won 10 games at Elmira. He is due to pitch for the Orioles Monday night when they play an exhibition game against the Phillies in Philadelphia. His performance there may decide his immediate future.

Baltimore, perennially deep in pitching, moved to shore up a mound staff which has failed recently as the Orioles dropped from the American League lead.

Fast And Fancy Salmon Trolling; Striper Striving Reported Slow

STEVENS

I often wonder about that ubiquitous party called "They." I'd sure like to come face-to-face with the omnipresent "know-all" some time. Particularly today. How come? Just that I overheard a fellow say to a friend: "They tell me it's silly to pay out good money to go salmon trolling right now. Practically no fish being caught, and that goes for bass fishing also. They say that there are practically no bass to be caught."

How wrong can "They" be! Sure the fast and fancy salmon trolling slowed down a wee bit over the weekend, but that's a normal happening. It most certainly wasn't a washout on Monday or Tuesday.

Just for example, here is the score made by the boats out of Caruso's Sausalito Harbor on Monday: The Ma Ru unloaded 10 salmon to 18 pounds, the Lucky Lady had 7 to 22 pounds, the K.W., with Skipper Tony Weber, netted 17 fish to 15 pounds, the Hurricane had 18 to 31 pounds, the Aileen 8 to 18, the Marion 10 to 17 and the Jennie C 14 to 28 pounds. Does that sound like the salmon quit hitting? Or the two boats out of Berkeley — the Lancer had 18 salmon to 14 pounds and the Sea Horse had 18 to 18 pounds. As far as I could learn most of the above catches were made out near the Farallon Islands.

I SURE hope the mysterious Mr. They reads the above. And, too, the following: The small boat, Carlene, took a pair of limits on Monday and did the same on Tuesday. Was in his home port by 7 a.m. on Tuesday with his two limits taken near the Brothers on Bug-eye Jigs. Hal Boenner of Lee Anderson's tackle shop in Oakland, who reported the striped bass catches of the Carlene, also told me quite a few stripers have been landed from the rocky shore back of the Berkeley Cannery.

HAD "THEY" said trolling in San Pablo Bay was slow, I would agree with him, but it definitely hasn't quit cold. On Sunday the boats out of Bennett's Rodeo Marina took about a fish-per-rod, and on Monday the average was close to two-per-rod. It does seem that a part of the former large schools of bass are working their way upstream. Best bets the past couple of days have been between the Carquinez Bridge and the Black Can at Port Costa.

THE ANGLING addicts in Marin County might try their luck shore-fishing at Bolinas—quite a few bass have been taken there recently. Might get in on the derby being run out of Bolinas, too. Possible to hook a Chinook at Bolinas, as well as a flock of flounders. Lots of the flatties at the mouth of Tomales Bay, also.

SHOULD YOU have a yen to go afield for fish, such as black bass, trout and bluegills and crappies, your chances are from fair to good of making the grade. I suggest you read tomorrow's column for the dope on lake, stream and reservoir fishing chances. And, until then, goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

Former Giant 'Jabbo' Near End Of Road

ATLANTA (AP)—It's near the end of the road for former major leaguer Ray Jablonski and he says, "I don't look for another contract.

"I want to manage," he added. "I want to see if I know as much about this game as I think I do."

If longevity and versatility are any indication of his credentials, Jablonski will not be caught short.

He has spent 18 years in baseball, and during stints with the Cardinals, the Reds, the Giants and the Athletics, he has played every position but catcher and pitcher.

The 38-year-old veteran had an outstanding rookie year at St. Louis in 1953 when he batted .268, hit 21 home runs and batted in 112 runs. Now he can't break into the line-up of the last-place Atlanta Crackers of the International League.

"I can't tell you why I've been around so long," Jablonski said in an interview. "If anything, it has to be pride, plus the fact I just enjoy playing."

ONE CONSOLATION

If he doesn't get a contract after this year, he has one consolation. "I got me some records," he said. "In the majors I was the only rookie to play every game in that 157-game season. And I hold the record for RBIs for a rookie on the St. Louis Cardinals."

Jabbo also played third base in the major league All-Star game while with the Cards in 1954.

Jablonski is sure some of his records will stand. Motioning to his teammates, he said, "Some of them none of these fellows in this room will ever break because the leagues long ago folded and died."

Marin Boat House Moving

Chuck Fillingame of Marin Boat House, San Rafael, will soon be pioneering a new area of Marin. Corte Madera Creek. About Aug. 1, Chuck will move his boats, motors, marine stock and crew into his new modern quarters. Access to it is by way of the service road that parallels the 101 Highway on the east side. One block after passing the Redwood Lumber Co., this road deadends right at his new domain on the banks of the creek. George Bertram, co-owner, built and designed it.

Twenty modern stalls will fill-the-bill for dry storage. The large general drive-in compound is well-designed for the convenience of boaters with trailered rigs. No nuisance - manuvering will be required to back into a stall—or let the rig into the water on the newly constructed ramp.

Picture - windowed and spacious, the boat showroom will display the four-cycle Homelite outboard motors and, as Chuck says proudly, "Also the almost idiot-proof line of Boston Whaler boats."

A dockside gasoline pump is pretty sure to be a popular and an unaccustomed convenience on the creek. In the past, boaters had to buy gasoline in service stations and convey it by car—or buy it dockside in San Rafael or Tiburon as closest points.

Fillingame is well-known in Marin's marine circles, operating a boating business for 13 years. In 1951 he ended his armed forces career, assuming a partnership in the Anchorage on Boat Row in San Rafael. In 1961 he moved to a canal site on Francisco Boulevard, carrying on under the new name of Marin Boat House—and now to Corte Madera Creek!

It may be a long time before this pretty, navigable canal loses its flavor . . . a sort of timeless, quiet never-land. The specialness of its charm lies in marshland of green picklegrass, motionless herons, seagulls and the ark dwellers, who never permit themselves to hear the roar of the traffic on the highway. This complete picture is sweetly juxtaposed at the forboding base of San Quentin State Prison. There's nothing quite like it—anywhere.

Designated navigable, the creek's main function today is flood-control. To this end, extensive dredging has been promised for the near future. Tugs tow gravel barges bayward from Hutchinson's pits, setting course for the Delta.

A number of decades ago, this was a busy little stream, handling the commerce of farmer and cattleman. But now the trend is pleasure boating, and any sunny Saturday and Sunday, boats are coming and going. Stink pots and sail boats, too. On a good tide, they can cruise as far as Larkspur—often a little further.

But now, when the motor runs rough . . . when a sheer pin breaks . . . when the gas tank goes dry—there's a haven. The Marin Boat House.

Peggy Ann Lang Of Oakland Bride Of Rev. D. L. Baldwin

On Saturday at 2 p.m., Peggy Ann Lang of Oakland became the bride of the Rev. Donald Leo Baldwin in a candlelight ceremony at the First Methodist Church, San Rafael.

Officiating at the ceremony were the Rev. Leo E. Baldwin, grandfather of the bridegroom, and the Rev. Donald H. Baldwin, father of the bridegroom and pastor of the First Methodist Church of San Rafael.

Peggy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lang of Oakland, and the bridegroom is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Donald H. Baldwin of San Rafael.

Acting as matron of honor was Mrs. Scott Potter of Mountain View, a sister of the bride. She wore a gown of lavender silk-linen, and Judy Smith of San Anselmo, bridesmaid, wore a raspberry silk-linen gown.

Acting as best man was the bridegroom's brother, Frank Ryder Baldwin of San Jose; and head usher was Dr. Glen Davidson of Claremont. Other ushers were Don Sorenson and Dean Davis of San Jose.

After the two ministers had performed the double-ring ceremony, the wedding guests attended a reception held in Turley Hall.

After a honeymoon in Carmel, the couple will live near Yosemite National Park, where the bridegroom is pastor of the El Portal Community Church.

Peggy is a graduate of the Oakland High School and the American Theatre Wing in New York City. She worked for several years on Broadway, in television and in summer stock.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Merced High School and the University of the Pacific in Stockton. In June he graduated from Drew University School of Theology in Madison, N. J.

His present assignment is under the direction of the National Council of Churches, for whom he has worked for the past three summers in their National Parks Ministry Program in Mammoth Cave, Ky., and the Grand Teton National Park in Wyoming. He has also worked as ski chaplain at Timberline Lodge, Mt. Hood, Wash., and at Vail, Colo.

Skinny Boots

To go with fashion's skinny coats for fall and winter are skinny boots—with zippers, lacings or goring used for a close fit. Styling features such as cuffs, chains or colored linings are seen, particularly in ankle boots and bootees.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Marinites Are Bound For The Orient

BOUND FOR THE ORIENT aboard the President Wilson, the Sidney Coltons of San Rafael are planning stopovers in Honolulu, Hong Kong and Japan. Prior to their departure they were entertained by Marin friends at a series of bon voyage gatherings. Among the hosts and hostesses were the Alfred Bachs, Mrs. Rose Bagshaw Robbins, the Earl Whites and Melvin Roys. And the Coltons then entertained friends aboard the Wilson before sailing.

A PACIFIC voyage is in the offing also for Mrs. Philip Ehrlich Jr. of Belvedere, who with her children will sail Monday from Los Angeles aboard the Lurline for a Hawaiian visit.

THE SAM GARDINERS of Fairhills are rejoicing at news of the birth of their seventh grandchild, a son born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Birkie of Oakland. The baby has been named Wolfe Fenton and has a sister, Brooke Karla. His mother is on the faculty of San Francisco State College and his father is doing graduate work at Hastings College of Law.

PERUVIAN VISITORS are being entertained this week by the Irving Links of Novato — they are Mr. and Mrs. Juan Helguero of Piura, Peru, who own a daily newspaper in their home city. They've been seeing the points of interest in the Bay Area and today both couples left for a leisurely drive down the coast to visit the Links' son, Leland and his wife in Los Angeles. Mrs. Helguero and Mrs. Leland Links are sisters.

A FALL WEDDING in Paris is being planned by Anne-May de Bresson and Hayne Ellis Leland, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Leland of Belvedere. The bride-elect is the daughter of Viscountess Chauncey Depew de Bresson of the French capital and the late Viscount de Bresson. Hayne, a Harvard graduate, is taking graduate work at London School of Economics.

YESTERDAY Mrs. Mary I. Bulkley of San Anselmo celebrated her 83rd birthday, but Sunday was a gala occasion for her — sitting rinkside at the Ice Follies with her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Bulkley of San Anselmo, she received two dozen American Beauty roses from skating star Richard Dwyer during the performance. On hand too were her young granddaughters Julie and Tammy Bulkley.

COL. AND MRS. Gardiner B. Jones of Novato are looking forward to a visit with their granddaughter, Nancy Kay Jones, 14, who arrived by plane from Honolulu today. Nancy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner B. Jones Jr. plans to stay with her grandparents until the beginning of the school term. Her father is assistant editor of the Honolulu Advertiser.

THE LES BARLOWS and their sons, Tim and Patrick are among the many Novatans taking a trip to southern California and enjoying trips to Hearst Castle and Knotts Berry Farm. The former Canadians are traveling with their trailer.

NEWS FROM the Victor H. Wollmanns, who are now in England during extended travels abroad, is that the couple is making tentative plans to tour New England in the fall before returning to Sausalito after Christmas.

I-J June Brides Winner Told

Winner with the correct guess of 85 in the Independent-Journal June Brides Contest is Mrs. Robert A. MacLeod.

The wife of a staff sergeant at Ft. Baker, Mrs. MacLeod won for the earliest postmarked entry of the correct guess among 658 entries submitted from throughout Marin and one from British Columbia.

Hairsprays May Cause Irritations Of Skin

During 1962, at the peak of popularity of the beehive coiffure (maintenance of which calls for repeated sprayings) Dr. Baker treated an unusually large number of teen-age girls for eruptions on forehead, face and neck. Questioning revealed that these patients used hair spray intensively, some as often as 25 times. If you use a hair spray, wear a cosmetic mask, Baker suggested.

Girl Scout Camp Sessions Underway Throughout Marin

Mrs. Kenneth B. Brown of San Rafael, chairman of the Girl Scout Day Camp Committee, announced that more than 300 of Marin's Brownie and Junior Scouts, 65 mothers, and 15 Cadette and Senior Scout aides are busy with day camp these days.

Camp sites are the Lions' Club picnic area at Stafford Dam, Novato, and Arequipa and Sky Oaks in Fairfax. The camp program includes nature study, hiking, cook-outs, story telling, impromptu dramatics, arts and crafts, camp skills, singing, and at Arequipa instructional swimming. Junior Scouts, aged 9 to 11, spend one overnight at the site, cooking their own dinner, and singing camp songs and toasting marshmallows around the campfire in the evening.

There are four two-week sessions throughout the summer. Day campers gather in units: 16 to 20 Brownies per unit, 20 to 32 Juniors per unit. The staff members for the day camp program, including business manager, nurses, and swimming instructor are volunteers.

The purpose of Girl Scout camping is to develop in each girl and leader resourcefulness, initiative, self-reliance, and the recognition of the worth of the individual.

Resident camping is offered this year to Girl Scouts from 4th graders through high school seniors in 15 camps throughout Northern California.

TV Antenna Man Considers County As 'Sleeping Giant'

By PHIL FRADKIN
(Second of two articles)

The appeal of Marin County to firms seeking to establish community antenna television systems in its cities stems from sudden awareness of a lucrative market.

Somehow Marin County got neglected along the way, except for franchises granted in Sausalito and Fairfax, and the antenna systems companies only woke up to the fact this spring.

"Apparently we discovered a sleeping giant. There is a great market in Marin," says Dick Webster, general manager of Clear View Cable Systems Inc. in Fairfax.

Lindsey Spight, president of Television Communications Inc. and of Tele-Vue Systems of Marin Inc., has stated, "There is no question that in obtaining a franchise, a more than competitive battle is taking place in Marin."

The third principal in the battle, Robert Lewis of Bob's TV in San Rafael, says: "There is not the potential here that is indicated by the applications. This will not spread throughout the whole county. It will be gradual and in small areas."

These three firms have applications pending before six cities. Belvedere, Tiburon and Novato have received no applications. However, the Novato city staff is preparing for "requests." Fairfax and Sausalito have already granted franchises.

San Anselmo City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt has had at least two dozen inquiries—one of which was from a Bakersfield firm. "I am loaded with cards. They keep coming in like flies," Flautt said.

Cable systems originated in the northwest. They spread down the coast, going first to those areas where the reception was non-existent and then to those where it was marginal.

They were installed in San Francisco. Then the East Bay got the influx. Apparently it is Marin County's turn now.

"They will take away from our antenna sales, installations and service of antennas. It will put some of the small guys out of business," Hoy says.

He also predicted that television reception would not generally be improved throughout the county with cable systems. In such hill areas as Fairfax, the reception would be improved. But in San Rafael, Hoy said, it would remain about the same.

Spight disagrees with Hoy. The president of the antenna system firm said: "Television dealers get nervous when construction on a cable system starts. Antennas are a profitless deal for dealers and are a nuisance. They make money on sales and service of television sets. We will do no service work on sets."

What will the prospective subscriber get out of having his television set hooked up to a community antenna system?

According to those promoting the cables in Marin County, reception will be "very satisfactory, first class, excellent, superior and unusually fine."

Ten television channels, including color transmissions, will be brought into the home plus all available FM stations. Multiplex will be included in the package deal.

The cables will run from master antennas located on hills or high ridges with a direct line-of-sight to San Francisco. From the master antennas, cables will run down the hills to homes where individual installations will be made.

The proposed franchises for control of the cable systems by cities exclude the possibility of subscription television being run through the systems. However, this could be done at some future time.

The subscriber, according to current proposals, gets a trial period of either one or two weeks, depending on the firm servicing his area. At the end of that time his money is refunded if the service is not satisfactory.

The franchise ordinance being considered by most cities calls for the city council to approve the agreement which would be signed between the subscriber and the antenna system company.

The charge approved by the Fairfax City Council provides for a $25 connection fee and a monthly service charge of $5.50. There are two alternatives. For renters there is a simple $6.50 a month service charge with no installation fee, and there is a plan for homeowners calling for a $50 installation fee and a $4.50 a month service charge.

Television Communications Inc. is considering a single charge of $25 for installation and a $5 a month service fee. This would depend on approval by city councils. The same fee is charged by the company in the City of Pleasanton.

Demos Invite Marin GOP

S. Robert Politzer of Sausalito, chairman of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs, today invited all "responsible Republicans to join with the Democratic clubs in defeating the extremists who have taken over the Republican Party."

Politzer said he has received several inquiries from Marin Republicans asking how they can work against Sen. Barry Goldwater.

"All seven Democratic clubs in Marin will welcome those Republicans who wish to work againts the John Birch Society and the other groups who now have unchallenged control of one of the two major political parties in the United States," said Politzer.

Cal-Vet Farm Home Program Is Doing Well

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Veterans Affairs Director Joseph M. Farber said yesterday things couldn't be better as far as the Cal-Vet farm and home purchases program is concerned.

He said the fund's over-all surplus was more than 44 million dollars with 77 million dollars cash on hand.

"In addition to that," he added, "1964 is the first time since World War II that we have not gone to the people every two years asking for bond authorization. We still have 250 million dollars worth of unsold bonds authorized by the people in 1962."

The Cal-Vet program is supported entirely by bonds voted by the people, with administrative costs paid from veterans interest payments on their loans.

Millionaire Fights For His Privacy

By JOSEPH GLADSTONE

LONDON (WPS) — One man's objections to the building of a skyscraper block of apartments in the seaside resort of Bournemouth has been making news headlines here. The objector, who says the apartments would overlook his house and thus infringe on his privacy, is none other than Sir John Reeves Ellerman, Britain's richest and most secretive man.

Ellerman has a private fortune calculated at 120 million dollars at the very least. He has spent a good deal of his money ensuring the strictest possible privacy. Reporters, British and others, who have tried for years to interview him, have never succeeded. Few people even know what he looks like; even newspaper libraries have only one or two pictures of him.

If Sir John were a key figure in the Secret Service he could not take more care to conceal his most trivial move.

Servants are warned not to talk about him. A maid quizzed by this correspondent protested that she had never even set eyes on him.

Since Ellerman is the head of a shipping empire, one would suppose he'd be bound to have many contacts. But finding them is difficult.

Just along the street from his home in Eastbourne is St. Peter's Church. For many years the vicar there has been the Rev. W. Norburn. Yet until I told him, the Rev. Norburn had no idea that Sir John Ellerman even lived in the district.

The multi-millionaire usually leaves and arrives at his Eastbourne home after midnight. Once there, he disappears behind the high walls topped by barbed wire. Called The Seven Gables, each of the 21 rooms contains a radio receiver and a telephone, and each phone has an extension to his chauffeur's lodge. But I could not trace anyone who has ever received a call from Sir John. His name can not be found in the phone directory nor, indeed, in any directory.

He does not have a Rolls-Royce because he feels that would attract attention. So his chauffeur, a faithful retainer named Harry Minter, drives him around in one of several small cars.

Sir John and his wife like to go for walks on the seafront. Minter, making sure nobody is following, drives them out of town to a deserted section. Then Sir John—wearing old flannel trousers and sport jacket, and swinging a stick—and his wife—in tweeds and golf shoes—stroll along the clifftops, unrecognized.

Sir John has a lot of money invested in breweries, but he is a complete teetotaler. He smokes, but not much. He likes plain food, and his favorite meal is the old English standby: roast beef, roast potatoes and cabbage. He rounds off with cheese and biscuits. There is never anything sweet on his menu.

His wife likes fancy foods and tries every foreign dish she hears about. So their cooks always have to prepare two separate meals for the Ellermans.

Both are 54 years old.

Sir John's lifelong hobby has been rats. For years he went to the London Zoo to collect polished skulls or rare specimens, which he studied in his own well-equipped laboratory at Eastbourne..

He measured thousands of bones and teeth, and noted slight variations. From collectors all over the world he borrowed and compared skulls, teeth and skins. The result of his lengthy research is two volumes titled, "The Families and Genera of Living Rodents," by J. R. Ellerman. It can be found in the London Museum Library.

This correspondent has spoken with Sir John, not as a newspaperman but because we both deal with politicians — he, of necessity. The British shipping industry has been going through a difficult time, and the shy millionaire has been having one or two secret meetings with leading Members of Parliament.

In this situation he appeared to me to be a nice, ordinary sort of fellow who spoke quietly but clearly when discussing the shipping business. He has the authoritive air of a man who has spent a lifetime getting his own way. But after the business discussion, he appeared lost.

When it was over, he went through the routine of making arrangements to insure that the reporters and photographers outside did not catch him. Large cars with chauffeurs were sent to the front entrance of the building, while Ellerman nipped down to the rear entrance where Minter awaited him in a battered old car.

Sir John is said to dislike children, also dogs.

"She falls in with Sir John's wishes," I was told by a friend. The marriage has been a success, and they are very happy together."

Problem Of Caterer On Rec Agenda

Mill Valley parks and recreation commissioners will discuss a frequently recurring problem at their meeting Monday at 8 p.m.: Supplying a caterer and custodian for the municipal golf clubhouse.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer has told the city council the present method should be abandoned. He said Mr. and Mrs. Werner Korreng, who began in March, have given excellent service as caterers, with the added job of custodian, but have advised him they are quitting, since they are not making enough money from the operation.

Part of the problem, said Balmer, is that groups which use the clubhouse take their own food rather than purchase food from the caterers.

Balmer has asked the commission to advise the city council of its recommendation. His own recommendations are: (1) that the clubhouse be used only by organizations and groups which have rented space; (2) that rentals be realistic and related to actual costs of operation (present rates are much too low, he contends); (3) that the building be open only at time of use by groups which have rented space. It is now open from morning until late at night.

Mothers Asked To Keep Children Out Of Project

Tamalpais Valley mothers were asked today to caution their children to stay away from heavy equipment being used in the valley in connection with work on the Coyote Creek flood control project.

H. F. Unger, field engineer with the Army Corps of Engineers, said the request is a safety measure since workmen are using such equipment as cranes, caterpillars, compressors and trucks strung out over about a mile and one-half. The equipment has back-up horns, said Unger.

Work is in its second week by the Elmer J. Freethy Co. of El Cerrito. Two buildings have been razed and nine houses are being moved. Half of the right-of-way for the project is cleared so far. Work began yesterday to build a new and longer bridge on Flamingo Road, which now is blocked to traffic.

The project is expected to take between five and six months to complete.

Lower Deck On Bridge 'Feasible'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An engineer said yesterday surveys show it would be feasible to build a lower deck on the Golden Gate Bridge if the heavy sidewalks on the present deck were altered.

The engineer, Milton Brumer, told two bridge district committees the sidewalks weigh one ton per foot so it might be necessary to eliminate one and narrow the other.

Brumer's surveying firm, Ammann and Whitney, was the original consultant on the bridge. It also served as general engineer for the new New York narrows bridge.

Speaking to the Golden Gate Bridge District's building-operating and insurance committees Brumer said:

"We're very much encouraged. A lower deck is feasible."

Barbecue Set

Fairfax Parlor 307 of the Native Sons of the Golden West will hold its annual barbecue at 6 p.m. Aug. 1 at Keaton's Shack in Sonoma. Reservations may be made with chairman Nick Roselli of 66 Crestwood Drive, San Rafael, or Charles Monte, co-chairman, of 330 Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo.

Lake Pend Oreille in northwest Idaho is said to have the world's largest rainbow trout, weighing up to 38 pounds.

Marin County Won't Test Dead Raccoon For Rabies

A raccoon, shot in Belvedere by a policeman Sunday evening, will not be tested for rabies, the Marin County Health Department announced today.

The raccoon was sitting on the roof of the Herbert G. Drake home at 213 Golden Gate Avenue when it was shot. It appeared unafraid of people. The body was taken to the health department for testing.

However, Emma Gilman, health education officer, said today that investigation showed the animal had been fed for some time by residents of the neighborhood, which explained its lack of fear.

There was no evidence that the raccoon had exhibited any symptoms of rabies or come in direct contact with humans.

"We can't test every animal," Mrs. Gilman said.

New York made Memorial Day a state observance in 1873. Soon all states except a few in the South followed New York's example.

Two Non-Profit Groups File For Incorporation

Two non-profit groups involving Marinites have filed incorporation papers with Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan.

One is the Muir Woods Natural History Assn. Its directors are park superintendent James L. McLaughlin of Muir Woods National Monument, Arthur A. Volz, also of Muir Woods, and Hilary H. Crawford Jr. of San Francisco.

The other is Surfwood Improvement Co., formed to take title to park easements and "green belt" strips in a Mendocino County housing development.

Young Arsonists' Parents Should Pay For Damage

Marin County's fire departments seek to do more than fight the dangerous series of arson-proven and suspected fires with loss of property, threats of spreading into major conflagrations, and the outlay of firemen's time and taxpayers' money to combat them. They will actively support enactment of a new state law to hold parents financially responsible for all such fires traced to juveniles.

Agreement to sponsor such a measure was reached at a recent meeting of the Marin County Assn. of Fire Departments.

It is high time that something be done in this field. State and federal authorities for years have been gradually overcoming that vicious practice of make-work days; setting forest fires in order to get pay for fire-fighting work. But even this dubious motive doesn't enter into the picture of suspicious fires that are sweeping in grass, brush and tree areas in ominously increasing numbers. Nor wanton starting of fires in unoccupied houses, or automobiles.

A fire started by juveniles in the Northwestern Pacific railway tunnel through Puerto Suello Hill in 1961 has disrupted rail traffic to this day. It also has resulted in expenditure of many thousands of dollars in a long-drawn legal fight as to whether the tunnel should be rebuilt. Seven arson-caused fires in one day at Marin City brought an appalling new firefighting hazard; throwing rocks at firemen and others helping extinguish the blazes.

There are far too many sudden blazes classed as "not from natural causes" in Marin because evidence pointed to arson. It is not confined to one area, either.

Stickers and billboards urging care with matches or campfires are obeyed by most of our people. But in this current menacing time of fires due to youths with matches, the only effective "sticker" will be creating that state law making minors' parents financially responsible for such fire loss.

INCOME TAXES BRING ON INSOMNIA

Sleepless nights and income taxes seem to go together for more than a few people.

One man, however, who tried to solve his tax problems and his insomnia, wrote the Bureau of Internal Revenue: "I am enclosing $28.00. I haven't been able to sleep for the last four years because I cheated the government out of $56.00 on my income tax."

And then he added: "If I find I still can't sleep, I'll send you the other $28.00."

Paying taxes is seldom a pleasant duty. But until another and better way of providing the essential services of good government is found, every citizen is expected to shoulder his fair share of the tax burden.

Those who dodge their tax obligations might think twice if they would stop to realize the consequences of their selfish omission. They leave it to others to pay for the privileges of the liberty they enjoy.

Show that you appreciate the freedom God wishes each of us to possess by cheerfully fulfilling the responsibilities that accompany every right.

"Render to all men whatever is their due; tribute to whom tribute is due; taxes to whom taxes are due." (Romans 13:7)

Grant, O Lord, that I may conscientiously live up to my obligations as a good citizen.

Outlook On Jobless Insurance Not Very Good For Employers

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The economic situation in California presents a real paradox at the present time, and while business looks forward to an excellent 1964, straws in the wind indicate some declines as the result of curtailment of federal spending.

This is from a report issued by the California Retailers Assn., an organization composed of both large and small retailers in virtually all fields of selling to the public.

PARTICULARLY, the association has centered much of its effort in service to its members along the lines of analyzing and guiding the legislative activity in regard to unemployment insurance, a program in which every employer in the State of California is interested.

Along with an upward swing in California employment, the association expects the unemployment insurance fund to gain from 20 to 30 million dollars during the year.

But, even with the expected increase, California employers aren't going to be able to take advantage of the middle bracket on insurance tax rates, as it is expected the balance at the end of the year will be at least 155 million dollars short of the target which would, according to law, bring the middle bracket of rates into effect.

THE AVERAGE RATE for employers this year is 3 per cent of the payroll, one of the highest in the country. It is equalled by Maryland, and surpassed only by Michigan, Pennsylvania and Wyoming. Some 23 per cent of California employers are taxed at the maximum rate of 3.5 per cent of the payroll. Compared with other states, 21 have tax rates higher than 3.5 per cent in effect. But the dollar volume is lower, as the other states do not have as many employers.

Factually, the unemployment insurance fund is not in much danger of "going broke," as long as business conditions remain as they are, or continue to get better. But should real disaster in the form of a sudden dearth of employment hit rapidly, the results would be catastrophic.

MORE THAN 40,000 persons draw unemployment insurance in California, amounting to around a half a billion dollars a year. These are known as the "regulars," and the total is not expected to decrease because of improved business conditions, for the simple reason the labor market keeps growing with added in-state people ready for jobs, and also with the influx of people from out of state. Keeping the total at a level is considered good.

While the unemployment insurance fund, fully supported by employers, continues to be on a questionable basis, consideration is being given to increasing coverage, and also benefit amounts. An Assembly interim committee is studying the effects covering farm workers, government employees, persons employed by nonprofit organizations, and others who have sought for years to be under the program.

An Assembly committee on finance and insurance is studying other factors, such as employment patterns of claimants, prior insurance experience, contributions to family living standards, family status and other characteristics.

It is possible by the time the legislative session starts next year, the committee should come up with some answers.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Bouquets Given In Gas Scare

Editor, Independent Journal:

Along with the other folks living in the Monte Christo tract, adjacent to the Meadow Club, my husband and I, plus our two little Yorkshire terriers were involved in the chlorine gas scare early Sunday morning.

We want to express gratitude and indeed pride in the truly noble work done by the Marin County Sheriff's office, the Fire Department, the Fairfax Disaster group for evacuating us all so swiftly, efficiently and courteously. Further, the Red Cross made coffee and donuts available to all wanting same.

It was a comfort and relief, too, to see Marin County Humane Society trucks rushing to the scene under the personal supervision of director Mel Morse.

Sees No Need To Leave GOP

Editor, Independent-Journal:

My regrets that Mr. (Keith D.) Curry in (the I-J) July 18 finds it necessary to leave the Republican Party because the bed is too hard and the bed of the liberal wing of the Democratic Party is softer. . . .

Before I believe that "terrorism, threats, intimidations, and slander have used to force the conservative wing into power," I would need more proof than Governor Rockefeller standing on the podium crying like a child whose sucker has been taken away. . . .

The conservative take over was similar to the Kennedy take over, except young manpower was used instead of money. . . .

Mr. Curry would have been further frightened had he been at the Mark Hopkins and Fairmont and seen the hundreds of clean cut young men and attractive girls from 18 to 25 from every state in the union working 20 hours a day for an ideal. . . .

Two things I look forward to seeing in the new year is the inauguration of Goldwater and Earl Warren holding the Bible.

Thanks Is Given In Fairfax Blaze

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Being part of the evacuation early Sunday morning from Upper Bolinas Road in Fairfax, I want to thank and commend the following:

The Griddle Restaurant, who permitted six families, including about 15 children to crowd into their place at 4 o'clock in the morning, opened up part of their closed portion for regular customers, and let us all sit there, just drinking coffee and chocolate for the youngsters until we knew where to go. Marin hospitality! and then some.

And (to) the Humane Society (for) permitted me to dump three dogs, minus collars, tags, my name . . . in their shelter and then sent up four trucks with men to gather up strays, protect the horses at the stables, etc. Then, upon picking up my dogs on Monday morning, no charge! Please, all my neighbors on the hill and others who read this, send in very badly needed contributions.

As for the wonderful job the Red Cross, Civilian Disaster Relief and the wonderful nuns from St. Rita's I will not elaborate as they have already been thoroughly thanked by other neighbors.

Almost forgot the sheriff's office and firemen who were injured and those who weren't—we may complain about traffic tags, warning on burning and a few other minor things but, believe me, when we need them, they are on the job risking themselves to see that we are all right.

It was quite an experience and thoroughly convinced me that all that's wrong in this world is the lack of communication, understanding and appreciation of other people.

Somewhere in this, the teenagers who went down to the restaurant in Fairfax and worked from 5 to 8 getting all the evacuees fed for the Red Cross need to be thanked also.

Says Rumford Act Goal Misstated

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On page 10 of the July 17 issue of the I-J, Mr. Henry C. MacArthur in an article titled "Affairs of State / California Cities League Attacked For Opposition To Proposition 14" describes the Rumford Act as follows:

"The act as it now stands removes the right of property owners to dispose of their own property as they choose and submit to dictation of government in the form of the Fair Employment Practices Commission."

How can I make this assertion? Because Sec. 35742 in chapter 5 of the Rumford Fair Housing Act says:

So, "the major purpose of the initiative, which is to maintain the constitutional right of the property owner to handle his own private property as he so chooses" (Mr. MacArthur's closing paragraph), is nothing less than a "right" to practice discrimination because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry. It can only be this, because the Rumford Fair Housing Act (and all other existing fair housing legislation) deals with no other subject. And I don't think anyone pro or con Proposition 14 has any doubt on that score whatsoever.

To me, this issue is a moral one of great magnitude involving my relationship to God and my fellow man. I say Mr. Henry C. MacArthur's arguments are false and my vote will be no to Proposition 14 on November 3.

A MORTIFIED LADY motorist was hauled before a village justice of the peace by a motorcycle cop who announced, "Judging by the way this here woman handles a car in traffic, I don't think she can see very well."

The justice didn't look too surprised. "We'll just give her the little old eye test," he said. "Lady, please read the third line of that chart on the wall."

Wallace Withdrawal From Race For President Is Help To Barry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alabama's segregationist governor, George C. Wallace, is no novice in hopping from position to position. He has hopped again, this time announcing his withdrawal as an independent candidate for president.

This will certainly benefit Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate, who has said no Republican could hope to win this year's election without the South.

GOLDWATER, who voted against this year's civil rights bill, was expected to cut into President Lyndon B. Johnson's Southern margin by capturing a lot of the segregationists' votes. But Wallace would have won a lot of them, too, if he ran.

By running, Wallace would probably have hurt Goldwater more than Johnson.

Wallace said he would support whichever major party candidate proved to be the more conservative and zealous in upholding the principles of free enterprise, local government and state's rights. It's Goldwater who has made a career of championing all those points.

IT SEEMS hardly a coincidence, therefore, that Wallace stepped out of the race just four days after Goldwater got the Republican nomination.

His present reluctance to name his choice can be interpreted as an attempt to pressure the Democrats into toning down the civil rights plank in the platform they nail together at the convention, since he's a leader of the anti-civil rights forces and the Southern vote is important.

The Republican civil rights plank is surely milder than anything the Democrats are likely to produce if only because it was their Democratic-run Congress under Johnson's pressure which passed the new Civil Rights Act this month.

EVEN SOME Republicans thought their plank didn't go far enough, but their attempts to strengthen it were crushed by Goldwater forces.

Wallace surprised politicians earlier this year with the votes he ran up in Democratic presidential primaries in Maryland, Indiana and Wisconsin. He zigzagged on what he was going to do.

At one time he said he wouldn't be a presidential candidate. Then he came around to saying he would be a serious one. Now he has changed again.

ASKED RECENTLY if he would enforce the new civil rights law, Wallace replied that was for the federal government to do, although, he said, he never encouraged disobedience or defiance of any law. He forgot about 1963.

Last year when a federal court ordered desegregation of the University of Alabama and the admittance of two Negroes, Wallace said he would bar their entrance himself, adding: "This is legal resistance and legal defiance."

He barred the door and the late President John F. Kennedy had to federalize the Alabama National Guard before Wallace would step aside. Then he trotted away.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Goldwater To Make Cuba A Key Issue

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater intends to make Communist-ruled Cuba the principal foreign policy issue of his "no punches pulled" drive for the White House.

Still under consideration is a dramatic proposal for Goldwater to launch his all-out attack on the "failure" of the Kennedy-Johnson administrations' Cuban policies with a nation-wide televised address from Key West, Fla.—90 miles from Castro's Red bastion.

THIS SPECTACULAR plan is being urged on Goldwater on these grounds:

It would be "characteristically dynamic" and is actually certain to make a powerful impression on U. S. voters.

It would impart to his discussion of the tensely controversial problem special "immediacy and vividness."

And his address would serve as the opening shot in his fight to sweep the South—a basic factor in his strategy to win the presidency.

THE OTHER deeply "emotional issue," as they see it, is the backlash on civil rights.

It can be stated positively that this will not be publicly exploited in any way. At the same time no secret is made of the belief that the "fallout" resulting from persistent demonstrations, violence and other disturbances will potently redound to Goldwater's benefit.

In castigating the Democratic record on Communist-dominated Cuba, the Republican presidential candidate will propound a concrete program of his own. He will propose both direct and indirect U. S. measures to "liberate the Cuban people" by intensifying pressure on Castro "both from within and from without." Toward that end Goldwater will advocate the following specific actions:

Providing U. S. arms and financial aid to Cuban refugees, and permitting them to train and operate from bases in the U. S. as well as the Caribbean.

Establishing and recognizing a Cuban government in exile.

Intensifying the economic blockade against the island.

TOP ASSISTANTS of Goldwater are firmly convinced his advocacy of such a militant program will evoke wide and enthusiastic response among Democrats as well as Republicans, both in the North and in the South.

To assist him in formulating and presenting his views and proposals on foreign and domestic issues, the Republican nominee will set up a number of "task forces" headed by leading authorities in their field.

Under consideration for director of the foreign policy task force is Robert Strausz-Hupe, 60, head of the Foreign Policy Research Institute of the University of Pennsylvania. A vigorous advocate of the hard-line approach in relations with Communist regimes, Strausz-Hupe also favors stronger U. S. ties with western European nations, particularly France and West Germany.

ANOTHER LIKELY member of this task force is Stefan T. Possony, 50, of the Hoover Institute of Stanford University. Like Goldwater, Possony opposed the nuclear test ban treaty and is against selling grain to Communist countries unless they grant major concessions in the cold war.

Other task forces and experts who will be asked to serve on them are:

Dr. Edward Teller, noted atomic scientist and "father" of the H-bomb; Milton Friedman, University of Chicago monetary authority; Karl D. Butler, former Cornell University agricultural specialist; G. Warren Nutter, University of Virginia economist; Gottfried Haberler, Harvard economist; Gerhard Wiemeyer, Notre Dame political scientist.

Slated to be coordinator of the task force is Edward A. McCabe, 40, Washington attorney, now Goldwater's chief research assistant. McCabe was assistant general counsel on President Dwight D. Eisenhower's White House staff, and has been one of Goldwater's key advisers.

'Enrichment' College Courses Are Clarified For Trustees

MARIN JUNIOR COLLEGE District board members asked some pointed questions last week about courses being offered for the fall semester adult education program.

Kent O. Seymour, the "conservative" member of the board, asked Ellsworth R. Briggs, dean of the extended day and adult education program, on a course entitled "recorder playing (beginning and intermediate)".

Briggs admitted that this course had stumped the State Department of Education which had asked if the college was planning to teach adults how to put records on a phonograph.

No, Briggs said, this was not the case. It is a course designed to teach persons how to play a musical instrument, the predecessor of the flute, whose use is being revived.

Board member Robert E. Rogers asked if a course called "human relations for supervisors" was aimed at a certain five-man board which governs unincorporated areas.

BRIGGS REPLIED that the course had a wider appeal. It was aimed at persons in supervisorial and foremen's positions who would be taught how to deal with those persons under them.

A request was made by the board to change the name of the "preparation for European travel course," since it sounded too much like a course which imparted such essential knowledge as how many tooth brushes one should pack for a three-week tour of Europe.

Briggs said the course name would be changed, pointing out that persons taking it were shown slides and given lectures on the cultures of various European countries.

Lest we become too cynical and unbalanced in our report, let us look at how and for whom the program is designed.

About two-thirds, or 100 courses at night, are designed for "enrichment." The remaining one-third of the courses are given for credit and center mainly around the hard-core academic subjects.

Briggs, in explaining the make-up of the adult education program, states that a survey made by the college disclosed that those persons taking the credit courses are mostly young and seeking to better themselves through education.

THOSE TAKING the non-credit courses are in an older age bracket. "They have had all the education they need and are now after enrichment," he said. Thus, a doctor could sign up for "survey of American jazz" or a lawyer could become interested in "lapidary art."

It seems, judging from numbers alone, that all types of persons have taken advantage of the course offerings. Last school year, a faculty of 100 instructors taught 52 credit courses with 1,800 students and 95 non-credit courses with 3,200 students.

About one-half the adult education program is financed by the state, one-fourth by taxes gathered by the junior college district and one-fourth by student fees.

Briggs points out that the College of Marin's program is in the top 10 per cent of those programs being offered by junior colleges in the state in terms of the number of course offerings and breadth of the program.

Some colleges, he states, only offer credit courses.

State Water Recreation Cost

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—William E. Warne, state director of water resources, estimated yesterday that recreation facilities within the vast state water project would cost 214 million dollars during the next 20 years.

Warne told the Assembly interim committee on water that the figure represented about 10 per cent of the project's total cost, now estimated at 2.14 billion dollars.

The project approved by voters in 1960, is designed to carry surplus Northern California water to arid regions of Southern California through a system of dams, reservoirs, aqueducts and pumping plants.

Most people drink a ton or more of water each year. It is second only to air as an essential to human life.

AMERICA IS still the givingest nation on earth. Our contributions to philanthropic causes rose from 5.4 billion dollars in 1954 to 10 billion dollars in 1963.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

True Bridge Players Must Sometimes Be A Bit Selfish

The trouble with most of us is we're too unselfish. We're always thinking of others, never of ourselves. What we need, at the bridge table especially, is more selfishness. I wouldn't tell you this if I couldn't prove it with a bridge hand.

Opening lead — ♠ 3

East won the first trick with the ace of spades and returned a spade for his partner to ruff. It was a fine beginning — two tricks already in the bag, and none for South. Maybe this was the day that declarer was never going to make a trick.

As you can see, East was a dreamer. By the time he woke up, declarer had scored the game and rubber.

It didn't matter what West led back at the third trick. South could win a club or a diamond and lead a trump. East could win with the ace of trumps, but West was now out of trumps; and the defenders were out of tricks. South could easily draw another trump and claim the rest of the tricks.

TOO FAST

East was too fast to consider his partner's welfare when he returned a spade at the second trick. This play would give West a ruff, but East should have been thinking of a ruff for himself.

Now it is time for East to remember his partner. East takes the first trump trick with the ace and returns a spade for West to ruff. West is then in position to return a club, and East ruffs. This gives the defenders four tricks instead of only three.

The point is that West's ruffing trick is also an entry—the only entry to the West hand. East can make good use of that entry only if he first clears the singleton club out of his hand.

DAILY QUESTION

♠ Q J 5 2
♥ K Q 8
♦ 7
♣ 10 8 6 5 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid four spades.

You would probably bid three spades with three low hearts, just on the strong trumps and the singleton. The heart strength is worth a higher bid. In this situation a raise to three is grudging; you must jump to show real strength.

An 11-story travel terminal is due to be built at Hamamatsucho, near the heart of downtown Tokyo, in 1967. The 85.5 million-dollar structure, tallest office building in Japan, will be a hub for helicopters, buses, monorail, and will be connected with three highways, the subway system and nearby Takeshiba Pier.

BARGAIN AUCTION

Navy Upping Anchor At Old Net Depot

If you're in the market for a 6,000-pound fluked anchor, a 45-foot, 930-pound chain, or an old overhead crane, the Navy is having a bargain auction at what used to be the Tiburon Net Depot.

The material is being cleared out to make way for takeover by the Department of the Interior, making possible expanded and more permanent facilities for the interior research offices "renting" space there.

The Navy in the past year and a half has sold some 15 million dollars worth of machinery, fittings, tools and furniture to close out its net depot operation, Cecil Layton, a disposal technician reported.

Another eight to 10 million dollars worth of supplies and equipment has been transferred to other military bases, Layton said. Two sales next month will almost completely clear out salable material.

Prospective buyers may view materials from July 30 to Aug. 19 when sealed bids will be opened on such things as nine spherical floats weighing 680 pounds each, which are 58 inches in diameter and originally cost the government $575 each. Buyers already have snapped up about 4,500 of them for such uses as water tanks.

There are approximately 450 anchors left, weighing 3,000 to 6,000 pounds each and originally costing about $1,000 each.

There are items such as 30 wire rope sockets, shackles, lengths of 45-foot-long 1½ and 1¼-inch chain weighing from 930 to 700 pounds each.

Viewing of "scrap" items which are expected to be the last materials sold from the base will be from Aug. 7 to Aug. 27 when sealed bids will be opened.

The "scrap" includes an overhead crane, cable winch and flat bed truck in not very good condition, and 124,800 pounds of zinc castings.

Collision Brings Damage Suit

A $100,000 personal injury damage suit has been filed in Marin Superior Court by Jose Gallina, 44 Martens Boulevard, San Rafael, in a March 19 traffic collision in San Rafael.

Gallina, represented by attorney Robert D. Marshall Jr., also of San Rafael, alleges Alex Kandis, San Francisco, was negligent in operating his northbound automobile on East Francisco Boulevard and the accident resulted.

Gallina charges he suffered mental and physical damages.

Worker Improving

Jack Silva, foreman for the city of Mill Valley, is recovering at Marin General Hospital from two fractures of the left leg suffered about a week ago when he was struck by a ditch digging machine. Silva, who lives at 16 Ryan Avenue, is expected to be in the hospital for several weeks, according to his wife.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

A severe burn injures the largest organ of the body. It also is an illness because the charred tissues create chemical changes involving electrolytes and proteins. When this balance is altered, the efficiency of many other organs of the body is disturbed. In addition, the victim may develop complications such as pneumonia, hepatitis, or stroke.

THE CARE OF these individuals presents problems that seldom are discussed. It is so time-consuming only the very poor and the very rich can afford it. Hospitalization may continue for months. Hours of daily care from nurses, physicians, and other attendants are required.

When a large area of the skin is involved, the person is helpless and must be cleaned, fed, and helped with all bodily functions. A tube is placed in his stomach and in the bladder and needles in the veins for intravenous feeding. He cannot see or hear if large bandages cover the eyes and ears.

THUS, HE MAY be isolated completely from the world. Any movement is painful because it stretches or rubs the burned part. Complications add to his misery. Coughing hurts and infections irritate the involved skin.

The charred skin requires meticulous attention. Surgeons beg people to donate skin to cover the large raw areas. These grafts seldom last more than three or four weeks but help pull the victim through the early and more critical period. The patient's own skin will be used to cover strategic areas such as the face, neck, and hands. These autoplastic grafts are permanent.

THE HOSPITAL MUST be equipped for this type of care. Special beds may be needed to turn the patient without producing pain or disturbing the burn or the skin graft. Many severe cases require a dozen or more blood transfusions. Few physicians have the patience and personality to limit their practice to burns. For this reason, large medical centers are opening facilities for treatment of these patients.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

BONE INFECTION

Mrs. B. writes: 1. What bacteria cause osteomyelitis? 2. Can any type of infection bring recurrences?

REPLY

1. Virtually every type of micro-organism is capable of causing bone infection. But staphylococci and streptococci account for 90 per cent of all cases.

2. Recurrences are always possible.

BRONCHIAL SECRETIONS

P. M. J. writes: A man of 62 coughs up a large amount of thick, gluey secretions from the lungs. Could this be cystic fibrosis?

REPLY

This is doubtful unless he has been bothered with a heavy secretion since infancy. Chronic bronchitis is a more likely cause, due to smoking, bronchiectasis, or emphysema.

ACTIVITY AFTER SURGERY

W. W. writes: Is it true that exercise is needed after an operation to prevent the development of phlebitis?

REPLY

Activity helps by improving circulation and preventing stagnation of blood. The exercises are mild—such as wiggling the toes and fingers or sitting on the side of the bed.

HYGIENIC PRECAUTIONS

M. B. writes: Is it safe to visit a home where a member of the household has hepatitis?

REPLY

Yes, provided those caring for the victim sterilize the dishes and linens and practice good hygiene.

Burglary Charge Hearings Slated

Preliminary hearing for Juan Jose Reimoneng, 19, of San Francisco, charged with burglary of a Novato service station, was scheduled yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Co-defendant John Edward Padilla, 21, San Francisco, is also scheduled for preliminary hearing at that time. The men were arrested following a 100-mile-per-hour chase Saturday on Highway 101 by police and sheriff's officers. They allegedly were seen taking eight tires from Smith's Flying A Service, 7351 Redwood Highway.

Hopes Riding On Moon Shot Set Next Week

PASADENA (AP)—Ranger 7 will carry more than cameras when it is launched at the moon sometime next week: On it will be riding the hopes and perhaps the futures of the men who made it.

After Ranger 6 hit the moon last February but failed for the fourth straight time to return close-up pictures of the lunar surface, scientists at its Jet Propulsion Laboratory birthplace came under severe criticism from the parent U.S. space agency and in Congress.

JPL operations since then have been overhauled and Ranger 7 has been subjected to minutely detailed tests.

50-50 CHANCE

Result: JPL chief William Pickering gives it a 50-50 chance, compared with the 1-in-4 chance given Ranger 6.

"We are more confident about Ranger 7—we give it one chance in two — because we have one more shot behind us and some changes have been made to improve the reliability of the craft," Pickering said in an exclusive interview.

"I believe the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is now convinced that this is a complex and difficult job, but that we will be able to get pictures of the moon from at least one of the next three shots."

LAST THIS YEAR

Whether Ranger 7 succeeds or not, Pickering said, there will be no more launchings this year due to other commitments at the Atlantic range.

"But we fully expect to fly two more Rangers early next year," he said. "Ranger 8 is already assembled and work has begun on Ranger 9."

All day today some 300 scientists and engineers here went through a full-dress simulation of the flight in the laboratory's new 14.6-million-dollar tracking center, which will control the spacecraft after launch.

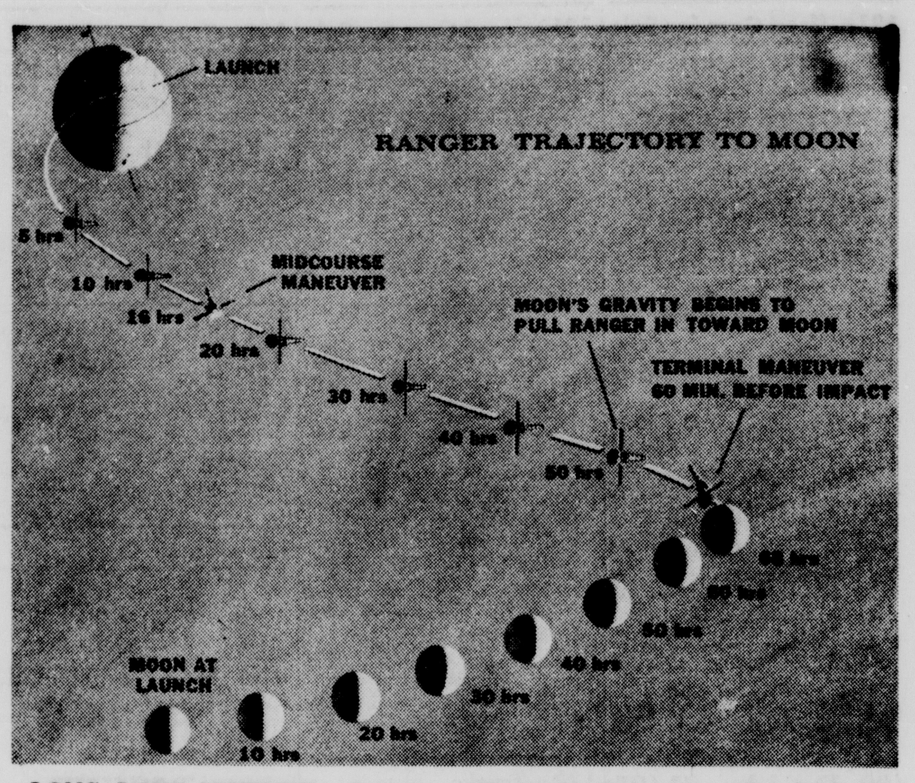
12-HOUR DRILL

Working with them in the 12-hour drill, as they did in a similar rehearsal Monday, were 500 technicians at tracking stations around the world plus another 100 at Cape Kennedy.

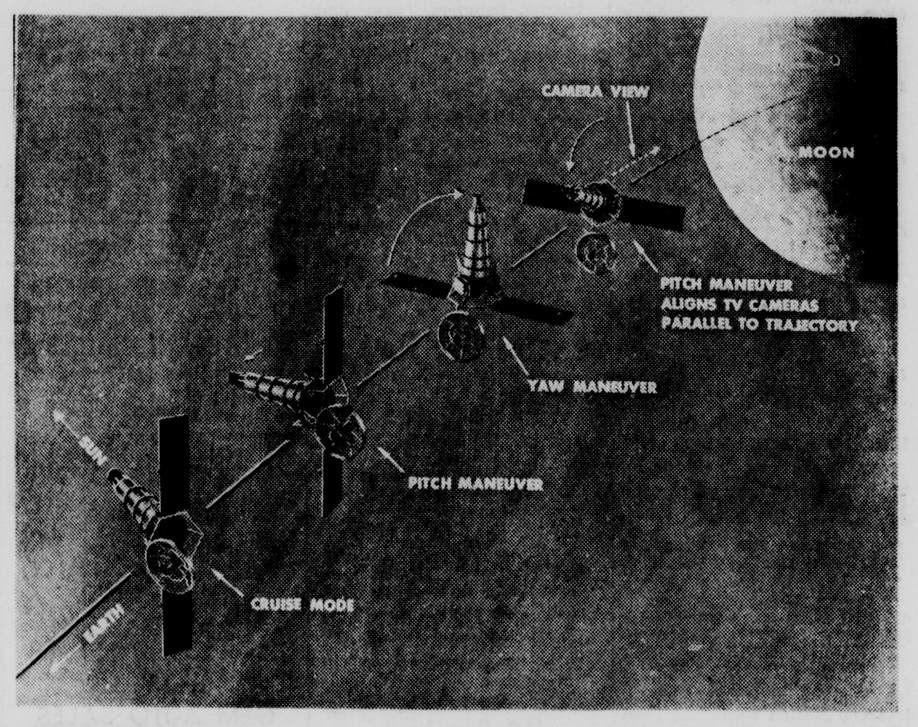
What will happen if, despite all precautions, Ranger 7 fails to send back pictures scientists need to select a site for manned Apollo moonship landings later in this decade?

That's anybody's guess, but NASA has ordered a new deputy director, retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Alvin R. Luedecke, to come here next month, reportedly as a condition for renewal next December of its contract with the laboratory.

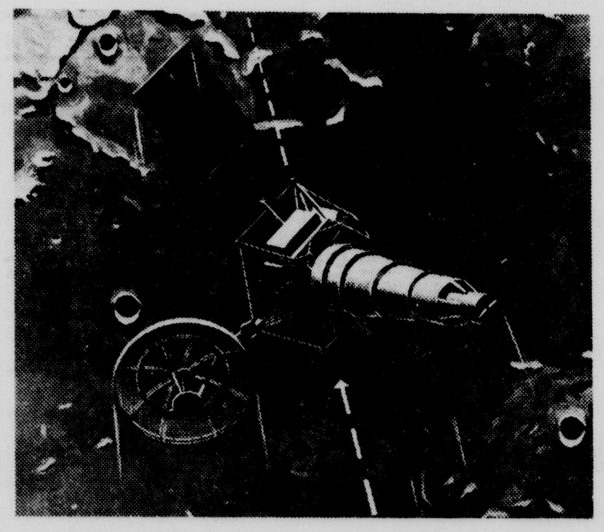
Industry sources here expect Luedecke to be ruthless if Ranger 7 fails.



LONG, LONG JOURNEY—Ranger 7, unmanned spacecraft designed by the Jet Propulsion Laboratories at California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, will be shot aloft from Cape Kennedy next week, not at the moon, but at a point where Luna will be 68 hours later. The Ranger's main task is to take photos and transmit them via radio, back to earth as the insect-like craft plunges onto the moon's surface. Crucial times after the launching will be the mid-course maneuver, 20 hours out, and the terminal maneuver one hour before the impact. Ranger 6 cameras failed to send back pictures, although it landed right on target.



SPACE TWIST—Ranger 7 will fly "sideways" to the moon during most of its 68-hour journey, so that the wing-shaped objects protruding from it catch full sunlight. The paddles bear thousands of silicon cells to convert sunlight to electricity, thus charging Ranger's batteries to power the cameras and radio equipment it needs to send back pictures of lunar surface. During the flight's final moments, on command from JPL scientists, the Ranger will pitch and yaw to aim the cameras directly along its moonward course; the telemetry "dish" antenna will also twist to stay aimed at the earth.



FINAL MOMENTS—Ranger 7, if all goes well on its journey to the moon next week, will plunge onto the lunar surface as pictured by an artist, with dish antenna busy transmitting pictures taken by a battery of cameras in the spacecraft's main section.

Moro Sworn In As Italy Premier

Only two changes appeared in the new government, which is the 26th since the fall of fascism in 1943. Like More's earlier regime, it has 16 ministers from his Christian Democrat party, six Socialists, three Democratic Socialists and one Republican.

No Complaint Due After Family Fight

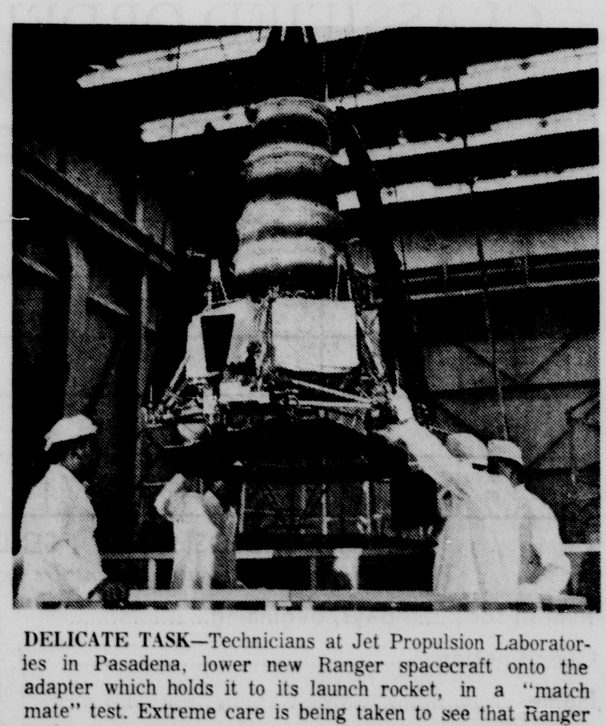
No complaint will be filed against John B. Hernandez, 27-year-old Richmond man arrested Saturday following a family fight in Forest Knolls, the district attorney's office said yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Bail of $1,239 was ordered exonerated by the court. Hernandez had been booked for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon by sheriff's deputies at 377 Montezuma Road, Forest Knolls. Unwillingness of relatives involved to sign a complaint was given as reason for failure to prosecute.

English Postmen Still Plan Strike

LONDON (UPI) — A last-minute effort to avert a nationwide mail strike set for midnight Saturday failed today when the postal union rejected a government peace plan.

A union spokesman said: "The union emergency committee has met to consider the government offer, and the strike is still on."



DELICATE TASK—Technicians at Jet Propulsion Laboratories in Pasadena, lower new Ranger spacecraft onto the adapter which holds it to its launch rocket, in a "match mate" test. Extreme care is being taken to see that Ranger 7, due to go on a voyage to the moon next week, does not fail in its chore of taking and sending back closeup pictures of the lunar surface, vital to the Apollo manned moonship program for selecting a landing site. Previous failures have put JPL on the spot as to whether its space exploration program will be continued by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Protests On School Plan Questioned

Marin Aid to Retarded Children has sent a letter to several residents on Indian Valley Road near Novato questioning their protest on proposed location of a classroom for mentally retarded in a home at 1854 Indian Valley Road.

The letter, signed by Irene St. John, vice president of MARC, said parents of retarded children "have waged a long and discouraging fight" for acceptance of their children in the community.

"We have seen our children housed in dim and chilly basements of schools, isolated from other children, forced to play on broken concrete with outmoded equipment," the letter said.

"Those of you on Indian Valley Road who protested the use of a residence for classrooms because of fear of our children's presence in your neighborhood are obviously not aware of the difference between the mentally retarded child and the psychotic, potentially homicidal, delinquent child. Mental retardation has nothing in common with mental derangement or mental illness."

Supervisors, after hearing protests from residents July 14 denied the application for the classroom asked by the county schools office. Denial was over the recommendation in favor of the classroom by the county planning commission.

Many who protested, cited fire hazard, sanitation, traffic and lack of water as reasons for denial. However, Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said it appeared to be fear of mentally retarded children that was really bothering neighbors. He calls the fears largely unfounded.

Supervisors voted unanimously to deny the permit.

Pay TV Will Get Feature Movies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — United Artists has agreed to supply Subscription Television Inc. (STV) with feature movies for the firm's new pay television operation here and in San Francisco.

Sylvester L. (Pat) Weaver, president of STV, said yesterday the agreement between his firm and United Artists was on an experimental and exploratory basis.

Officers To Gather

The Marin County Peace Officers Assn. will hold its annual barbecue at Keaton's Shack, Fetters Springs, Sonoma County, Aug. 22 at 6 p.m. Tickets may be obtained from Sgt. James Dukes of the California Highway Patrol or Sgt. David L. McIntosh of the Corte Madera police department.

A guidebook written just 40 years ago called Washington "a city without suburbs."

Constitution Parties Gather

HOUSTON (UPI)—With a show of patriotism and a pledge to "buy back the federal reserve system," the Constitution parties of the United States opened their joint convention today.

The parties (party leaders call them separate groups under one banner), prepared to debate a platform of sweeping changes in federal government operations.

The delegates will nominate candidates for president and vice president tomorrow from an abbreviated list of prospects.

Cubans Protest Death At Guantanamo Base

HAVANA (UPI)—Cuba sent a protest note to U.N. Secretary General Thant last night over the death of a Cuban sentry it says was shot by U.S. Marine guards Sunday.

The note rejected the U.S. version of the incident, which said that Marines fired a single shot over the heads of Cuban sentries on the boundary of the Guantanamo Naval Base in eastern Cuba. The United States said the Cubans first fired on the Marines.

UNITY PLEA — Sen. Barry Goldwater, after receiving noisy bi-partisan welcome from fellow senators today on his return to Washington as GOP presidential nominee, tells reporters he is sorry some Republicans have said they cannot support him. (AP Wirephoto)

Goldwater Gets Bipartisan Welcome On Senate Return

Nominee Says He's Sorry To See GOP Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater received a noisy, hand-clapping welcome from his Senate colleagues, Democrats as well as Republicans, as he returned to the chamber today for the first time since he captured the Republican presidential nomination.

Senators on both parties arose and loudly applauded as he entered a side door and went to his regularly assigned seat—immediately next to Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), who had withheld his endorsement of the GOP national ticket.

Welcoming speeches by Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, greeted Goldwater.

Dirksen hailed Goldwater as a "great public servant, a great citizen" to whom he was delighted to extend the hand of friendship.

Mansfield said it was "a source of pride" to the Senate whenever one of its members is "chosen as the candidate for the highest honor" in the land.

Goldwater, moved by the tribute, said that he would be remiss if he did not thank his colleagues "for the welcome back given me today."

"I treasure the friendships of the senators on the other side of the aisle," Goldwater said of the Democrats, just as he treasures those of fellow Republicans.

He reminded his colleagues

Poll Shows Sharp Goldwater Upswing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharp upswing of voter support in the South has boosted Sen. Barry Goldwater's popularity, but he still trails President Lyndon B. Johnson nationally by 64 per cent to 36, according to the latest Louis Harris poll.

Goldwater swept into a clear lead in the South, with the support of 55 per cent of those polled.

The poll, copyrighted by the Washington Post, showed that before the Republican National Convention, Johnson led nationally 72-22, with 6 per cent undecided.

The same voters, questioned after the convention, preferred Johnson 74-26 before the convention to 64-36 afterward.

Goldwater showed gains in all four sections of the country after the convention. The biggest surge, however, was in the South where he went from 39 per cent to 55 per cent, while Johnson dropped from 61 to 45.

President Johnson leads in the other three sections: in the East, 74-26; in the Midwest, 64-36; and in the West, 69-31.

Johnson's overall 64-36 per cent lead, the Harris poll said, was the widest enjoyed by any candidate for president in modern times at this stage.

LBJ Pledges Every Effort For Peaceful Race Solution

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson pledged today to do everything possible during current racial strife to bend passions "to peaceful obedience to law."

Speaking to an assembly of 264 of the nation's top business, industrial, communications and banking executives, Johnson also warned against permitting any political acts during the coming campaign to damage the health of the economy or interrupt steady expansion.

Johnson called the executives to a White House lunch to discuss problems facing the federal government—from civil rights to economic health. He will hold a similar meeting with top labor leaders at the White House tomorrow.

Johnson asked the executives to join in a campaign of persuasion to see that the new civil rights act is obeyed.

"To fail to observe this duty attacks the entire structure of ordered liberty on which the life of this nation depends," he said. "I ask you to use the influence and position and respect which you possess in such abundant measure to persuade others that the law of the land must be obeyed."

Johnson told the group: "I did not become president to preside over mounting violence and deepening disorder."

He said, "I fully intend to use all the resources I have to make sure that those who claim rights and those who deny them bend their passions to peaceful obedience to law."

The president, who recently has been deeply concerned by racial violence in Mississippi, Georgia and New York City, added, "I intend to work to ensure that every person enjoys the full constitutional rights and equal opportunity that are his birthright as an American citizen."

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh will fly to Tokyo Saturday to address approximately 200 legislators from Pacific nations at an Aug. 5 conference.

Father, Son Sought; Span Leap Feared

Earlier, Soldier Leaps To Death At Golden Gate

A suicide note, wallet and child's toys and clothing were found today in the locked auto of a man who was reported to have threatened to leap off the Golden Gate Bridge and take his 4-year-old with him.

A 1961 Chevrolet station wagon belonging to Leonard M. Jenkins, 44, of Bryte, Yolo County, was first noticed by California Highway Patrol officers parked in the Vista Point parking area two days ago.

NOTE FOUND

It was not until 5:35 a.m. today, after the highway patrol received notification from Sacramento that Jenkins had told his estranged wife, Jean, that he was going to jump off the bridge with his son, Harold, that officers forced open the locked car.

Inside they found a note typed on unruled yellow paper, saying that because of "marital difficulties and such I have decided to end it all." Jenkins' name was typed on the note.

CHILD'S CLOTHES

Two shirts and a pair of trousers which would fit a 4-year-old boy were found in the car, said highway patrol Officer Ivan Jump. Jenkins' wallet, containing identification papers showing he was a civilian employee at McLellan Air Force Base, was found in the glove compartment. It contained no money.

Patrolman Jump reserved judgment on whether Jenkins had actually leaped from the span because, he said, "suicides never lock their cars." Also he noted it might be significant that no money was left in the wallet.

A delay of more than nine hours in the investigation of the

Goldwater Asks To See Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater has asked the White House for an appointment with President Lyndon B. Johnson to discuss civil rights and the campaign ahead.

Goldwater's press secretary, Tony Smith, said today that an aide to the senator talked yesterday with a White House aide, seeking a meeting between the Arizona senator and the man he is challenging for the presidency.

"A contact has been made with the White House relative to an appointment," Smith said.

Wagner Plea Is Unheeded

NEW YORK (AP)—Negro rioting and looting and police gunfire erupted again during the night despite a broadcast by Mayor Robert F. Wagner for peace and order.

Police shot and wounded three Negroes and arrested 122 in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn in the fifth straight night of disorders in the city.

WINDOWS SMASHED

Police said about 200 store windows were smashed during the night in the section, raising the total to nearly 500 in the city.

The trouble broke out in Harlem Saturday night after a white police lieutenant fatally shot a 15-year-old Negro boy last Thursday. The lieutenant said the youth was coming at him with a knife.

The disorders have centered for the past two nights in the predominantly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant district.

LAW AND ORDER

Wagner went on radio and television and said continued disorders could set back Negro and civil rights programs for half a century.

"Law and order are the Negro's best friend—make no mistake about that," he said. "The opposite of law and order is mob rule, and that is the way of the Ku Klux Klan and the night riders and the lynch mobs."

Some 150 Negro leaders in a rare display of unity among their various factions demanded the immediate ouster of Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy.

Wagner, in his speech, expressed "complete confidence"

CLIFF-HANGER RESCUE VIA GARDEN HOSE ROPE

Mary Beth Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Ryan of 8 Carmel Court, got stuck part way up a 120-foot cliff where she had been playing east of her home at 10:45 a.m.

Mailman Bert Netter of 225 Olema Drive, Fairfax, was one of the first to see Mary Beth's plight. He got a garden hose from a neighbor's home and uncoiled it down the face of the cliff. This gave the girl something to hold onto until Marin Sheriff's Deputies Ernest Nielsen and William Wallace arrived and helped her climb to safety.

San Rafael Demands Rail Service Orders

San Rafael, through attorney Boris H. Lakusta, today asked the California Public Utilities Commission to order Northwestern Pacific Railroad to restore service in Marin County.

Lakusta filed a brief with the PUC, demanding that the commission issue an order on the railroad to reopen the Puerto Suello Tunnel. The brief said the work should begin within 30 days of the issuance of a favorable ruling by the United States Supreme Court, which now has the much-prolonged case.

The railroad, a subsidiary of Southern Pacific Co., has used every legal means to avoid or delay opening of the tunnel since it was destroyed by fire July 20, 1961.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, supported by the Federal District Court in San Francisco, ordered the tunnel opened and normal service to Southern Marin restored.

Lakusta, retained by San Rafael and other interested Marin cities and industries, said the railroad also was due to file a brief before the PUC today. The briefs were requested after a PUC hearing at the Civic Center June 12.

Lakusta said there will be no further arguments before the PUC. He expects that the commission, after studying the briefs, will issue a ruling similar to that requested in his brief.

Such a decision was evidenced by the comments of William Bennett, then commission chairman. Bennett called the hearing to find what, if anything, the railroad had done toward restoring service.

Penalty Phase Reveals Past Of King, Jones

By ROSS DAVIS

Tales of prison escape, molesting of a 13-year-old girl, and kidnaping of a cab driver gave indication this morning in the Donald G. Corbett Jr. slaying case that the first penalty phase trial in the history of Marin County will also be one fraught with drama and revelation.

The Marin Superior Court jury —the same that Tuesday found defendants Robert Lee Jones and John Lee King guilty of first degree murder—convened at 10 a.m. today to determine whether the killers shall die in the gas chamber or be sentenced to life in prison, a penalty which leaves them eligible for eventual parole.

DEFENSE MOTIONS

After futile motions by defense attorneys for separate penalty trials for their respective clients, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales opened with introduction of prison records of both defendants.

He said Jones was convicted Feb. 13, 1962, of armed robbery of a Las Vegas, Nev., pawnbroker and sentenced to five to 15 years in Nevada State Prison.

THREE MONTHS

Bales' first witness, Aldon Arigoni, head of the Nevada prison honor camp near Lake Tahoe, testified that Jones served two years at the main prison in Carson City, then was transferred to the camp.

Jones had been at the camp three months, he said, when he escaped Feb. 16 by padding his bunk with clothing including a

READS CONSTITUTION — Segregationist Lester Maddox, Atlanta, Ga. restaurant owner who has defied the civil rights act and refused to serve Negroes in his place of business, reads the U.S. Constitution yesterday while waiting ruling by a three-judge federal panel on his opposition to the new law. The ruling went against him, as well as a protest suit brought by the Heart of Atlanta Motel Corp. (AP Wirephoto)

Segregationists Will Appeal Rights Ruling

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Owners of a restaurant and a motel are preparing to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court the landmark decision by a three-judge federal court upholding constitutionality of the new Civil Rights Act.

"I think justice will prevail and we will be given a favorable verdict by the Supreme Court," said Lester Maddox, proprietor of the Pickrick Restaurant.

Moreton Rolleston Jr., head of the Heart of Atlanta Motel Corp., said he would abide by the order but would appeal immediately.

The men commented yesterday shortly after the judges issued injunctions against their establishments in the first two court tests of the new law.

The effective date of the injunctions was delayed until Aug. 11 to allow time for appeals.

Rolleston filed suit against the government to block enforcement of the law within two hours after it was signed on July 2 by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Maddox was sued by three Negroes he chased from his restaurant at gunpoint on July 3. The Negroes later were joined by the Justice Department.

Both suits questioned the constitutionality of the public accommodations sections of the law.

Basic arguments in each case hinged on whether Congress had constitutional authority to enact the law. The court disposed of this issue before ruling on the law's application.

The decisions were handed down by Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and District Judges Lewis R. Morgan and Frank A. Hooper.

They said that motels and restaurants offering to serve interstate travelers can be brought under interstate commerce regulations as the act directs, and therefore cannot discriminate against Negroes.

"It is clear that the definition includes the Pickrick," the court held. "This is the limit of the case. Congress had the power to go this far."

All three judges concurred in both injunctions.

In a special concurring opinion, Hooper said it appeared that the Pickrick came within the law since it offered to serve interstate travelers by virtue of its location and a sign on a major route.

However, Hooper added: "The majority opinion rules in effect that segregation in this particular restaurant affects commerce because of the fact that 'a substantial portion of the food which it serves has moved in commerce'."

In the motel decision, the court held there was no need to justify the outlawing of discrimination on the ground that the business is actually in the stream of commerce.

GOP ISSUE?

Rusk Bares Leak—Old Wet Kind

The terrace atop the State Department building, which overlooks much of downtown Washington, is not available to guests because it is under repair.

Apologizing at a formal dinner for Malaysia's visiting Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman, Rusk said the terrace had begun to leak on "those of us on the famous seventh floor," where he and his top aides have their offices.

"This is dangerous to say, I know," Rusk said. "It opens the way for our Republican friends to say that the Republicans built the State Department and it worked fine and then the Democrats got in and it began to leak."

Gov. Wallace Drops Role Of Favorite Son

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Gov. George Wallace, declining to play a "favorite son" role, last night released Alabama's delegates to the Democratic National Convention from supporting him for president.

The 38-member delegation voted unanimously to invite convention delegations from 13 other Southern and border states to meet Aug. 23, prior to the convention in Atlantic City, N.J., to map plans to fight for a platform favorable to Dixie.

Wallace's release came as no surprise at the organizational meeting of the delegation, but the governor cautioned the delegates to stick together and present a united front. "Alabama has helped awake the nation in the past few months and I think we should be united at the convention," he told them.

UNITY THEME

The unity theme was the basis used by James Kahalley of Mobile who suggested the pre-convention caucus of states in the old Confederacy. Kahalley was picked by Wallace for a convention committee appointment.

The delegates came close to a showdown split in their first session over the election of a permanent chairman, but Wallace forces pushed Bessemer Mayor Jess Lanier into the job after stopping a bid by National Democratic Committeeman Eugene (Bull) Connor, former Birmingham police chief.

In his brief talk before the delegation, Wallace said his presidential campaign "sent a message that will be heeded by most national parties. I have accomplished my mission."

The threatened split in the delegation came shortly before Wallace appeared at the meeting.

FORCED OUT

Wallace supporters forced Connor out of the picture after suffering a setback when the delegates voted 20-16 to hold the chairman election by secret ballot. The vote was reconsidered and Connor asked that he not be nominated when it became apparent the Wallace forces had gained the upper hand.

"To keep harmony in this delegation, I yield to the governor and his friends," Connor said.

The governor made no bid to personally lead the delegation to Atlantic City as a member. Earlier, it had been rumored that Wallace would step into a vacancy created by temporary active military duty for State Sen. Neal Metcalf of Geneva.

Political observers were predicting that Wallace would now attend the convention as a spectator, and would perhaps make an appearance before the platform committee.

$100,000 Suit Against Ara

CHICAGO (AP) — A $100,000 civil suit was filed yesterday against Ara Parseghian, Notre Dame football coach, by the mother of a boy injured in an auto accident.

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court in behalf of Mrs. Lois Hudson of Evanston, whose auto was involved in a collision with Parseghian's car in Evanston, Dec.11.

She charged that Parseghian was guilty of negligence and that her son, Scott, 9, was permanently injured in the crash.

Murray Quitting Dance Business

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Murray is stepping out of the dance studio business he started in the 1930s when he taught residents of Minneapolis to circle and say "oi" to the tune of the Lambeth Walk.

He said yesterday two franchises have purchased control of the cross-country chain, Arthur Murray Inc., for about 1 million dollars. The new owners said they would retain Murray's name, though he said he wishes they wouldn't. Mrs. Murray will continue as an adviser.

Murray, 69, said he plans to produce dramatic television shows.

Murray said he sold out his ownership interests in 1948 for about 2 million dollars. He has remained in a role of diminishing activity since.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union says it isn't shipping American wheat to Cuba.

Capt. Artur H. Fertig, skipper of the Sister Katingo, reported a few days ago that Russian stevedores in the port of Novorossisk told him that American grain was being shipped from the Soviet Union to Cuba.

Viet General's Threats Toned Down A Little

SAIGON, Vietnam (UPI) — The South Vietnamese defense ministry today issued a cautiously worded repudiation of its air force commander's call for an attack on Communist North Vietnam.

But it did not deny his account of commando raids.

The ministry did not mention the name of Air Commodore Nguyen Cao Ky, who described the raids yesterday.

"It seems that a general has told some reporters that the Vietnamese Air Force is now able to attack against communist military forces in North Vietnam and said that in order to put an end to communist aggression it is necessary to resort to military measures right on the enemy's territory," the ministry said.

"The defense ministry wants to clarify that . . . personal opinions of a military commander (are not) policy of the defense ministry."

Viet Reds Repeat Bloody Ambush

SAIGON, Vietnam (AP)—A powerful Communist unit pounced on a South Vietnamese mechanized relief force late yesterday, inflicting 54 casualties and destroying an armored vehicle with recoilless cannon.

The clash, about 25 miles northwest of Saigon, was the latest in a bloody series of one-a-day attacks on big government units.

Vietnamese officers estimated however, that their force killed 60 of the enemy. They captured one Communist gun, a 57-MM recoilless cannon.

Seventeen government troops were killed, 34 were wounded and three were missing. Several U.S. advisers were involved, but all were reported uninjured.

The fight began along a road as several hundred troops and about 25 amphibious personnel carriers were rushing from the Trung Lap ranger post to the defense of a beleaguered outpost.

The government force evidently was not caught by surprise, and was fighting as soon as first shots rang out.

suicide was caused by the original teletype message from Sacramento at 8 p.m. yesterday being missed in the highway patrol's office at the bridge. As a result the investigation did not begin until 5:35 a.m. today, when the CHP office at the bridge asked Sacramento why there had been no answer to a previous request to trace the car by its license number.

The Coast Guard said that it had notified its boats to be on the lookout for the bodies, but did not plan to launch a search.

A positive suicide was recorded on the bridge yesterday, and a 24-year-old San Francisco woman was taken to San Francisco general hospital for observation after she attempted to sneak onto the bridge last night.

Pfc. Drake E. Rodgers Jr., 20, stationed at the Two Rock army camp near Petaluma, was driving south on the Golden Gate Bridge at 8:30 a.m. yesterday when he halted his car 100 yards south of midspan during the commuter rush hour.

Rodgers, who resided in Petaluma with his wife, raised the hood on his car as if it had engine trouble. Then, according to witnesses, he walked across the pedestrian sidewalk and jumped over the railing.

Lucille Clare Wanko was stopped by Officer Jump, who saw her trying to sneak around the side of the roundhouse at 11:35 p.m. She had taken a taxi to the toll lines and got out to jump off the bridge, Officer Jump said.

Father Arrested For Beating Son

Charles Francis Campbell Jr., 38, of 802 Rosal Way, Santa Venetia, was arrested by Marin sheriff's deputies last night, for allegedly beating his 8-year-old son, Lance Frank Campbell.

Campbell's wife called deputies to the home at 11:45 p.m. The boy told them his father had beaten him and tried to choke him after chasing him around the house. Deputies said Campbell suffered a bloody nose when he fell off a bed during the struggle.

Rattlesnake Killed At Marinwood Home

Deputy Sheriff Martin Conlin shot and killed a rattlesnake behind a home in Marinwood about 11 a.m. yesterday.

"It was about two and one-half feet long and had five rattles and a button," said Conlin. The rattler had been found by children about 50 yards behind the home of Mrs. Evelyn Petray at 465 Peachstone Drive.

MILL VALLEY JOB

Teen-Agers Clean Up City Parks, Streets

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Ten young "trail men" are working this week with brush axes, pruning knives, mattocks and picks to clear a Mill Valley road — Monte Vista Avenue — which had almost returned to a deer trail.

The job is part of the city's second summer work program for high school age boys.

Besides clearing trails and roads, the youths are cleaning out creek beds in parks, the parks themselves, and removing brush from areas considered to be fire hazards.

Brush is being cleared from a primitive unpaved section of Monte Vista between Rose and Cascade Avenues to enable fire equipment to use the road. Elaine Avenue, overgrown with trees and brush, has been foraged, too, to permit firemen to get to one end of West Blithedale Avenue without having to make a long trip via Summit Avenue during the time work is being done on the sewer along West Blithedale.

The program began June 22, ends Aug. 28. Joseph F. Penders, park superintendent, in overall charge, said: "Most of the boys are ambitious and cooperate with the supervisors. Most of them are working for money either to use on vacation or to pay for part of their schooling."

"It's good experience for the kids, some having never worked before," said Ray Cless, 19, one of the two supervisors. Cless, a junior at University of San Francisco, added that the boys have cleared a lot of poison oak. "That's our main injury."

He said recommendations are made to the state department of employment after the two-week sessions, telling how good a worker a boy is, which is helpful to him in getting another job later. All boys must first apply to the department of employment office in San Rafael.

Randy Wilkes, a student at University of California, is the other supervisor.

Fifty boys are in the program, for which the city council budgeted $3,284. Each works 8 a.m. to noon five days a week and is paid $1 an hour. The boys are divided into two groups with a supervisor over each. The supervisor is paid $2 an hour and puts in an eight-hour day, working in the afternoon with the park department.

Penders collects the boys at the City Hall in the morning and they ride to their work in the back of a flat-bed truck.

Work began in Cascade Park, said Penders, cleaning trails and making repairs, then moved to Three Wells Trail and Old Mill and Boyle parks. Other work has been done on Scott Highland Park and it is expected that work will be done on other street clearing as well as in Sycamore and Molino Parks.

Meeting Slated On Proposed Unification

The Marin County Committee of School District Organization today announced it will adopt a final recommendation for the proposed unification of the San Rafael and Dixie Elementary school districts at a meeting of the augmented committee at San Rafael High School auditorium Aug. 6 at 8 p.m.

The augmented committee includes members of the San Rafael Board of Education and the Dixie School District Board.

Arigoni said guards found that another inmate fled with Jones. They stole a guard's jeep.

It was later found abandoned in Reno, Nev., Arigoni added. Arigoni said the second escapee, Earl Clements was later caught.

Record for King, under the alias of John Louis Farnsworth, shows he was convicted in April of 1955 of "indecent liberties" and sentenced to Illinois State Prison for one to three years.

Bales said King was accused of molesting a girl, believed to be 13 years old, in Belleville, Ill. He said the girl was a relative. King, asked by newsmen which was his true name declined to say. He added he discarded the Farnsworth name "many years ago" and does not prefer now to be associated with it.

He said he "honestly" doesn't know if his father's name was Farnsworth, and he has used the name King for a long time.

Second prosecution witness was Charles Frederick of San Francisco, Yellow Cab driver, who named King as the man who on March 14 hailed his cab in San Francisco and had him drive to Stinson Beach in Marin County.

Frederick said King then stuck a gun, which he said was similar to the .380 automatic pistol already introduced into evidence, against the side of his nose and robbed him of $53, a wristwatch and a ring.

The cab driver said he was then forced into the cab's trunk, and King drove the cab back to San Francisco before returning to Marin County and abandoning the vehicle.

Corbett was killed in his Sausalito apartment March 27.

Woman Patron Of Bar Fined For Mischief

An Oakland nurse, who broke the plate glass door at Gateway Inn in Sausalito a week ago, paid $29 fine today in Marin Municipal Court.

Officer Eugene J. Coady of Sausalito police said Miss Mattick apparently became angry because she was ordered out of the Gateway about 2 a.m. while she was trying to make a telephone call.

Teamsters Will Vote On Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Teamsters union the California Processors and Growers, Inc., reached tentative agreement today on a new contract, easing the threat of a strike affecting 50,000 cannery workers.

Mike Elorduy, secretary of the Teamsters' state council of cannery unions, said union negotiators were recommending approval of the three-year pact. Members will vote on it next week.

Details of the agreement were not released pending membership action, but it was said to contain innovations in the field of fringe benefits.

Mountain Lion Spotted At Taylor State Park

A woman who would not give her name called the Marin County Sheriff's Department today to report that she saw a mountain lion last night near Tocaloma Bridge west of Samuel P. Taylor State Park.

Reports of lions are infrequent in Marin these days, but one was reportedly seen in the park last summer.

HARLEM

in Murphy, a former beat patrolman who obtained a law degree before advancing to his $35,000 a year post.

In Washington, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, a Harlem Negro Democrat, said the violence represented "the built-in, continuing resentment of the black people of the black ghetto of New York" against police policies.

He said the violence could be "ended before the sun goes down" if Wagner would: set up a non-police board to review charges of police brutality; assign a Negro police captain to the troubled Harlem precinct; suspend Lt. James R. Gilligan, who shot the Negro youth; expand the jurisdiction of grand juries to include "misuse of police authority," and stop assigning rookie policemen to Harlem.

Negro Harlem has a population of about 300,000.

Police headquarters gave these figures on the five days of disorders:

Bedford-Stuyvesant—no dead, 16 injured (six civilians, 10 policemen), 227 arrested, 371 property damage incidents.

Harlem, however, was quiet—even quieter than on a normal summer Wednesday night, police said.

There were no riot arrests. No police shots were fired. No streets were sealed off in the nation's largest Negro community, where violence had flared for four nights in a row following the fatal shooting of a 15-year-old Negro boy by a white police lieutenant.

Seventy-six Negroes were arrested last night and early today in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section. Charges included felonious assault, looting from stores whose windows were smashed, and disorderly conduct.

Wagner later told newsmen that there is "some evidence" of Communist instigation of the racial rioting.

Several Negro leaders in Harlem have said that Communist influence—if it existed at all—has been minor.

Novato's New Fire Alarm System Due

Novato's new fire alarm system should be in operation by Sept. 1, Charles Onorato, who is in charge of the system, reported last night to the Novato Fire District board.

The alarm boxes have been shipped and installation will start on Aug. 3, Onorato reported.

County Jail's Inmates Quickly Put Out Blaze

A small fire broke out inside the day room of the Marin County Jail at 10:27 p.m. yesterday but flames were doused by inmates before causing any damage.

Jailer David Estes said one of the inmates probably tossed a lighted cigarette or a match on the mop.

Grand Jury Meets

The Marin County Grand Jury met last night, but took no action, according to Foreman Joseph Warren Crane. He said last night's session consisted only of routine committee reports. There was to be another committee meeting this afternoon, but Crane said there would be little to come out of this, also.

OBITUARIES

Agnes J. Green, 75, Rites Held

Private Requiem Mass for Agnes J. Green, 75, former Marin County recorder who died in a Terra Linda convalescent home Tuesday after a short illness, was celebrated at St. Isabella's Church in Terra Linda.

Miss Green went to work in the recorder's office in March 1908. She was appointed recorder in October, 1949, to fill the unexpired term of Frank J. Burrows who was killed in an automobile accident.

She chose not to run for election to the position in 1950 and was succeeded by Noel T. Giacomini, whom she served as chief deputy recorder for several months before retiring in May, 1951.

A native of San Francisco, she had lived in Marin County for 63 years. Her home was at 205 Laurel Place, San Rafael, until she moved to Nazareth House in Terra Linda nearly three years ago.

She was a member of St. Raphael's Parish and the Marin County Employees' Assn.

Surviving is a brother, Norman H. Green of San Rafael.

that he had withdrawn his bid for reelection to the Senate from Arizona, and said he will now be forced to "work much harder" to remain in politics.

Both Republicans and Democrats filed by to shake Goldwater's hand.

He even received a handshake or pat on the back from some Republicans who have indicated they may not support him.

These included New York's two GOP senators, Javits and Kenneth B. Keating.

Goldwater, speaking with newsmen before he went to the Senate chamber, said he was sorry that some Republicans had said they could not support him at this time.

"That's their own choice," he said.

JOHN KENNEDY

John M. Kennedy of San Francisco, longtime civic leader and printer, died in a Marin County hospital yesterday after a long cancer illness. He was 75.

Survivors include two sons, John M. Kennedy Jr. of Mill Valley and Richard T. Kennedy of Greenbrae.

For 15 years, Kennedy and his wife, Hazel, who also survive him, had been spending two months each year in Ross at a summer home.

He was a native of San Francisco. In his youth he played semi-professional baseball. He attended Sacred Heart College until the San Francisco earthquake in 1906. The earthquake killed his father, and Kennedy had to go to work at the age of 17. He became a bookkeeper in the Bosch Printing Co.

In 1920, with the aid of earnings from baseball, he purchased control of the firm and changed its name to Kennedy-ten-Bosch Co. He was president for 44 years. He also headed Lithographic Producers, Inc.

He had served on the San Francisco Civil Service Commission, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce board of directors, and was once president of Franklin Hospital. He was a member of the Bohemian Club, the Olympic Club and San Francisco Golf Club.

Other survivors, all residents of San Francisco, are a daughter, Mrs. Jeanne Kennedy Longley; a brother, Tom Kennedy; three sisters, Sister Mary Adrienne of Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet, Mrs. Rose Brunn and Mrs. Mary Flynn, and seven grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Dominic's Church, San Francisco. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Carew and English Mortuary, San Francisco.

The family prefers contributions to the American Cancer Society.

FREE UNTIL OCTOBER

Dr. Sam Sheppard and his bride of five days, the former Ariane Tebbenjohanns, leave the courthouse in Akron, Ohio, after a three-judge panel of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday upheld his $10,000 bond—and his freedom—until the court could decide if last week's U. S. District Court order releasing him from prison should stand. It will be at least October before the appellate court sits again. Dr. Sheppard had been serving a life sentence for the 1954 bludgeon slaying of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, which he has stoutly maintained was committed by "a bushy haired" intruder. Last week, a federal judge ruled he had not received a fair trial. Today, his attorney, F. Lee Bailey, held that, "I don't think this case will ever be retried." (AP Wirephoto)

County Commission Studies Handicapped Recreation

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission agreed yesterday that a pilot program should be developed to provide recreation for handicapped persons.

The Marin Council for Crippled Children and Adults has offered to provide the staff, reported Recreation Director Kelvin J. Nelson.

Commissioners said they wanted more details of the proposed program and authorized Nelson to work with the San Rafael Park and Recreation Commission to develop it.

Joseph D. Rodota, San Rafael recreation director, said the proposed program "is in the exploratory stage." The recreation center would be available but there might have to be alterations such as installing ramps or handrails for the handicapped, but that possibly some local organization could undertake the job as a service project. He said he would like to see the city and the county cooperate on the project.

"What is the role of the county?" asked commission Chairman Gibbs Lawson.

"The same as with the senior citizens, setting up a pilot program," Nelson said.

According to a survey by the commission, there are at least 329 handicapped persons in Marin who could participate in a recreation program. The survey listed 175 mentally retarded children and 77 adults, and 74 physically handicapped children and 47 adults.

The commission also reviewed plans for the first phase of development of Paradise Beach Park on the Tiburon Peninsula, including grading, paving, irrigation and planting.

Commissioners agreed to ask the supervisors to restore funds for rest rooms at the park which were cut during budget sessions. Lawson said it would be more economical to install the rest rooms at the beginning phase because it will disrupt the turf and irrigation system if they are installed later.

Nelson said he hopes to have the park project out for bid next month and have work start early in September.

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission also:

1. Toured the Muir Beach Overlook site, but postponed discussion on the area at the meeting because members returned late from the trip.

2. Decided to seek a system whereby the commission would be notified when county surplus land was available so it could be checked for possible recreation use.

OAS Ministers Seek Compromise On Cuba Sanction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Foreign ministers of the Organization of American States (OAS), including Secretary of State Dean Rusk, conferred privately in small groups today in a search for compromise sanctions against Cuba.

But Argentine Foreign Minister Miguel Zavala Ortiz told the third formal session of the conference later that even though Cuba was guilty of aggression against Venezuela any OAS sanctions would be just another form of intervention.

Venezuelan Ambassador Enrique Tejera-Paris criticized Zavala Ortiz's statements that poverty and underdevelopment were greater disruptive forces than Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Woman, Son, 8, Rest After Rescue

EUREKA (AP)—In good condition, with no serious injuries, a Sacramento woman and her 8-year-old son rested here today after having been rescued in the rugged hill country of Humboldt County.

Mrs. Esther Louise Allmendinger, 50, was treated at a hospital for exposure, cuts and bruises after she and the boy, Leif, were brought by helicopter and a ground party from a wooded ridge 15 miles east of Orick.

Fledgling City's Mayor Uses Pipe In Lieu Of Gavel

Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge banged down his pipe on a desk and the Tiburon City Council and Planning Commission got under way with their discussion last night.

"The only reason I smoke a pipe is so I'll have a gavel," said Strawbridge.

Since the city was incorporated last month, the mayor has raised his usually quiet voice to gain order or tapped pencils on the temporary city hall desk at Del Mar School.

One night he turned up with a miniature toy gavel with a chic yellow head, which he said he'd found in his front yard.

Amid rumors that the City of Belvedere was going to present its sister city with a gavel, councilmen ignored the need in the interest of economy.

GOP Members Stall Vote On Appalachia Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Republicans, accusing the administration of "bulldozing" tactics, today delayed final committee approval for at least a day on President Lyndon B. Johnson's plan for economic revitalization of Appalachia.

Earlier, a public works subcommittee that has been holding hearings on the one-billion-dollar measure approved the legislation. But GOP members demanded that the bill be read word by word as the Public Works Committee began its consideration.

"We were shut off in subcommittee so we're insisting on a complete reading of the bill," Rep. William C. Cramer (R-Fla.) told reporters after the closed session. "It's the only way we can offer amendments."

Cramer said all amendments offered so far were "summarily" rejected by the Democratic majority.

"It's so obvious that orders have come down to force the bill out and bulldoze it through Congress regardless of what it contains," Cramer charged.

Republicans have complained that hearings have not been held on the revamped measure.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Night's Dream' Is Merry Indeed

By ELLEN DIETSCHY

'Twas a merry midsummer's night indeed for those who attended last night's first performance of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" of the Marin Shakespeare Festival.

A totally successful performance was presented at the Marin Art and Garden Center. The play can be expected to command much larger audiences than the near-200 persons who shared the romance and comedy of the dream.

Laurels must go to Derek Beard for his outstanding portrayal of Puck, the spritely servant of Oberon, King of the Fairies.

The young lovers, enchanted by Puck on orders of Oberon, left no doubt that "the course of true love never did run smooth."

Victims of Puck's error in following his master's orders were Nancy McGettigan as Helena, Roger Lane as Demetrius, Diane Houser as Hermia, and David Dukes as Lysander. Each gave a delightful performance.

David McCauley will not be remembered as Snug, an Athenian workman, as his role was listed by Shakespeare, but as the lion in his fellow-workers' comical presentation of a tragedy in the court of the Duke of Athens on the Duke's wedding night. McCauley's performance was exceptionally delightful.

Incidental music, composed by Richard Cumming, added the finish to the memorable performance. Costuming was royally done and the lighting was well rehearsed and executed.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream," "The Merry Wives of Windsor" and "Taming of the Shrew" will be performed in repertory Wednesday through Saturday nights through Sept. 5 at the Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Purse Is Stolen

Mrs. John E. Crain of 306 Ferndale Avenue, Mill Valley,& told police at 1:11 p.m. yesterday that her daughter Cathleen's purse was stolen while she was at Tamalpais High School. It contained a driver's license, a $20 check payable to Miss Crain, and a house key.

State Agents Firing Truce Announced

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The State Department of Water Resources today announced that it would permit the resignations "with prejudice" of two state land agents who were fired last month for alleged speculating in real estate near the site of Oroville Dam.

In return, the two men—Gerold N. De Roca, 30, and Robert C. Johnson, 31—agreed to end their legal battle before the state personnel board to get their jobs back.

Walter Taylor, attorney for the two, said the combined actions amounted to this: The Water Resources Department dropped its charges against the men, allowing them to resign, but said it did not want them working for it again.

Citizen's Arrest

Mrs. Hazel Hanna Doyharcabal, 41, of 114 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, placed her husband, Paul, 39, a cook, under citizen's arrest at 12:40 a.m. today on charges of assault and battery. She told police her husband struck her with his fist, causing a slight bruise and scratches on her left arm.

Air Force Comes To Rescue Of Charnow

The United States Air Force will help Marin's Mr. Senior Citizen, Manny Charnow of San Rafael, celebrate his 80th birthday on Aug. 21.

Lt. Col. N. H. Traverso, director of information at Hamilton Air Force Base, wrote Charnow yesterday saying that he and his guests, up to 350 of them, are welcome to tour the base and have lunch at the Non-Commissioned Officers Club at a nominal fee.

The invitation solves a problem that has been plaguing Charnow and the Marin Senior Citizens for some time. Charnow was hoping for a repeat of the successful birthday party at the Marin Rod and Gun Club at Point San Quentin, but club officers several weeys ago turned the request down.

The Air Force will furnish three buses for transportation of the seniors. The luncheon menu will include shrimp creole and rice, fried chicken, whipped potatos, peas, tossed salad, and buttered rolls.

Barbecue Set By Hub Legion

The barbecue, open to the public, will start at 5 p.m. "Reservations are not necessary," said Helen H. Parent, publicity chairman. "Come as you are and bring your own choice meat."

Chefs Chester Smith and Ralph Lewis will prepare the guests' meat, and the Legion post will furnish salad, rolls, butter, coffee, and beer.

De Gaulle Favors 4-Power Meeting On Vietnam War

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle proposed today a four-power parley for the settlement of the Vietnamese conflict and the future status of the whole Indochinese Peninsula.

Speaking to his semi-annual news conference in Elysee Palace, the President said the big nations with a direct responsibility for the fate of Vietnam should meet to settle the nation's difficulties.

He said these nations were the United States, Red China, the Soviet Union and France.

De Gaulle said they should agree on peace conditions for Vietnam, then join in a massive reconstruction program for the states of former Indo-China.

Speaking about Indochina, President de Gaulle declared that "things have changed" and the United States no longer directly or indirectly runs the affairs of the Western world and that the grip of the Soviet Union on the Communist world is weakening.

Concerning Indochina, which France lost a decade ago, the president said a military solution in Vietnam is impossible, and that the big powers should guarantee peace in the area.

This implied a joint guarantee of neutrality for the two Vietnams Cambodia and Laos. It simply reiterated a policy De Gaulle first enunciated last August.

The president said that France only wants peace in the area, "and the sooner the better."

The president said the United States obviously could carry the war to North Vietnam if it wished, but it would be difficult for Washington to assume responsibility for the danger of an enormous generalized conflict.

De Gaulle asserted that the South Vietnamese population seems less and less willing to support a cause which seems to them that of a foreign power, regardless of the people's opinion of communism.

De Gaulle noted that former President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Vietnam had placed himself "in Washington's orbit," only to see his policies become more unpopular. Finally, the United States began to mistrust Diem, De Gaulle said, and added that Diem had been overthrown and slain, and that still another coup d'etat erupted in Saigon later.

The president also declared that the post-war era of U.S. dominance in the West has ended.

At a news conference Jan. 31, de Gaulle called for neutralization of Southeast Asia, including Vietnam, and declared that diplomatic relations with Red China were necessary to bring it about.

He spoke just after France had extended diplomatic recognition to Communist China. He did not then suggest a four-power meeting such as he proposed today.

Federal Bureau Vetoes Rat Island Sale Plans

The Bureau of Land Management of the Department of Interior has notified Marin County that it plans to deny the companies' petition that the island be made available for public sale.

Draper Companies has a month to protest the proposed decision to classify the island as a recreational area for public use.

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday said it would reaffirm its stand that the island, comprising .08 of an acre, should be county-owned rather than privately owned.

Kenneth Mak, Bureau of Land Management representative, said the bureau's tentative decision was based on the suitability of the island for recreation.

County supervisors and the Draper Companies agreed in March that Draper would buy the land, but only for limited use. Under the agreement, the land would automatically revert to the county if Draper tried to develop it.

"An intention to make no use of the land by the applicant is an indication there is no compelling reason to disperse of the land through public sale," Mak commented. "The only significant change likely would be the exclusion of the public."

Pathet Lao Retake Neutralists' Hill

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Communist forces reoccupied Phou Koutt Hill last night, routing neutralist troops from the strategic point 20 miles west of the Plaine des Jarres.

A neutralist spokesman said the Pathet Lao retook three peaks of the 4,200-foot hill, but neutralist forces which captured it Tuesday still held positions at the foot.

Tiburon Debates Hiring Of Planner

By ELLEN BRY

Eight spectators last night watched nine Tiburon city officials informally agree to hire a consulting firm soon for aid in city planning.

A firm commitment on what the planning commission recommends for planning advisers is scheduled in its report to the council on Aug. 10.

Stephen H. Nash, planning commission chairman, informally proposed that the commission aim for a September deadline in hiring consultants to advise the commission, research items which come before it, and possibly begin work on updating the master plan.

The firm will be paid from the up to $30,000 which the council agreed to borrow from the Tiburon National Bank at 3¼ per cent interest, paid only on the amount actually drawn.

The decision came at a brief council session before the joint council-commission meeting. After hearing that Crocker-Citizens National Bank yesterday had dropped its previous 3½ per cent offer to 3 per cent, councilmen and City Treasurer Gordon W. Russell, who have negotiated for weeks with banks, agreed to take the firm Tiburon National offer.

City officials indicated that at least five planning consultant firms were interested in serving the city. Interim City Mgr. Warren Schmid was directed to begin screening of applicants.

The commission is expected in its Aug. 10 report to recommend how much the city should spend on planning. The city now has a contract with Marin County to provide planning research and advice for approximately $16,320 yearly. The contract expires Aug. 15, when the council must decide whether to continue all county planning services, only a portion of them, or set a future cut-off date.

"Let's shop around for the best possible help we can afford," said Planning Commissioner Erik Rettig.

"If it means up to $20,000 a year and another nickel on the tax rate, all right," said Councilman Fred C. Hannahs, indicating he might favor holding down other city budget categories to spend more on planning.

"This is a unique community, it may cost a little more to keep it unique," said Planning Commissioner Mrs. William B. Newman.

Councilmen and commissioners generally agreed that the city soon should have its own planning consultant or department but differed on their interpretations of "soon."

There is "intangible good" in continuing with the county for some time "because they have more in their memory boxes" about Tiburon problems, said Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood.

But commission chairman Nash noted that there had been hints from the county that there would be barely enough time available for work on Tiburon planning because of staff shortages.

"The main reason for incorporating was planning," said Councilman Leo Souza, urging that the city get its own consultant.

"The base drive in incorporation was to get superior planning. You can see things going up now that shouldn't be built," agreed Hannahs.

The council-commission dilemma on how soon is soon was reflected in the audience. Fred Mantegani, Tiburon businessman, on hearing city officials say they would continue for a time with country planning advisers, objected: "The number one thing we sold them on was self-government" during incorporation proceedings. "Sitting here listening to this, it seems like you're kind of drifting away from it."

But Tiburon architect Nick D. Ferzacca urged the city to stay with county advisers who have background in Tiburon matters.

To gain public interest in planning, councilmen left to the commission whether it needs what councilman Ellinwood called a "short-term, intensive citizens committee . . . to identify the problems of planning."

The eight spectators left by 10 p.m. Officials talked about the problem until 10:50 p.m.

Officials agreed that a public hearing on Aug. 20 with L. H. McVicar, Fremont director of community recreation, as main speaker might spark community interest. Mrs. Newman reported that McVicar was the "catalyst" for much new thinking when he spoke to the county parks and recreation commission.

Some citizens arose, councilmen said, from Monday night's planning commission decision to allow a change of use from self-service laundry to snack bar for the small shop at Juanita Lane and Tiburon Boulevard.

The action came unannounced at what had been billed as a commission work-study session. Miss Ellinwood said she had received two telephone calls about the decision. Councilmen questioned the right procedure, whether they might review the decision, and whether parking would be adequate.

The questions were turned over to the city attorney and city administrator to discuss procedures and law.

All councilmen and planning commissioners were present except commissioner Peter Macgowan.

The planning commission will meet in special session at 8 p.m. Monday at Del Mar School to discuss a commission budget and draw up the general planning policy statement requested by the council.

The meeting was called this morning by commission chairman Nash.

Five Missing After British Guiana Clash

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (UPI)—East Indians and Negroes clashed again yesterday in a battle in a Demarara River settlement, and five men were reported missing.

Fourteen homes were burned and a truck was damaged by a land mine, injuring several persons.

Water District Approves Fish Trap At Nicasio Dam

Marin Municipal Water District board members yesterday approved specifications for a fish trap on Halleck Creek in Nicasio.

Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger said construction of the fish trap was part of an agreement with state fish and game officials for the Nicasio Dam project. Newborn fish caught in the trap will be hauled downstream, Seeger said. Bids are to be opened Aug. 12.

The Marin Municipal Water District Board also:

1. Approved specifications for painting the Marin Professional Center water tank and for the annual supply of water meters, with bids to be opened on Aug. 12.

2. Approved purchase of control equipment for waste water recovery tank at San Geronimo from the Square D Co. of San Francisco for $554.

3. Approved purchase of map racks for $272.48 and installation of security fencing around the Marin City tank for $916.

4. Approved a fire line extension agreement with the City of Fairfax for 500 feet of 8-inch pipe on Bothin Road.

Tiburon Earth Slide Attacked From 2 Sides

The earth slide on Mar West Street in Tiburon is being attacked from two sides.

As county-financed contractors work to build a new cut-off around the slide to Tiburon Boulevard, the land owner this week began soil tests preliminary to correcting the slide itself.

County officials hope the new road will be completed in about a month, but the completion date depends on possible other committments of Piombo Brothers, San Rafael contractors.

Meanwhile, representatives of Harding Associates, soil mechanics engineers in San Rafael, began to make test bores to repair and find the best way to stop the tons of earth from further sliding onto Mar West.

The land is owned by Redhill Land Co., San Francisco, which acquired it in March from RCR Inc., Terrell W. Hill, president of the Redhill company reported.

Hill said he hopes to repair the slide and compact the earth so that the area will be "stronger than any other part of Red Hill." He said he regards the land as prime spot for apartment construction.

Summer Band At College Slates Concert For Sunday

Sixty musicians, comprising the largest College of Marin Summer Band, will present a concert at 4 p.m. Sunday in the quadrangle outside Harlan Hall on the Kentfield campus.

It will be the first time the band has presented its annual concert outdoors, Myers said.

The program will include several well-known marches, including the works of John Philip Sousa, K. L. King and O. R. Farrar. For light classics there will be Franck Ericson's Irish folk song suite, "Two Moods Overture" by Claire Grundman, and aria and fuge by Handel. "Beguine for Band" and "Amparita Roca" will provide a Latin touch.

Three trumpets will be featured in John Morrissey's "Bravure for Trumpets."

There is no admission charge.

Negro GOP Leader Won't Support Barry

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Negro attorney James L. Flourney, vice president of the California Republican Assembly, says that as of now he cannot support Sen. Barry Goldwater as the Republican presidential nominee even though the assembly endorsed him.

But Flourney also said yesterday he will not join the Republicans for Johnson Committee, and neither would he resign his CRA post.

Dinner-Dance

St. James Branch 161 of the Italian-Catholic Federation will hold a dinner-dance Saturday from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. at St. Patrick's Hall in Larkspur. Reservations must be made by tonight, according to Mrs. Florence Falvey of Larkspur.

Two More Balloons Are Found

Two more helium-filled balloons launched June 25 during the San Rafael Park and Recreation Department's "Operation Blastoff" have been returned to earth, but not without a struggle against gravity that carried them far into Northern California.

The department reported yesterday that it has received postcards from Sutter in Sutter County and from Suisun in Yolo County confirming the landings.

The balloon which landed at Sutter was sent up by Jerry Miller, 12, of 2337 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, who participated at Sun Valley Playground. His was the second farthest launch yet reported.

Andy Laufer, 9, of 25 Roosevelt Avenue, San Rafael, set off the one which came down in Suisun, also from Sun Valley Playground.

Ten balloons have been reported so far.

NO AIR CLEARED ON SMOG DEVICES

Panelists Argue Pros And Cons But No One Changes Mind About Usefulness

Four men argued for an hour today over radio station KTIM on the pros and cons of automobile smog control devices, but all went away convinced as ever that they are correct and the opposing view is wrong.

Speakers on the "Marin Sounding Board" program were Donald A. Jensen, executive officer of the State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board; D. J. Callaghan, Bay Area air pollution control officer; and Marin residents Lester Jennings Jr. and Lars Williamson, coordinators of Citizens for Sensible Smog Suppression. Today's discussion will be re-broadcast over KTIM Sunday noon.

Jensen contended that the automobile crankcase devices, required by the state, if properly installed and maintained, help engine performance in addition to helping eliminate smog from cars.

He said Detroit manufacturers have simulated the life of cars (36,000 to 50,000 miles) and then have torn down "every bolt and nut" for minute inspection and found no harm from the devices. Jensen said he has seen the results of these tests and would rather believe them than the words of "engineers" quoted by Williamson and Jennings.

Jennings said the actual proving grounds are on California highways. He and Williamson insisted that new cars with factory-installed devices have been known to require a complete overhaul after about 25,000 miles.

Williamson argued the Detroit tests that simulate the life of a car at 36,000 to 50,000 miles are not valid because Marin commuters can run up that mileage in one and one-half to two years.

All speakers agreed that auto smog should be abated, but they remained split on how it should be done.

Jensen and Callaghan insisted that the devices are not harmful to the engine, whereas the other two contended that the devices gum up the engine.

Jensen said about one-third of auto smog comes from the crankcase and two-thirds from the exhaust pipe. He said that all cars sold in California since 1961 come with the crankcase device factory equipped. The exhaust pipe devices will come factory equipped, probably about 1967, he predicted.

Complaints are running only about one-half of 1 per cent of the four million devices installed in California, said Jensen. One problem is that mechanics and installers like to tinker with the devices without following the manual of installation, he contended.

Jennings and Williamson charged that the cost of installation and maintenance is unwarranted, and the solution should be a change in basic design of the engine at Detroit.

The panelists agreed that cost of servicing crankcase devices runs between $2 and $5. But they disagreed on the frequency of servicing.

Smog officials said the devices need servicing about 6,000 to 12,000 miles. Jennings said car owners find they must service every 2,000 to 4,000 miles, and some as often as every 1,000 miles.

Ross Traffic Bottleneck Due To Vanish

A bottleneck on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Ross which has fouled up traffic for several days was scheduled to be eased today with completion of resurfacing of the town's portion of the thoroughfare by I. J. Ely Co. of Larkspur.

The resurfacing, which has forced Greyhound buses to make a perilous navigation down Shady Lane while the boulevard is restricted to one-way traffic, is costing the town of Ross $6,677.30.

Partial resurfacing of Laurel Grove Avenue between Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Walters Avenue will begin next Monday or Tuesday after completion of the Sir Francis Drake Boulevard project. The $2,100 project will include taking off and replacing the present lumpy street surface with asphalt by Brown-Ely Contractors of San Rafael.

Girl's Right Arm Caught In Seat

Fellow theater goers and theater personnel tried to free Lisa Regalia's arm, caught in the side of the seat up to her elbow, for about 10 minutes, but to no avail. The fire department was called at 2:20 p.m.

Capt. Henry Pierroz said he picked Lisa up, pushed the seat up and made her straighten out her arm and "out came the arm."

"Lisa was uninjured," said the fireman, "and she was happy."

BID FOR ENERGY MARKET

Coal Scientists Stepping Up Research On Gas Converting

By WIL LEPKOWSKI
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Coal scientists are stepping up research on converting coal to gasoline in a serious bid to wrest part of the energy market from the oil industry.

Late next spring, a 10-million-dollar pilot plant in Cresap, W. Va., is scheduled to begin probing the economic feasibility of turning chunks of soft coal into high-octane gasoline.

Consolidation Coal Co. of Pittsburgh will run the plant under a contract from the Office of Coal Research, a three-year-old agency of the Interior Department. Consolidation has spent about 10 million dollars itself in developing the conversion process.

If the experiment proves successful, the company foresees a full-scale plant converting 10,000 tons of coal a day into 35,000 barrels of 100-octane gasoline. An engineering consultant estimates a per-gallon cost of about 13 cents under this process, a return of 6.7 per cent on a 125-million-dollar investment.

About 3,000 tons of solid black residue known as char also would be produced daily and shunted off to an adjacent power plant as a fuel. This volatile substance is roughly equivalent to the controversial residual fuel oil Venezuela sells to New England power plants at prices persistently below coal.

The oil industry could flex its competitive muscles to meet a coal challenge. It could work on lowering the price of conventionally refined gasoline; it could put more money into converting its vast western oil shale reserves into gasoline; or it could enter the coal-to-oil arena itself.

The last possibility isn't so remote. Oilmen are reported buying coal for research purposes. And carefully watching the possible surge of coal into their markets.

The 13-cent-a-gallon production forecast for the coal-to-gasoline process would be fully competitive with what it costs refineries to produce gasoline. And moreover the figure could even drop.

"If the 10,000-ton-per-day plant ever becomes a reality," says Edward Larson, chief of contracts and administration for the Office of Coal Research, "the by-products could really make the process go.

"For example, the char could also be used as a source of hydrogen, the key element in the conversion process. Instead of piping increasingly expensive natural gas into the system for our hydrogen, we could get it from the char and lower production costs by about two cents."

Equally significant could be the recovery of raw minerals that reside in coal or lie next to seams. These include aluminum, germanium, the rare earth elements, and various types of ceramic-grade clay. One little-known plant in North Dakota is burning off tons of lignite each day just to recover the uranium that speckles this low-grade fuel.

Development of catalysts to raise both the speed and efficiency of the hydrogenation process could really determine the eventual success of Consolidation's effort. A new technique about to be patented by the government could be the main reason for its willingness to take the 10-million-dollar gamble with Consolidation.

A final justification for going ahead with the work is the prospect of Congress raising coal's depletion allowance once it gets into the oil business. The average tax break for oil is currently 27.5 per cent. Coal gets only 10 per cent.

The fossil fuel outlook today is admittedly fuzzy, due mainly to conflicting predictions of atomic energy's position in future markets. Some say nuclear power will generate most of America's electricity in less than a century. Coal producers contend that only massive atomic power plants will ever compete with coal. Small, specialized power demands, which collectively are immense, will buttress an increasingly larger coal market, they say.

The petroleum picture is also cloudy. Nobody agrees on how much of it still lies under the ground. Coalmen contend petroleum could run out in 30 to 40 years. They give natural gas even less time. Oilmen, however, carry predictions well into the next century.

The result is controversy among coalmen whether to emphasize research into combustion, which from the tonnage aspect makes immediate sense, or push basic research into new uses. The venture into gasoline could be a turning point.

THE DAUPHIN — Tom Mills plays this role in the Bishop's Company presentation of George Bernard Shaw's classic play, "Saint Joan," at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Angelico Hall on the Dominican Campus. A caption last Friday erroneously placed the performance date a week early.

Jury Clears Sonoma Youth In Novato Girl Attack Case

A Marin Superior Court jury cleared an 18-year-old Sonoma youth of a statutory rape charge yesterday after a two-day trial before Judge Leonard A. Thomas.

Ronald Gene Arrasmith, who lives in Boyes Springs, was found innocent by the jury, which deliberated for about an hour. Jerome Durham, assistant public defender, represented the youth.

Post Office Fund Grows In Novato

A $1,000 contribution toward preserving Novato's first post-office has been given to Alfred W. Bowman, who is raising funds to preserve the historic building.

Mrs. Albert J. Cain of 916 Sherman Avenue, Novato, made the contribution in the memory of her late husband. For many years he owned the Novato Utilities Co., which was the telephone company, water company, and gas company, Bowman said.

This brings contributions to date to $3,100 of the $5,000 needed to purchase the house, which is the home of Robert L. Gaut at 1416 South Novato Boulevard, Novato, Bowman said. It served as Novato's first postoffice in 1856.

Crash Victim In Fair Condition

Opie L. Harmon Jr., of 220 Canal Street, Apt. 17, San Rafael, was in fair condition today at Mercy Hospital in Sacramento, where he was taken Tuesday after a two-car crash in Yolo County that claimed the lives of his wife, Dorothey Teresa Harmon, and a Seattle couple.

Harmon, a pile driver mechanic, was listed in poor condition yesterday, but the hospital reported that he had a fair night and was improved today.

Novato Father Stabbed During Family Battle

A Novato father was stabbed three times last night after his blind 78-year-old father-in-law reportedly intervened to stop him from beating his 12-year-old daughter.

The father, Russell Roundtree, 46, of 1609 Novato Boulevard, was reported in good condition today at Novato General Hospital with two knife wounds in the abdomen and a five-inch cut below the right knee.

Police did not hold his father-in-law, blind Joseph G. Dutra, who lives with the Roundtrees, pending further investigation. Dutra denied the stabbing, but both Roundtree and his wife claimed he inflicted the wounds with a pocket knife.

Police were called to the home at 10 p.m. yesterday by the 12-year-old daughter, Toni. She reported her father had been assaulted with a knife.

Roundtree and his wife obviously had been drinking, Merkley reported. Neither was able to give a coherent account of what happened; nor was Dutra. From Toni and her 10-year-old sister, Colinda, however, the officer got this story:

Roundtree, enraged at Toni, began beating her. The girl's grandfather intervened to protect her. Roundtree knocked him to the floor.

In the scuffle, a glass was knocked to the floor and broken. Roundtree dragged Dutra through the broken glass, cutting his arm. Dutra then drew his pocket knife and slashed at his assailant.

Police Chief Robert diGrazia reported the county welfare department had sent an investigator to the home only yesterday and was considering placing the two children in a foster home. Police have had many calls to the address because of domestic brawls, the chief said.

Mrs. Amos Alonzo Stagg, Wife Of Famed Coach Dies

Mrs. Stagg, the former Stella Robertson, was graduated in the first class at the University of Chicago in 1896, two years after marrying Stagg who was the school's first football coach.

They spent their honeymoon in 1894 chaperoned by the Chicago football squad en route to the West Coast for two games with Stanford.

The Staggs had three children, a daughter Ruth and two sons, Amos Alonzo Jr., and Paul. Since leaving Chicago in 1933 after Stagg reached the mandatory retirement age of 70, the couple lived in a modest cottage in Stockton.

The past few years, Stagg, who will be 102 on Aug. 16, has been confined to a convalescent home.

Mrs. Stagg was said to have been the greatest living woman expert on football during her husband's career. For years she charted games, took notes on practice sessions and went on scouting trips.

Mrs. Stagg underwent surgery July 17 for an abdominal ailment. Kidney failure occurred Wednesday.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p.m. Saturday at the B. C. Wallace and Son Funeral Chapel in Stockton with burial in Parkview Cemetery.

DOPE ADDICTION

'Not So Deadly As Alcoholism'

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—A scientifically dispassionate way of looking at narcotic addicts is to keep in mind that "most of us have addictions — to alcohol, food, smoking, snuff, even to religion and hard work."

This recognition of the humanity of addiction belongs to Dr. Herbert Berger, who has achieved prominence, particularly in New York City, in years of urging medical science to accept addiction as one of its problems.

Furthermore, he said, it is helpful to the narcotic addict to know "his particular addiction is not as life threatening as severe obesity or alcoholism and may be less dangerous than smoking.

"This makes him feel less 'different'. It restores some pride in himself. He has little enough of this attribute, for even fellow criminals castigate the addict."

Few physicians will accept the drug addict as a private patient—for treatment of his addiction. They're afraid of getting into trouble with federal authorities who enforce the stringent federal narcotics law.

But Berger has been accepting them for years, on the grounds that they are sick people and a physician cannot properly deny his services to the sick. In his medical opinion, narcotic addiction as a "disease—a chronic, relapsing disease."

By and large addicts are exasperating patients. They "relapse" after weeks and even months of difficult medical treatment. They steal from their doctors, "to support their habits." They are troublesome at every turn because they tolerate no frustration "and are frequently physically dirty."

But "the very difficulties they present are, in themselves, a challenge," he continued in presenting the medical case of the addict in a technical organ of the American Medical Assn.

In 15 years Berger has had little success with addicts who were under 30. They lacked the maturity to recognize their lack of health. The first requirement of successful treatment of addiction is for the patient to be soundly motivated to work for his own good, he said.

Of 21 addicts over 30 he treated as private patients—that is, without recourse to police, prison or any type of legal coercion —18 have now been free of the "habit" for two years or longer. But he warned that his treatment methods "are not applicable or meaningful if applied to the entire narcotic problem" because most addicts are not motivated toward getting themselves cured.

As of now, physicians know too little about addictive diseases. They're not taught in medical schools and addicts are rarely admitted either to psychiatric institutions or general hospitals. If more of them were accepted as private patients and admitted to hospitals, medical science would acquire the knowledge from which to devise more effective techinques.

And "as such techniques are discovered, they might well be applied to our other, larger addictive problems of obesity, smoking and alcoholism," he added. But first, physicians should be given the unquestionable right to employ narcotics in the treatment of addiction.

"Certainly the physician whose license permits him to treat all diseases to which man is heir should not be interfered with when he prescribes narcotics to any patient, regardless of diagnosis."

In early days, silver coins of all denominations were made from household silver and foreign coins. There were no silver mines.

Corte Madera Teen-Agers Admit Thefts, Cite Idleness

Corte Madera police late yesterday smashed a juvenile burglary ring which they claimed was responsible for 11 burglaries in the town during the past two months.

Two of the three youths, one 14 years old and the other 16, were responsible for stealing about $450 and two watches. One watch, valued at $150, was thrown into a slough near Redwood High School, police said. The other watch was recovered.

The third youth, 14 years old, was cited by police for receiving stolen property. The other two were cited for burglary and conspiracy to commit burglary. In addition, the 16-year-old youth was cited for receiving stolen property.

All three, according to Police Inspector Harold N. Hockett, come from "good upper middle class families." Hockett said the parents had cooperated to the extent that he thinks the youths will make restitution of the money and watch.

They spent the stolen money on pinball machines and food. One of the youths bought a bowling ball bag and bowling shoes.

The homes entered by the 14-year-old were: three times at the home of Jean Scarrone, 34 Ash Avenue, for $310 loot; Mrs. Alice G. Gayter, 65 Lakeside Drive, $10; Robert Cunningham, 41 Ash, and an unknown home on Birch Avenue, attempted entries.

The 16-year-old entered the homes of Ron L. Stuart, 35 Mohawk Drive, to get a $150 watch; Anthony T. Fadale, 29 Spindrift Drive, $86; Leo Jarvis, 26 El Camino Drive, $20; John R. Polach, 53 Hickory Avenue, $18; George R. Hubbard, 38 El Camino Drive, a watch.

The youths got change for two $100 bills stolen from the Scarrone residence at the drive-in window of a San Rafael bank. From the 14-year-old youth, $90 of the Scarrone money was recovered.

The 16-year-old gave police $32.70 which he said was stolen from the Fadale residence. The second 14-year-old was given $20 to spend by the two other boys, Hockett said.

Auto Is Stolen

Robert Brain Spencer told Marin sheriff's deputies that his 1952 Plymouth sedan, light green, was stolen from its parking space at Kapps Yacht Harbor, near Sausalito, sometime between midnight and 6:30 a.m. yesterday.

Young Sailor Determined To Get Boat

A 9-year-old San Rafael boy was booked at Marin Juvenile Hall yesterday for the second time in three weeks for attempts to steal boats on the San Rafael Canal.

He refused, also for the second time, to give his name to San Rafael police, and was identified only because his mother had called police to report him missing.

The boy was apprehended at 6:10 p.m. by Patrolman Gary K. Walters after an irate apartment dweller at 177 Canal Street called to complain he was climbing her balcony.

Before that, he untied two dinghies at nearby docks in attempts to sail them away, other Canal Street residents said.

On June 29, the boy hopped into a speedboat at Western Boat Shop, 101 Third Street, started down the canal with dockside residents in hot pursuit. He was later cornered, but captured only after one resident dove in the water and swam under a dock to catch him.

When he refused to identify himself yesterday at the San Rafael police station, the boy was taken to juvenile hall, charged with petty theft and being a runaway.

Three weeks ago, after refusing to identify himself, he was booked at the hall as "John Doe," charged with attempted boat theft.

New Immigration Law 'No Threat To Jobs'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said today the administration's proposed new immigration policy would have little effect on U.S. employment.

The proposed changes would add only about 23,000 to a work force of 79 million in 1969, when the new program would be fully in effect, Wirtz told a House immigration subcommittee.

Advertising Agency Has Record Gains

NEW YORK — Metromedia, Inc., parent company of Foster and Kleiser and of Fielder, Sorenson and Davis of San Francisco, has reported record high gross revenues for the 26 weeks ended June 28 of $44,869,102, up 60 per cent over revenues of $27,978,446 for the 26 weeks ended June 30, 1963.

Net income for the first half amounted to $2,016,110, a record high, up from $1,838,228 for the comparable period a year earlier. On a per share basis earnings were $1.07 versus $1.03.

Aluminum Firm Reports Record Quarter Sales

OAKLAND—Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. net earnings for the quarter ended June 30 were $7,525,000, compared with $6,124,000 a year ago, T. J. Ready Jr., president, has announced.

Net sales for the quarter were $132,550,000 compared with $114,306,000 in 1963.

Per share earnings were 41 cents after preferred dividends, based on 15,573,597 common shares outstanding, compared with 32 cents in 1963 on 15,293,[illegible]2 shares.

Higher sales and earnings are due principally to increased shipments by all of the corporation's major divisions. Aluminum shipments during the second quarter of this year were the highest on record.

Fast Climb In Time Deposits Slowing Down

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The fast climb in time deposits and savings accounts that has made this business upswing different from most others has slowed down. And so has the rise in interest rates paid for savings.

Bankers think that the high yields to be had now on various short-term investments here, and even higher returns abroad, may mark a leveling off or softening of interest to be paid savers.

MORTGAGE MARKETS

Also tending to have the same result is the easing in the mortgage markets. Investment fund supplies are exceeding demand for new mortgages in many regions. As mortgage charges have eased a bit, so has the rate which the lending institutions can pay for savings that form the pool from which the money for mortgages comes.

This may be one of the reasons some bankers have been urging the Federal Reserve Board to modify the easy money policies followed with little variation through most of the present business upswing. The American Bankers Association has suggested the board might think twice about keeping money easy if the business upturn approaches boom stage.

MOVE OPPOSED

The ABA, however, has opposed any moves to increase the 4 per cent limit the Federal Reserve places on interest on time deposits in commercial banks. Many small banks aren't paying that much, anyway, saying they can't afford to in their business. They'd hate to see savings siphoned off by much higher interest rates paid elsewhere.

Many mutual savings banks have offered more than 4 per cent. And some savings and loan associations, especially in the West, have been offering close to 5 per cent in dividends to get funds for the mortgage market there.

EXPANSION PERIOD

The rise in the total of time deposits in the commercial banks has been a phenomenon of this expansion period, the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis notes in its July Review.

Previously such forms of savings rose rapidly during recessions and then tapered off during the expansions that followed. In the 1953-54 recession, time deposits grew at an annual rate of 10 per cent, but dropped to a 6 per cent increase in the following upswing. In the 1957-5858 slump the growth rate of bank deposits was 15 per cent at an annual rate, with a drop to 5 per cent when times turned good again.

In the last recession, 1960-61, the annual growth rate of time deposits was 15 per cent. But when business turned upward in 1961, time deposits continued to grow at an annual rate of 14 per cent until mid-1963.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

It Looks Like Shopping Center At Strawberry Will Be A Reality

From time to time there has been talk of a shopping center being constructed on the remaining 10 acres owned by the late Samuel R. Neider at the foot of Reed Boulevard and near the east service road along the Redwood Highway in Strawberry.

It now appears to be nearing reality. This week, graders of the William Brothers Construction Co. of Mountain View set to work leveling off the ground. A building permit for construction has not yet been issued, but plans by architects Bakke-Cann-Page Associates of Palo Alto have been submitted for approval.

The project is being steered along by Town and Country Shopping Center, Palo Alto, and the proposed center here will generally resemble that Peninsula development.

NEIDER HAD originally planned that this parcel would be used in some such venture. At that time Safeway Stores was the interested party in occupying the market. The architecture, as I recall, was to feature a huge aluminum geodesic dome as the centerpiece attraction.

After Neider's death, all the rest of his Strawberry properties (around 260-270 acres) were purchased by the Milland Development Co. of San Francisco. Much of this has since been resold through the Crowley Co. Recently it was announced that a five-acre promontory parcel was to become a 71-unit apartment complex called Harbor Vista.

But the commercially zoned 10 acres were never sold by the Neider estate and became part of a trust, with the Pacific National Bank in San Francisco as co-trustee.

Detailed plans are expected to be released after the building permit is issued.

WHILE NEW RECORDS are continually being set in Marin real estate sales, Daniel F. Deedy, executive manager of the Marin County Real Estate Board, notes in the last issue of the Realtors' Rooster that we are losing a lot of good transactions, both in residential and commercial properties, because of a growing trend by property owners in setting unreasonable asking prices when making the listing.

It's natural for any land owner to ride the crest of a boom and try to get all the traffic will bear, but Deedy reflects that many worthwhile developers are bypassing Marin for Sonoma, Napa and Contra Costa counties where land "as good or better" is being offered at 15 to 50 per cent of prices asked here.

MOTORCRAFT. Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet will be open for business at new showrooms at 5880 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, Monday morning for sales and service . . . Best sellers this model year are said to be the "intermediates." With some exceptions compacts are down a little from last year . . . Though small, Sweden's Volvo plant is heralded as a successful and highly automated factory, operating well inside the black. Sales have consistently increased 15 per cent each year since 1961 and should do all of that or better in 1964. (Annex Motors handles sales in Marin) . . . Volkswagen is now showing large gains in convertibles and Karmann-Ghia sportsters . . . Lou Concilio of Ames Ford Sales has trouble keeping up with Mustang orders. He's managed to swing over some prospects to Galaxies for the same amount of money.

CORRECTION. Currie Heating and Plumbing Co. does have its new shop where L. C. Smith Building Supplies used to be—but not at 427 Irwin Street, San Rafael. Correct address is 55 De Luca Place, where the piywood stocks were kept. And Russell Thompson says his middle initial is not "O" but "C" for Chadwick. You can blame Polk's directory for that mistake —and me for copying it.

Railroad Reports Gain In Earnings

Ernie Banks Again Proclaims Cubs' Chances Of Winning N.L. Pennant

Jack Hanley

Ernie Banks' one burning desire is to play in a World Series in Wrigley Field. Every Cub fan knows that. As the four-game Giant-Cub series entered the finale, Banks once again declared his faith in the Cub 1964 pennant chances.

"Of course we can do it," said the perennial Cub optimist. "We got to win the final game of the series today. I think we're going to make a lot of noise through the rest of the season."

BANKS' bat didn't make any noise whatsoever in the series until the third game when he broke out of a mild 0-for-9 slump with a couple of singles.

"We're all hitting now and the pitching rotation is squared away," Banks said. "Look at what Andy Rodgers is doing. Andy's batting streak is at 11 games, just three behind Ron Santo's club high of 14 games."

"Is Banks' overall hitting better now?"

"VERY MUCH so," said Kennedy. "What he said about the others hitting, too, is true. And he also is right about our pitching. It is squared away, thanks to a recent string of complete games."

Did Kennedy himself share Banks' unshakable feeling that this could be the year of the Cubs?

"The way the league is going now," said Kennedy, "there might be as many as seven clubs in a very tight race come September with the seventh club only six out. The race could be decided in the last week of the season."

BUT PITCHING is the name of the game. Don't Dick Ellsworth and Ernie Broglio have aching arms?

"That's right, pitching is the name of the game," said Kennedy. "But the little stiffness in Ellsworth's arm is no reason for alarm. I just thought it would be a good idea to give him an extra day's rest and substituted Lou Burdette for him today.

"As for Broglio, I've said several times that Ernie is going to be all right despite a bothersome elbow."

ELLSWORTH and Broglio, with Larry Jackson and Bob Buhl, must carry the four starting roles for the Cubs if Banks' pennant dreams are to come true. Burdette now is cast in the No. 5 role as an occasional starter and bullpen aide to Lindy McDaniel, Don Elston and Bobby Shantz.

It's not impossible for the Cubs to finish in the first division this year. But even if the entire pitching staff suddenly performs miracles, it is difficult to share Banks' pennant feelings. There just are too many teams the Cubs must climb over. But you have to admire his faith in the Cubs.

NATIONAL LEAGUE HIGHLIGHTS

Koufax Does It Again; Wins 4-Hitter

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ho-hum.

Sandy Koufax pitched again last night.

Won again. Struck out 10 or more again. Didn't allow any runs again.

Same old stuff.

That's the way it is with systematic Sandy. His latest effort was another Koufax special, a four-hit, 12-strikeout job that beat Houston 1-0 and ended the Los Angeles Dodgers losing streak at four games.

Walt Alston's personal tranquilizer — the Dodgers have to mix in at least one run for complete relaxation—now has won 11 games in a row since he last lost on May 27, boosting his record to 15-4 while his sixth shutout lowered his earned run average to a remarkable 1.78.

Just as remarkable was the feat of Philadelphia's light-hitting Bobby Wine, a .205 swinger who slammed his second homer in two nights, a bases-empty shot off Warren Spahn that triggered the National League leading Phillies to a 4-1 victory over Milwaukee.

Hitting honors for the day, however, went to Pittsburgh's Bill Mazeroski and Willie Stargell. Mazeroski drove in five runs and Stargell hit for the cycle with a single, double, triple and homer as the Pirates lashed 18 hits and crushed St. Louis 13-2.

Elsewhere, the second-place San Francisco Giants remained one game off the pace by belting the Chicago Cubs 7-3 but the third-place Cincinnati Reds fell 4½ games back by losing their fifth straight to the New York Mets, 4-3 in 10 innings.

Koufax, who struck out 10 or more batters in a game for the 58th time in his career, had to be at his best against Houston's Ken Johnson, who allowed only seven hits before he left for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

The lone Dodger run came across in the third when Derrell Griffith and Ron Fairly smacked doubles.

Wine, who hit a homer Tuesday night before singling home the decisive run, got the job done again for the Phillies by breaking a 1-1 tie with his homer in the seventh inning. The Braves only run came on a homer by Spahn off Ray Culp, 8-5.

The homer was the 35th of Spahn's career. The loss was the 11th this season for the 43-year-old left-hander, who has won only six games and failed to finish for the 11th time in 12 starts.

Mazeroski batted in a run with a sacrifice fly in the first, doubled home two runs in the seventh and hit a two-run homer in the ninth. Stargell contributed three runs batted in with his 4-for-4 performance while Jerry Lynch came up with the same run production on a homer and single.

Bob Veale got the victory, his 11th against six losses. The loser was Roger Craig, 5-5.

The Reds tied the score 3-3 in the eighth when singles by Frank Robinson and Don Pavletich around an infield out produced a run, but the Mets won it in the 10th when Ron Hunt singled, moved up on a sacrifice and scored on a pinch-hit double by Jim Hickman.

Larry Elliot homered for the Mets, Deron Johnson for the Reds.

ROOKIE HERO — Hal Lanier, the young Giants rookie who tied up yesterday's game against Chicago with a three run homer, is greeted at the plate by Matty Alou (41) and Willie Mays (24). (AP Wirephoto)

Sauer's Lessons To Hal Lanier Paid Off

A dozen years ago, Hank Sauer wore the uniform of the Chicago Cubs, hit 37 homers, knocked in 121 runs and was voted the National League's Most Valuable Player.

The Cubs might have a five-game winning streak going today if it weren't for the same Hank Sauer.

Now 45, the ex-Cub star scouts for the San Francisco Giants and youngsters on the club look to him for advice.

Some of Hank's coaching paid off yesterday as the Giants whipped the Chicago Cubs 7-3, ignited by a three-run homer by rookie Hal Lanier in the fifth inning.

The ball off the bat of the right-handed hitter sailed over the right field fence, near the foul line, a drive most frequently described as an off-field hit.

The triumph, only the Giants' third in their last 10 games, kept San Francisco on the heels of the league leading Philadelphia Phils.

"I've been trying lately to hit the ball to right field," the 22-year-old son of former big league pitcher Max Lanier declared. "I seem to get more hits. Hank Sauer has been working with me on waiting for the ball and hitting to the off field.

Almost as if taking a cue, Orlando Cepeda smashed a drive over the right field fence in the sixth inning for a two-run homer and the Giants had a 5-3 lead that veteran southpaw Billy Pierce protected.

In the finale of the four-game series today, left-hander Billy O'Dell drew the starting assignment facing another veteran, right-hander Lew Burdette of the Cubs.

Dick Ellsworth was slated to start but head coach Bob Kennedy said the southpaw from nearby Fresno had a little stiffness in his arm and needed an extra day's rest.

The homers by Lanier and Cepeda both came off Larry Jackson, who failed in quest of his 13th victory and took his eighth loss instead.

Pierce, also a well known figure around Chicago, worked four scoreless innings and wants one and all to note that he collected his first hit of the season and drove in his first run.

The 37-year-old former White Sox star drove in the second run of the eighth inning when the Giants added four singles to their attack.

And the first thing he said on returning to the clubhouse following his second victory of the campaign was:

"How'd you like my hit?"

Hayes Pulled From U.S.-Russia Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob Hayes, holder of the world's record for the 100-yard dash, was scratched today from the USA-USSR dual track meet this weekend because of a recurring cramp in his left leg.

"We feel there is a real good chance of further injury to his leg if he competes," said Sam Bell, head coach of the American team, "and we don't believe that we should take that chance."

Bell said John Moon of the U. S. Army will replace Hayes in the relay, but no substitute for the dash will be announced until Friday afternoon.

Moon has been timed at 10.5 for 100 meters this season.

Polevaulter Fred Hansen, a postgraduate student at Rice, cleared 17 feet in practice at Memorial Coliseum yesterday. Hansen, who has done 17-2 in competition this year, started at 15 feet and took seven vaults in working up the 17 foot level.

Then he quit for the day. It was the best he'd ever accomplished in a practice session.

Both teams were booked for a tour of the Disneyland amusement park today. The athletes were guests at a civic luncheon yesterday attended by 700 persons.

Mayor Samuel W. Yorty drew laughs when he addressed the visiting Soviets in not-too-perfect Russian.

McKinley Leads Way In Tourney

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP)—Chuck McKinley, the No. 1 U.S. tennis player, led a wholesale advance of Americans in the men's singles competition at the Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis Championships yesterday, sweeping aside all foreign competition, as the field was narrowed down to eight.

Defending champion McKinley, of San Antonio, Tex., in advancing to the quarter-final round, was extended to 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 in a tough 65-minute match with Ray Moore, South African junior champion.

Impressive in his victory was Dennis Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., McKinley's Davis Cup teammate, who disposed of William Lenoir of Tucson, Ariz., 6-1, 9-7.

Pasarell ousted Patricio Rodriguez of Chile, 6-1, 6-2, to advance to the quarter-finals.

Third-seeded Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., also advanced to the quarter-finals, overcoming Bitsy Harrison of Richmond, Va., 6-3, 6-2.

Other top-seeded players among the eight survivors in the tournament are Eugene Scott of St. James, N.Y., who beat David Sanderlin of El Cajon, Calif., 6-3, 9-7, Arthur Ashe of Richmond, who rallied to defeat Clark Graebner of Shaker Heights, Ohio, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn, N.Y., eliminated Premjit Lall of India's Davis Cup team 13-11, 6-3, and Martin Riessen of Evanston, Ill., beat Abe Segal of South Africa 6-4, 10-8.

Red-Hot Angels Take Over Fourth Place With 3-2 Win

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Quick quiz: Which major league team has the best record since June 15?

You're wrong.

It's not the American League leading New York Yankees, and it's not the Baltimore Orioles, who until two days ago were on top of the A.L. 27 out of 28 days. And it's not Philadelphia or San Francisco in the National League.

It's the Los Angeles Angels, who moved into sole possession of fourth place in the A.L. last night with a 3-2 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

The Angels, one of the zaniest collections of major leaguers since St. Louis' Gas House Gang, were lodged in ninth place June 15 with a poor record of 24-37. Since then, they have won 26 and lost 11, a lofty percentage of .703.

The Yankees, at .639, are the only other team who have played above .600 in that time. As a comparison, the Orioles stand at .595, the White Sox .575, the Phillies .568 and the Giants .553.

The Angels, two games over .500 for the first time this year, have won eight of their last nine and 12 of their last 14.

For their latest victory, though, they needed the aid of a couple of pitches from knuckle ball artist Hoyt Wilhelm. The Angels trailed 2-1 entering the ninth inning.

Jim Fregosi singled with one out, trotted to second when Wilhelm hit Willie Smith with a pitch and scored the tying run on a single by Bob Rodgers. One out later, with Lou Clinton at bat, Wilhelm uncorked a pitch that got away from catcher J. C. Martin for a passed ball, and Smith scampered home with the winning run.

In other American League games, New York defeated Washington 6-3, Cleveland knocked off Baltimore 7-4, Kansas City trimmed Minnesota 6-4 and Detroit outlasted Boston 8-6.

The White Sox grabbed a 2-0 lead in the first inning on run-scoring doubles by Don Buford and Pete Ward. But Fred Newman settled down and at one stretch retired 17 straight Chicago batters. Joel Horlen allowed the Angels only three hits before leaving for Wilhelm in the eighth.

The Yankees managed only four hits against the Senators, but all came in the fifth inning when they erupted for five runs, the last three on Joe Pepitone's bases-loaded triple. Mickey Mantle batted in the first two runs with a double.

The victory kept the Yankees in first place, only the second time this season they've held that spot two straight days.

Pitcher Dick Donovan rapped a two-run single that snapped a 3-3 tie and shot the Indians past the Orioles. Woodie Held was given an intentional walk, loading the bases, before Donovan singled with two out in the eighth. The Indians scored twice more in the rally.

Kansas City handed the Twins their seventh straight defeat behind the hitting of Rocky Colavito. The A's slugger homered in the first inning, then connected for his 24th following Nelson Mathews' single in the ninth. The second blast broke a 4-4 deadlock. Earl Battey and Tony Oliva homered for Minnesota.

Christensen Pleased With 49er Drill

MORAGA, Calif. (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers turned back to non-contact drills today after their first scrimmage of the training season.

"That kind of contact is what you always hope for but rarely get this early in the season," he said.

Duty-Free Liquor And Cigarettes At '64 Olympics

TOKYO (AP) — Foreign athletes, officials and newsmen coming to the Tokyo Olympics will be allowed to bring in 30-day supplies of liquor and cigarettes duty free, the Japanese Finance Ministry announced today.

The cigarette quota will be figured at 40 per day, or 1,200 for 30 days. The daily liquor quota will include one bottle of wine, one bottle of beer, one-fourth liter of whiskey, and three bottles of mineral water.

American brand names of bourbon range from $7 to $10; per fifth gallon; scotch whiskey $10 to $13.

MARIN JUNIOR NET TOURNEY TOMORROW

Because of the record number of singles entrants—197—matches will probably be going on at four locations, Albert Park, San Rafael High, and Boyd and Gerstle parks.

Joe Rodota, head of the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department which is co-sponsoring the 11th annual tourney along with the Independent-Journal, said entrants should report to Albert Park prior to their starting times.

Matches will be played tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday and the following Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, starting at 9 a.m. each day. Competition will include singles and doubles for boys and girls up to 18.

Title Fight Plans Hit Snag—Money

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A proposed title fight between middleweight king Joey Giardello and challenger Rubin Hurricane Carter Oct. 23 is "still a long way from being set," the promoter of the bout said yesterday.

Mel (Red) Greb, who represents the Silver State Sports Club, said he and Michael Del Collo, Giardello's attorney, were "about $15,000 apart" in their negotiations over the guarantee.

Del Collo is asking $100,000 for Giardello.

Greb said $100,000 is all that is available for both fighters.

The promoter said Carter "is ready to go at any figure . . . but in fairness we have to give him at least $15,000."

This means either Del Collo must retreat to an $85,000 guarantee for Giardello "or somebody is going to have to come up with some more money," Greb said.

The promoter said the only source of more money would be Telescript Inc.—the firm which plans to put the fight on closed circuit television.

At present, Silver State has agreed to give $55,000 to the fighters from the live gate and Telescript has guaranteed $45,000.

Telescript's end would have to be upped to $60,000 to meet Giardello's present demands, Greb said.

Giardello said early yesterday he understood negotiations were over and he had been offered $100,000 for the Las Vegas title defense.

Del Collo, however, who plans to return to New Jersey today to consult with Giardello, said:

"This thing is still far from being concluded . . . We have reached no conclusions yet."

In New York, Murray Goodman, who promoted the Atlantic City fight, said he has a "very legal document" giving his Garden State Sports Corp. promotional rights to Giardello's first title defense.

"Naturally we intend to stand up for our rights," Goodman said. "I will discuss the situation with my partners and we'll decided what steps to take. Anyone who goes as far to sign any contract could be open to legal action.

"If Giardello signed anything, it proves the ingratitude of a man who virtually got down on his knees to get a title fight and only through our efforts did he get it."

Olympic Live TV Welcomed

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese government and Olympic officials today welcomed joint U.S.-Japan arrangements made for live telecast of the October Tokyo Olympics to the United States and Canada.

Postal Service Minister Jitsuzo Tokuyasu expressed gratitude for U.S. cooperation in the project and said the arrangements "would further raise the significance of the Tokyo Olympics and greatly promote international understandings."

Plans simultaneously announced in Washington and Tokyo today called for launching Syncom III satellite in mid-August into a stationary orbit above the Pacific to relay television programs to the United States and Canada. They also provided for speeding videotapes of the Syncom transmissions to Europe.

Tsuneyoshi Takeda, vice president of the Tokyo Olympic Organizing Committee, said, "It is a matter of extreme significance and epoch-making that people around the world will be able to see the Olympic Games simultaneously."

Hiroyuki Ueda, director of the Postal Service Ministry's radio research laboratories, said his laboratories will complete all necessary preparations by the end of August.

LITTLE GUY, BIG FISH

Kevin Kelly, 11, will never forget his vacation and the 200-pound halibut he caught this week off the coast of Saco, Maine. The youngster, fishing with Capt. Holly Moore (left), hooked the fish about 13 miles off shore. It took the little guy almost an hour to land the whopper, at times getting help and advice from Capt. Moore. The giant had to be fought like a tuna when it came to surface four times before being boated. (AP Wirephoto)

Olson-Pastrano Bout Slated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ancient Bobo Olson—whose hopes for a light heavyweight title fight looked slim a month ago—will get the chance after all.

Olson will meet light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano of New Orleans in a 10-round non-title fight Aug. 28 at Kezar Pavilion.

Art Benjamin of the National Boxing Club, promoter of the match, said yesterday Pastrano has agreed to give Olson a shot at the title if the ex-middleweight wins their San Francisco encounter.

Olson's chances for a title fight appeared to have faded after he lost decisively to young Johnny Persol in a televised fight on July 19. It ended a streak of seven straight victories for the one-time middleweight king.

Boccabella Leads Salt Lake To Win With Four RBI's

John Boccabella of San Anselmo drove in four runs to lead Salt Lake City to a victory in the Pacific Coast League yesterday and Ron Cole of Mill Valley lost a one-run decision for Modesto in the California League.

Boccabella knocked in three of the runs with his 19th homer of the season. Salt Lake crushed Dallas, 9-0.

Cole, a righthanded pitcher, was on the losing end of a 4-3 decision with Fresno gaining the victory. He allowed 8 hits in going the distance.

Hornung In Old Form

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Paul Hornung is back with the Green Bay Packers and that means trouble for the Chicago Bears, the National Football League champions.

Hornung, star halfback who led the Packers to the 1962 NFL title then was suspended a year for betting on league games, worked out with the Packers yesterday for the first time since his suspension in April, 1963.

He appeared in top physical condition, brightening Green Bay hopes of regaining the NFL crown from the Bears. The first time he carried the ball in a controlled scrimmage he burst through the defensive line.

The next few times he was tackled hard, but bounced up after each effort and seemed none the worse.

The Bears, preparing for their game with the College All-Stars Aug. 7 in Chicago that officially kicks off the season, put in a 45-minute scrimmage at their camp. Bill Wade's 58-yard touchdown pass to Rich Kreitling highlighted the workout.

The San Diego Chargers, champions of the American League, held their first pre-season drills and coach Sid Gillman said they were the best in his 19 years as a mentor. He praised rookies Kenny Dill of Mississippi and Sammie Taylor of Grambling.

Other developments on the pro football front as the training tempo picked up included:

Detroit Lions—Halfback Dick LeBeau and fullback Nick Pietrosante signed contracts.

Baltimore Colts—Defense beat the Offense 16-0 in a scrimmage in which the defense was credited with two points each time they stopped the offense short of a first down.

Oakland Raiders — Star end Art Powell still is missing from camp. Doug Brown of Fresno State signed contract as free agent.

Orioles Again Put Pitcher Estrada On Disabled List

The 26-year-old pitcher, who won 18 games in 1960 and 15 in 1961, underwent an operation last Sept. 25 to remove a bone spur and calcium deposits from his elbow.

This season, he had pitched only 52 innings. Although Estrada's record was 3-1, his earned run average was 5.02 and he hadn't pitched since reinjuring his elbow 11 days ago. Doctors had advised Estrada it would take a year to recover completely from the operation.

Estrada's place on the roster was not filled immediately, but the Orioles are expected to recall either Herm Starrette from Rochester or Frank Bertaina from Elmira. Starrette, a right-handed reliever, was recalled June 16, appeared in five games, and was sent back to Rochester last week. He didn't report until Monday, however, and can't be recalled until a 10-day waiting period expires next Thursday.

Bertaina, a 20-year-old lefthander, has won 10 games at Elmira. He is due to pitch for the Orioles Monday night when they play an exhibition game against the Phillies in Philadelphia. His performance there may decide his immediate future.

Baltimore, perennially deep in pitching, moved to shore up a mound staff which has failed recently as the Orioles dropped from the American League lead.

Fast And Fancy Salmon Trolling; Striper Striving Reported Slow

STEVENS

I often wonder about that ubiquitous party called "They." I'd sure like to come face-to-face with the omnipresent "know-all" some time. Particularly today. How come? Just that I overheard a fellow say to a friend: "They tell me it's silly to pay out good money to go salmon trolling right now. Practically no fish being caught, and that goes for bass fishing also. They say that there are practically no bass to be caught."

How wrong can "They" be! Sure the fast and fancy salmon trolling slowed down a wee bit over the weekend, but that's a normal happening. It most certainly wasn't a washout on Monday or Tuesday.

Just for example, here is the score made by the boats out of Caruso's Sausalito Harbor on Monday: The Ma Ru unloaded 10 salmon to 18 pounds, the Lucky Lady had 7 to 22 pounds, the K.W., with Skipper Tony Weber, netted 17 fish to 15 pounds, the Hurricane had 18 to 31 pounds, the Aileen 8 to 18, the Marion 10 to 17 and the Jennie C 14 to 28 pounds. Does that sound like the salmon quit hitting? Or the two boats out of Berkeley — the Lancer had 18 salmon to 14 pounds and the Sea Horse had 18 to 18 pounds. As far as I could learn most of the above catches were made out near the Farallon Islands.

I SURE hope the mysterious Mr. They reads the above. And, too, the following: The small boat, Carlene, took a pair of limits on Monday and did the same on Tuesday. Was in his home port by 7 a.m. on Tuesday with his two limits taken near the Brothers on Bug-eye Jigs. Hal Boenner of Lee Anderson's tackle shop in Oakland, who reported the striped bass catches of the Carlene, also told me quite a few stripers have been landed from the rocky shore back of the Berkeley Cannery.

HAD "THEY" said trolling in San Pablo Bay was slow, I would agree with him, but it definitely hasn't quit cold. On Sunday the boats out of Bennett's Rodeo Marina took about a fish-per-rod, and on Monday the average was close to two-per-rod. It does seem that a part of the former large schools of bass are working their way upstream. Best bets the past couple of days have been between the Carquinez Bridge and the Black Can at Port Costa.

THE ANGLING addicts in Marin County might try their luck shore-fishing at Bolinas—quite a few bass have been taken there recently. Might get in on the derby being run out of Bolinas, too. Possible to hook a Chinook at Bolinas, as well as a flock of flounders. Lots of the flatties at the mouth of Tomales Bay, also.

SHOULD YOU have a yen to go afield for fish, such as black bass, trout and bluegills and crappies, your chances are from fair to good of making the grade. I suggest you read tomorrow's column for the dope on lake, stream and reservoir fishing chances. And, until then, goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

Former Giant 'Jabbo' Near End Of Road

ATLANTA (AP)—It's near the end of the road for former major leaguer Ray Jablonski and he says, "I don't look for another contract.

"I want to manage," he added. "I want to see if I know as much about this game as I think I do."

If longevity and versatility are any indication of his credentials, Jablonski will not be caught short.

He has spent 18 years in baseball, and during stints with the Cardinals, the Reds, the Giants and the Athletics, he has played every position but catcher and pitcher.

The 38-year-old veteran had an outstanding rookie year at St. Louis in 1953 when he batted .268, hit 21 home runs and batted in 112 runs. Now he can't break into the line-up of the last-place Atlanta Crackers of the International League.

"I can't tell you why I've been around so long," Jablonski said in an interview. "If anything, it has to be pride, plus the fact I just enjoy playing."

ONE CONSOLATION

If he doesn't get a contract after this year, he has one consolation. "I got me some records," he said. "In the majors I was the only rookie to play every game in that 157-game season. And I hold the record for RBIs for a rookie on the St. Louis Cardinals."

Jabbo also played third base in the major league All-Star game while with the Cards in 1954.

Jablonski is sure some of his records will stand. Motioning to his teammates, he said, "Some of them none of these fellows in this room will ever break because the leagues long ago folded and died."

Marin Boat House Moving

Chuck Fillingame of Marin Boat House, San Rafael, will soon be pioneering a new area of Marin. Corte Madera Creek. About Aug. 1, Chuck will move his boats, motors, marine stock and crew into his new modern quarters. Access to it is by way of the service road that parallels the 101 Highway on the east side. One block after passing the Redwood Lumber Co., this road deadends right at his new domain on the banks of the creek. George Bertram, co-owner, built and designed it.

Twenty modern stalls will fill the bill for dry storage. The large general drive-in compound is well-designed for the convenience of boaters with trailered rigs. No nuisance - manuvering will be required to back into a stall—or let the rig into the water on the newly constructed ramp.

Picture - windowed and spacious, the boat showroom will display the four-cycle Homelite outboard motors and, as Chuck says proudly, "Also the almost idiot-proof line of Boston Whaler boats."

A dockside gasoline pump is pretty sure to be a popular and an unaccustomed convenience on the creek. In the past, boaters had to buy gasoline in service stations and convey it by car—or buy it dockside in San Rafael or Tiburon as closest points.

Fillingame is well-known in Marin's marine circles, operating a boating business for 13 years. In 1951 he ended his armed forces career, assuming a partnership in the Anchorage on Boat Row in San Rafael. In 1961 he moved to a canal site on Francisco Boulevard, carrying on under the new name of Marin Boat House—and now to Corte Madera Creek!

It may be a long time before this pretty, navigable canal loses its flavor . . . a sort of timeless, quiet never-land. The specialness of its charm lies in marshland of green picklegrass, motionless herons, seagulls and the ark dwellers, who never permit themselves to hear the roar of the traffic on the highway. This complete picture is sweetly juxtaposed at the forboding base of San Quentin State Prison. There's nothing quite like it—anywhere.

Designated navigable, the creek's main function today is flood-control. To this end, extensive dredging has been promised for the near future. Tugs tow gravel barges bayward from Hutchinson's pits, setting course for the Delta.

A number of decades ago, this was a busy little stream, handling the commerce of farmer and cattleman. But now the trend is pleasure boating, and any sunny Saturday and Sunday, boats are coming and going. Stink pots and sail boats, too. On a good tide, they can cruise as far as Larkspur—often a little further.

But now, when the motor runs rough . . . when a sheer pin breaks . . . when the gas tank goes dry—there's a haven. The Marin Boat House.

Peggy Ann Lang Of Oakland Bride Of Rev. D. L. Baldwin

On Saturday at 2 p.m., Peggy Ann Lang of Oakland became the bride of the Rev. Donald Leo Baldwin in a candlelight ceremony at the First Methodist Church, San Rafael.

Officiating at the ceremony were the Rev. Leo E. Baldwin, grandfather of the bridegroom, and the Rev. Donald H. Baldwin, father of the bridegroom and pastor of the First Methodist Church of San Rafael.

Peggy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lang of Oakland, and the bridegroom is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Donald H. Baldwin of San Rafael.

Acting as matron of honor was Mrs. Scott Potter of Mountain View, a sister of the bride. She wore a gown of lavender silk-linen, and Judy Smith of San Anselmo, bridesmaid, wore a raspberry silk-linen gown.

Acting as best man was the bridegroom's brother, Frank Ryder Baldwin of San Jose; and head usher was Dr. Glen Davidson of Claremont. Other ushers were Don Sorenson and Dean Davis of San Jose.

After the two ministers had performed the double-ring ceremony, the wedding guests attended a reception held in Turley Hall.

After a honeymoon in Carmel, the couple will live near Yosemite National Park, where the bridegroom is pastor of the El Portal Community Church.

Peggy is a graduate of the Oakland High School and the American Theatre Wing in New York City. She worked for several years on Broadway, in television and in summer stock.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Merced High School and the University of the Pacific in Stockton. In June he graduated from Drew University School of Theology in Madison, N. J.

His present assignment is under the direction of the National Council of Churches, for whom he has worked for the past three summers in their National Parks Ministry Program in Mammoth Cave, Ky., and the Grand Teton National Park in Wyoming. He has also worked as ski chaplain at Timberline Lodge, Mt. Hood, Wash., and at Vail, Colo.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Marinites Are Bound For The Orient

BOUND FOR THE ORIENT aboard the President Wilson, the Sidney Coltons of San Rafael are planning stopovers in Honolulu, Hong Kong and Japan. Prior to their departure they were entertained by Marin friends at a series of bon voyage gatherings. Among the hosts and hostesses were the Alfred Bachs, Mrs. Rose Bagshaw Robbins, the Earl Whites and Melvin Roys. And the Coltons then entertained friends aboard the Wilson before sailing.

A PACIFIC voyage is in the offing also for Mrs. Philip Ehrlich Jr. of Belvedere, who with her children will sail Monday from Los Angeles aboard the Lurline for a Hawaiian visit.

THE SAM GARDINERS of Fairhills are rejoicing at news of the birth of their seventh grandchild, a son born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Birkie of Oakland. The baby has been named Wolfe Fenton and has a sister, Brooke Karla. His mother is on the faculty of San Francisco State College and his father is doing graduate work at Hastings College of Law.

PERUVIAN VISITORS are being entertained this week by the Irving Links of Novato — they are Mr. and Mrs. Juan Helguero of Piura, Peru, who own a daily newspaper in their home city. They've been seeing the points of interest in the Bay Area and today both couples left for a leisurely drive down the coast to visit the Links' son, Leland and his wife in Los Angeles. Mrs. Helguero and Mrs. Leland Links are sisters.

A FALL WEDDING in Paris is being planned by Anne-May de Bresson and Hayne Ellis Leland, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Leland of Belvedere. The bride-elect is the daughter of Viscountess Chauncey Depew de Bresson of the French capital and the late Viscount de Bresson. Hayne, a Harvard graduate, is taking graduate work at London School of Economics.

YESTERDAY Mrs. Mary I. Bulkley of San Anselmo celebrated her 83rd birthday, but Sunday was a gala occasion for her — sitting rinkside at the Ice Follies with her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Bulkley of San Anselmo, she received two dozen American Beauty roses from skating star Richard Dwyer during the performance. On hand too were her young granddaughters Julie and Tammy Bulkley.

COL. AND MRS. Gardiner B. Jones of Novato are looking forward to a visit with their granddaughter, Nancy Kay Jones, 14, who arrived by plane from Honolulu today. Nancy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner B. Jones Jr. plans to stay with her grandparents until the beginning of the school term. Her father is assistant editor of the Honolulu Advertiser.

NEWS FROM the Victor H. Wollmanns, who are now in England during extended travels abroad, is that the couple is making tentative plans to tour New England in the fall before returning to Sausalito after Christmas.

Marin Officers To Attend Meet

Mrs. Arthur Luchetti of Corte Madera, first vice president, and Mrs. Lewis Deu Pree of Ross, auditor, will head the Marin County members of the Golden Gate District, California Federation of Women's Clubs at the summer conference to be held in San Francisco on Monday at the International Institute, 2209 Van Ness Ave.

The summer conference is an opportunity for the federated club presidents and chairmen in Marin, San Francisco and San Mateo counties to meet for an exchange of ideas.

I-J June Brides Winner Told

The wife of a staff sergeant at Ft. Baker, Mrs. MacLeod won for the earliest postmarked entry of the correct guess among 658 entries submitted from throughout Marin and one from British Columbia.

Hairsprays May Cause Irritations Of Skin

During 1962, at the peak of popularity of the beehive coiffure (maintenance of which calls for repeated sprayings) Dr. Baker treated an unusually large number of teen-age girls for eruptions on forehead, face and neck. Questioning revealed that these patients used hair spray intensively, some as often as 25 times. If you use a hair spray, wear a cosmetic mask, Baker suggested.

Girl Scout Camp Sessions Underway Throughout Marin

Mrs. Kenneth B. Brown of San Rafael, chairman of the Girl Scout Day Camp Committee, announced that more than 300 of Marin's Brownie and Junior Scouts, 65 mothers, and 15 Cadette and Senior Scout aides are busy with day camp these days.

Camp sites are the Lions' Club picnic area at Stafford Dam, Novato, and Arequipa and Sky Oaks in Fairfax. The camp program includes nature study, hiking, cook-outs, story telling, impromptu dramatics, arts and crafts, camp skills, singing, and at Arequipa instructional swimming. Junior Scouts, aged 9 to 11, spend one overnight at the site, cooking their own dinner, and singing camp songs and toasting marshmallows around the campfire in the evening.

There are four two-week sessions throughout the summer. Day campers gather in units: 16 to 20 Brownies per unit, 20 to 32 Juniors per unit. The staff members for the day camp program, including business manager, nurses, and swimming instructor are volunteers.

The purpose of Girl Scout camping is to develop in each girl and leader resourcefulness, initiative, self-reliance, and the recognition of the worth of the individual.

By PHIL FRADKIN
(Second of two articles)

The appeal of Marin County to firms seeking to establish community antenna television systems in its cities stems from sudden awareness of a lucrative market.

Somehow Marin County got neglected along the way, except for franchises granted in Sausalito and Fairfax, and the antenna systems companies only woke up to the fact this spring.

"Apparently we discovered a sleeping giant. There is a great market in Marin," says Dick Webster, general manager of Clear View Cable Systems Inc. in Fairfax.

Lindsey Spight, president of Television Communications Inc. and of Tele-Vue Systems of Marin Inc., has stated, "There is no question that in obtaining a franchise, a more than competitive battle is taking place in Marin."

The third principal in the battle, Robert Lewis of Bob's TV in San Rafael, says: "There is not the potential here that is indicated by the applications. This will not spread throughout the whole county. It will be gradual and in small areas."

These three firms have applications pending before six cities. Belvedere, Tiburon and Novato have received no applications. However, the Novato city staff is preparing for "requests." Fairfax and Sausalito have already granted franchises.

San Anselmo City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt has had at least two dozen inquiries—one of which was from a Bakersfield firm. "I am loaded with cards. They keep coming in like flies," Flautt said.

Cable systems originated in the northwest. They spread down the coast, going first to those areas where the reception was non-existent and then to those where it was marginal.

They were installed in San Francisco. Then the East Bay got the influx. Apparently it is Marin County's turn now.

"They will take away from our antenna sales, installations and service of antennas. It will put some of the small guys out of business," Hoy says.

He also predicted that television reception would not generally be improved throughout the county with cable systems. In such hill areas as Fairfax, the reception would be improved. But in San Rafael, Hoy said, it would remain about the same.

Spight disagrees with Hoy. The president of the antenna system firm said: "Television dealers get nervous when construction on a cable system starts. Antennas are a profitless deal for dealers and are a nuisance. They make money on sales and service of television sets. We will do no service work on sets."

What will the prospective subscriber get out of having his television set hooked up to a community antenna system?

According to those promoting the cables in Marin County, reception will be "very satisfactory, first class, excellent, superior and unusually fine."

Ten television channels, including color transmissions, will be brought into the home plus all available FM stations. Multiplex will be included in the package deal.

The cables will run from master antennas located on hills or high ridges with a direct line-of-sight to San Francisco. From the master antennas, cables will run down the hills to homes where individual installations will be made.

The proposed franchises for control of the cable systems by cities exclude the possibility of subscription television being run through the systems. However, this could be done at some future time.

The subscriber, according to current proposals, gets a trial period of either one or two weeks, depending on the firm servicing his area. At the end of that time his money is refunded if the service is not satisfactory.

The franchise ordinance being considered by most cities calls for the city council to approve the agreement which would be signed between the subscriber and the antenna system company.

The charge approved by the Fairfax City Council provides for a $25 connection fee and a monthly service charge of $5.50. There are two alternatives. For renters there is a simple $6.50 a month service charge with no installation fee, and there is a plan for homeowners calling for a $50 installation fee and a $4.50 a month service charge.

Television Communications Inc. is considering a single charge of $25 for installation and a $5 a month service fee. This would depend on approval by city councils. The same fee is charged by the company in the City of Pleasanton.

Demos Invite Marin GOP

S. Robert Politzer of Sausalito, chairman of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs, today invited all "responsible Republicans to join with the Democratic clubs in defeating the extremists who have taken over the Republican Party."

Politzer said he has received several inquiries from Marin Republicans asking how they can work against Sen. Barry Goldwater.

"All seven Democratic clubs in Marin will welcome those Republicans who wish to work againts the John Birch Society and the other groups who now have unchallenged control of one of the two major political parties in the United States," said Politzer.

Cal-Vet Farm Home Program Is Doing Well

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Veterans Affairs Director Joseph M. Farber said yesterday things couldn't be better as far as the Cal-Vet farm and home purchases program is concerned.

He said the fund's over-all surplus was more than 44 million dollars with 77 million dollars cash on hand.

"In addition to that," he added, "1964 is the first time since World War II that we have not gone to the people every two years asking for bond authorization. We still have 250 million dollars worth of unsold bonds authorized by the people in 1962."

The Cal-Vet program is supported entirely by bonds voted by the people, with administrative costs paid from veterans interest payments on their loans.

AGAINST SEASIDE SKYSCRAPERS

Millionaire Fights For His Privacy

By JOSEPH GLADSTONE

LONDON (WPS) — One man's objections to the building of a skyscraper block of apartments in the seaside resort of Bournemouth has been making news headlines here. The objector, who says the apartments would overlook his house and thus infringe on his privacy, is none other than Sir John Reeves Ellerman, Britain's richest and most secretive man.

Ellerman has a private fortune calculated at 120 million dollars at the very least. He has spent a good deal of his money ensuring the strictest possible privacy. Reporters, British and others, who have tried for years to interview him, have never succeeded. Few people even know what he looks like; even newspaper libraries have only one or two pictures of him.

If Sir John were a key figure in the Secret Service he could not take more care to conceal his most trivial move.

Servants are warned not to talk about him. A maid quizzed by this correspondent protested that she had never even set eyes on him.

Since Ellerman is the head of a shipping empire, one would suppose he'd be bound to have many contacts. But finding them is difficult.

Just along the street from his home in Eastbourne is St. Peter's Church. For many years the vicar there has been the Rev. W. Norburn. Yet until I told him, the Rev. Norburn had no idea that Sir John Ellerman even lived in the district.

The multi-millionaire usually leaves and arrives at his Eastbourne home after midnight. Once there, he disappears behind the high walls topped by barbed wire. Called The Seven Gables, each of the 21 rooms contains a radio receiver and a telephone, and each phone has an extension to his chauffeur's lodge. But I could not trace anyone who has ever received a call from Sir John. His name can not be found in the phone directory nor, indeed, in any directory.

He does not have a Rolls-Royce because he feels that would attract attention. So his chauffeur, a faithful retainer named Harry Minter, drives him around in one of several small cars.

Sir John and his wife like to go for walks on the seafront. Minter, making sure nobody is following, drives them out of town to a deserted section. Then Sir John—wearing old flannel trousers and sport jacket, and swinging a stick—and his wife—in tweeds and golf shoes—stroll along the clifftops, unrecognized.

Sir John has a lot of money invested in breweries, but he is a complete teetotaler. He smokes, but not much. He likes plain food, and his favorite meal is the old English standby: roast beef, roast potatoes and cabbage. He rounds off with cheese and biscuits. There is never anything sweet on his menu.

His wife likes fancy foods and tries every foreign dish she hears about. So their cooks always have to prepare two separate meals for the Ellermans.

Both are 54 years old.

Sir John's lifelong hobby has been rats. For years he went to the London Zoo to collect polished skulls or rare specimens, which he studied in his own well-equipped laboratory at Eastbourne..

He measured thousands of bones and teeth, and noted slight variations. From collectors all over the world he borrowed and compared skulls, teeth and skins. The result of his lengthy research is two volumes titled, "The Families and Genera of Living Rodents," by J. R. Ellerman. It can be found in the London Museum Library.

This correspondent has spoken with Sir John, not as a newspaperman but because we both deal with politicians — he, of necessity. The British shipping industry has been going through a difficult time, and the shy millionaire has been having one or two secret meetings with leading Members of Parliament.

In this situation he appeared to me to be a nice, ordinary sort of fellow who spoke quietly but clearly when discussing the shipping business. He has the authoritive air of a man who has spent a lifetime getting his own way. But after the business discussion, he appeared lost.

When it was over, he went through the routine of making arrangements to insure that the reporters and photographers outside did not catch him. Large cars with chauffeurs were sent to the front entrance of the building, while Ellerman nipped down to the rear entrance where Minter awaited him in a battered old car.

Sir John is said to dislike children, also dogs.

"She falls in with Sir John's wishes," I was told by a friend. The marriage has been a success, and they are very happy together."

Barbecue Set

Fairfax Parlor 307 of the Native Sons of the Golden West will hold its annual barbecue at 6 p.m. Aug. 1 at Keaton's Shack in Sonoma. Reservations may be made with chairman Nick Roselli of 66 Crestwood Drive, San Rafael, or Charles Monte, co-chairman, of 330 Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo.

Lake Pend Oreille in northwest Idaho is said to have the world's largest rainbow trout, weighing up to 38 pounds.

Mothers Asked To Keep Children Out Of Project

Tamalpais Valley mothers were asked today to caution their children to stay away from heavy equipment being used in the valley in connection with work on the Coyote Creek flood control project.

H. F. Unger, field engineer with the Army Corps of Engineers, said the request is a safety measure since workmen are using such equipment as cranes, caterpillars, compressors and trucks strung out over about a mile and one-half. The equipment has back-up horns, said Unger.

Work is in its second week by the Elmer J. Freethy Co. of El Cerrito. Two buildings have been razed and nine houses are being moved. Half of the right-of-way for the project is cleared so far. Work began yesterday to build a new and longer bridge on Flamingo Road, which now is blocked to traffic.

The project is expected to take between five and six months to complete.

Lower Deck On Bridge 'Feasible'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An engineer said yesterday surveys show it would be feasible to build a lower deck on the Golden Gate Bridge if the heavy sidewalks on the present deck were altered.

The engineer, Milton Brumer, told two bridge district committees the sidewalks weigh one ton per foot so it might be necessary to eliminate one and narrow the other.

Brumer's surveying firm, Ammann and Whitney, was the original consultant on the bridge. It also served as general engineer for the new New York narrows bridge.

Speaking to the Golden Gate Bridge District's building-operating and insurance ccommittees Brumer said:

"We're very much encouraged. A lower deck is feasible."

Problem Of Caterer On Rec Agenda

Mill Valley parks and recreation commissioners will discuss a frequently recurring problem at their meeting Monday at 8 p.m.: Supplying a caterer and custodian for the municipal golf clubhouse.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer has told the city council the present method should be abandoned. He said Mr. and Mrs. Werner Korreng, who began in March, have given excellent service as caterers, with the added job of custodian, but have advised him they are quitting, since they are not making enough money from the operation.

Part of the problem, said Balmer, is that groups which use the clubhouse take their own food rather than purchase food from the caterers.

Balmer has asked the commission to advise the city council of its recommendation. His own recommendations are: (1) that the clubhouse be used only by organizations and groups which have rented space; (2) that rentals be realistic and related to actual costs of operation (present rates are much too low, he contends); (3) that the building be open only at time of use by groups which have rented space. It is now open from morning until late at night.

Marin County Won't Test Dead Raccoon For Rabies

A raccoon, shot in Belvedere by a policeman Sunday evening, will not be tested for rabies, the Marin County Health Department announced today.

The raccoon was sitting on the roof of the Herbert G. Drake home at 213 Golden Gate Avenue when it was shot. It appeared unafraid of people. The body was taken to the health department for testing.

However, Emma Gilman, health education officer, said today that investigation showed the animal had been fed for some time by residents of the neighborhood, which explained its lack of fear.

There was no evidence that the raccoon had exhibited any symptoms of rabies or come in direct contact with humans.

"We can't test every animal," Mrs. Gilman said.

New York made Memorial Day a state observance in 1873. Soon all states except a few in the South followed New York's example.

Two Non-Profit Groups File For Incorporation

Two non-profit groups involving Marinites have filed incorporation papers with Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan.

One is the Muir Woods Natural History Assn. Its directors are park superintendent James L. McLaughlin of Muir Woods National Monument, Arthur A. Volz, also of Muir Woods, and Hilary H. Crawford Jr. of San Francisco.

The other is Surfwood Improvement Co., formed to take title to park easements and "green belt" strips in a Mendocino County housing development.

Young Arsonists' Parents Should Pay For Damage

Marin County's fire departments seek to do more than fight the dangerous series of arson-proven and suspected fires with loss of property, threats of spreading into major conflagrations, and the outlay of firemen's time and taxpayers' money to combat them. They will actively support enactment of a new state law to hold parents financially responsible for all such fires traced to juveniles.

Agreement to sponsor such a measure was reached at a recent meeting of the Marin County Assn. of Fire Departments.

It is high time that something be done in this field. State and federal authorities for years have been gradually overcoming that vicious practice of make-work days; setting forest fires in order to get pay for fire-fighting work. But even this dubious motive doesn't enter into the picture of suspicious fires that are sweeping in grass, brush and tree areas in ominously increasing numbers. Nor wanton starting of fires in unoccupied houses, or automobiles.

A fire started by juveniles in the Northwestern Pacific railway tunnel through Puerto Suello Hill in 1961 has disrupted rail traffic to this day. It also has resulted in expenditure of many thousands of dollars in a long-drawn legal fight as to whether the tunnel should be rebuilt. Seven arson-caused fires in one day at Marin City brought an appalling new firefighting hazard: throwing rocks at firemen and others helping extinguish the blazes.

There are far too many sudden blazes classed as "not from natural causes" in Marin because evidence pointed to arson. It is not confined to one area, either.

Stickers and billboards urging care with matches or campfires are obeyed by most of our people. But in this current menacing time of fires due to youths with matches, the only effective "sticker" will be creating that state law making minors' parents financially responsible for such fire loss.

Wallace Withdrawal From Race For President Is Help To Barry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alabama's segregationist governor, George C. Wallace, is no novice in hopping from position to position. He has hopped again, this time announcing his withdrawal as an independent candidate for president.

This will certainly benefit Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate, who has said no Republican could hope to win this year's election without the South.

GOLDWATER, who voted against this year's civil rights bill, was expected to cut into President Lyndon B. Johnson's Southern margin by capturing a lot of the segregationists' votes. But Wallace would have won a lot of them, too, if he ran.

By running, Wallace would probably have hurt Goldwater more than Johnson.

Wallace said he would support whichever major party candidate proved to be the more conservative and zealous in upholding the principles of free enterprise, local government and state's rights. It's Goldwater who has made a career of championing all those points.

IT SEEMS hardly a coincidence, therefore, that Wallace stepped out of the race just four days after Goldwater got the Republican nomination.

His present reluctance to name his choice can be interpreted as an attempt to pressure the Democrats into toning down the civil rights plank in the platform they nail together at the convention, since he's a leader of the anti-civil rights forces and the Southern vote is important.

The Republican civil rights plank is surely milder than anything the Democrats are likely to produce if only because it was their Democratic-run Congress under Johnson's pressure which passed the new Civil Rights Act this month.

EVEN SOME Republicans thought their plank didn't go far enough, but their attempts to strengthen it were crushed by Goldwater forces.

Wallace surprised politicians earlier this year with the votes he ran up in Democratic presidential primaries in Maryland, Indiana and Wisconsin. He zigzagged on what he was going to do.

At one time he said he wouldn't be a presidential candidate. Then he came around to saying he would be a serious one. Now he has changed again.

ASKED RECENTLY if he would enforce the new civil rights law, Wallace replied that was for the federal government to do, although, he said, he never encouraged disobedience or defiance of any law. He forgot about 1963.

Last year when a federal court ordered desegregation of the University of Alabama and the admittance of two Negroes, Wallace said he would bar their entrance himself, adding: "This is legal resistance and legal defiance."

He barred the door and the late President John F. Kennedy had to federalize the Alabama National Guard before Wallace would step aside. Then he trotted away.

INCOME TAXES BRING ON INSOMNIA

Sleepless nights and income taxes seem to go together for more than a few people.

One man, however, who tried to solve his tax problems and his insomnia, wrote the Bureau of Internal Revenue: "I am enclosing $28.00. I haven't been able to sleep for the last four years because I cheated the government out of $56.00 on my income tax."

And then he added: "If I find I still can't sleep, I'll send you the other $28.00."

Paying taxes is seldom a pleasant duty. But until another and better way of providing the essential services of good government is found, every citizen is expected to shoulder his fair share of the tax burden.

Those who dodge their tax obligations might think twice if they would stop to realize the consequences of their selfish omission. They leave it to others to pay for the privileges of the liberty they enjoy.

Show that you appreciate the freedom God wishes each of us to possess by cheerfully fulfilling the responsibilities that accompany every right.

"Render to all men whatever is their due; tribute to whom tribute is due; taxes to whom taxes are due." (Romans 13:7)

Grant, O Lord, that I may conscientiously live up to my obligations as a good citizen.

Outlook On Jobless Insurance Not Very Good For Employers

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The economic situation in California presents a real paradox at the present time, and while business looks forward to an excellent 1964, straws in the wind indicate some declines as the result of curtailment of federal spending.

This is from a report issued by the California Retailers Assn., an organization composed of both large and small retailers in virtually all fields of selling to the public.

PARTICULARLY, the association has centered much of its effort in service to its members along the lines of analyzing and guiding the legislative activity in regard to unemployment insurance, a program in which every employer in the State of California is interested.

Along with an upward swing in California employment, the association expects the unemployment insurance fund to gain from 20 to 30 million dollars during the year.

But, even with the expected increase, California employers aren't going to be able to take advantage of the middle bracket on insurance tax rates, as it is expected the balance at the end of the year will be at least 155 million dollars short of the target which would, according to law, bring the middle bracket of rates into effect.

THE AVERAGE RATE for employers this year is 3 per cent of the payroll, one of the highest in the country. It is equalled by Maryland, and surpassed only by Michigan, Pennsylvania and Wyoming. Some 23 per cent of California employers are taxed at the maximum rate of 3.5 per cent of the payroll. Compared with other states, 21 have tax rates higher than 3.5 per cent in effect. But the dollar volume is lower, as the other states do not have as many employers.

Factually, the unemployment insurance fund is not in much danger of "going broke," as long as business conditions remain as they are, or continue to get better. But should real disaster in the form of a sudden dearth of employment hit rapidly, the results would be catastrophic.

MORE THAN 40,000 persons draw unemployment insurance in California, amounting to around a half a billion dollars a year. These are known as the "regulars," and the total is not expected to decrease because of improved business conditions, for the simple reason the labor market keeps growing with added in-state people ready for jobs, and also with the influx of people from out of state. Keeping the total at a level is considered good.

While the unemployment insurance fund, fully supported by employers, continues to be on a questionable basis, consideration is being given to increasing coverage, and also benefit amounts. An Assembly interim committee is studying the effects covering farm workers, government employees, persons employed by nonprofit organizations, and others who have sought for years to be under the program.

An Assembly committee on finance and insurance is studying other factors, such as employment patterns of claimants, prior insurance experience, contributions to family living standards, family status and other characteristics.

It is possible by the time the legislative session starts next year, the committee should come up with some answers.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Bouquets Given In Gas Scare

Editor, Independent Journal:

Along with the other folks living in the Monte Christo tract, adjacent to the Meadow Club, my husband and I, plus our two little Yorkshire terriers were involved in the chlorine gas scare early Sunday morning.

We want to express gratitude and indeed pride in the truly noble work done by the Marin County Sheriff's office, the Fire Department, the Fairfax Disaster group for evacuating us all so swiftly, efficiently and courteously. Further, the Red Cross made coffee and donuts available to all wanting same.

It was a comfort and relief, too, to see Marin County Humane Society trucks rushing to the scene under the personal supervision of director Mel Morse.

Sees No Need To Leave GOP

Editor, Independent-Journal:

My regrets that Mr. (Keith D.) Curry in (the I-J) July 18 finds it necessary to leave the Republican Party because the bed is too hard and the bed of the liberal wing of the Democratic Party is softer. . . .

Before I believe that "terrorism, threats, intimidations, and slander have used to force the conservative wing into power," I would need more proof than Governor Rockefeller standing on the podium crying like a child whose sucker has been taken away. . . .

The conservative take over was similar to the Kennedy take over, except young manpower was used instead of money. . . .

Mr. Curry would have been further frightened had he been at the Mark Hopkins and Fairmont and seen the hundreds of clean cut young men and attractive girls from 18 to 25 from every state in the union working 20 hours a day for an ideal. . . .

Two things I look forward to seeing in the new year is the inauguration of Goldwater and Earl Warren holding the Bible.

Thanks Is Given In Fairfax Blaze

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Being part of the evacuation early Sunday morning from Upper Bolinas Road in Fairfax, I want to thank and commend the following:

The Griddle Restaurant, who permitted six families, including about 15 children to crowd into their place at 4 o'clock in the morning, opened up part of their closed portion for regular customers, and let us all sit there, just drinking coffee and chocolate for the youngsters until we knew where to go. Marin hospitality! and then some.

And (to) the Humane Society (for) permitted me to dump three dogs, minus collars, tags, my name . . . in their shelter and then sent up four trucks with men to gather up strays, protect the horses at the stables, etc. Then, upon picking up my dogs on Monday morning, no charge! Please, all my neighbors on the hill and others who read this, send in very badly needed contributions.

As for the wonderful job the Red Cross, Civilian Disaster Relief and the wonderful nuns from St. Rita's I will not elaborate as they have already been thoroughly thanked by other neighbors.

Almost forgot the sheriff's office and firemen who were injured and those who weren't—we may complain about traffic tags, warning on burning and a few other minor things but, believe me, when we need them, they are on the job risking themselves to see that we are all right.

It was quite an experience and thoroughly convinced me that all that's wrong in this world is the lack of communication, understanding and appreciation of other people.

Somewhere in this, the teenagers who went down to the restaurant in Fairfax and worked from 5 to 8 getting all the evacuees fed for the Red Cross need to be thanked also.

Says Rumford Act Goal Misstated

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On page 10 of the July 17 issue of the I-J, Mr. Henry C. MacArthur in an article titled "Affairs of State / California Cities League Attacked For Opposition To Proposition 14" describes the Rumford Act as follows:

"The act as it now stands removes the right of property owners to dispose of their own property as they choose and submit to dictation of government in the form of the Fair Employment Practices Commission."

How can I make this assertion? Because Sec. 35742 in chapter 5 of the Rumford Fair Housing Act says:

"Nothing contained in this part shall be construed to prohibit selection based upon factors other than race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry."

So, "the major purpose of the initiative, which is to maintain the constitutional right of the property owner to handle his own private property as he so chooses" (Mr. MacArthur's closing paragraph), is nothing less than a "right" to practice discrimination because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry. It can only be this, because the Rumford Fair Housing Act (and all other existing fair housing legislation) deals with no other subject. And I don't think anyone pro or con Proposition 14 has any doubt on that score whatsoever.

To me, this issue is a moral one of great magnitude involving my relationship to God and my fellow man. I say Mr. Henry C. MacArthur's arguments are false and my vote will be no to Proposition 14 on November 3.

A MORTIFIED LADY motorist was hauled before a village justice of the peace by a motorcycle cop who announced, "Judging by the way this here woman handles a car in traffic, I don't think she can see very well."

The justice didn't look too surprised. "We'll just give her the little old eye test," he said. "Lady, please read the third line of that chart on the wall."

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Goldwater To Make Cuba A Key Issue

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Sen. Barry Goldwater intends to make Communist-ruled Cuba the principal foreign policy issue of his "no punches pulled" drive for the White House.

Still under consideration is a dramatic proposal for Goldwater to launch his all-out attack on the "failure" of the Kennedy-Johnson administrations' Cuban policies with a nation-wide televised address from Key West, Fla.—90 miles from Castro's Red bastion.

THIS SPECTACULAR plan is being urged on Goldwater on these grounds:

It would be "characteristically dynamic" and is actually certain to make a powerful impression on U. S. voters.

It would impart to his discussion of the tensely controversial problem special "immediacy and vividness."

And his address would serve as the opening shot in his fight to sweep the South—a basic factor in his strategy to win the presidency.

THE OTHER deeply "emotional issue," as they see it, is the backlash on civil rights.

It can be stated positively that this will not be publicly exploited in any way. At the same time no secret is made of the belief that the "fallout" resulting from persistent demonstrations, violence and other disturbances will potently redound to Goldwater's benefit.

In castigating the Democratic record on Communist-dominated Cuba, the Republican presidential candidate will propound a concrete program of his own. He will propose both direct and indirect U. S. measures to "liberate the Cuban people" by intensifying pressure on Castro "both from within and from without." Toward that end Goldwater will advocate the following specific actions:

Providing U. S. arms and financial aid to Cuban refugees, and permitting them to train and operate from bases in the U. S. as well as the Caribbean.

Establishing and recognizing a Cuban government in exile.

Intensifying the economic blockade against the island.

TOP ASSISTANTS of Goldwater are firmly convinced his advocacy of such a militant program will evoke wide and enthusiastic response among Democrats as well as Republicans, both in the North and in the South.

To assist him in formulating and presenting his views and proposals on foreign and domestic issues, the Republican nominee will set up a number of "task forces" headed by leading authorities in their field.

Under consideration for director of the foreign policy task force is Robert Strausz-Hupe, 60, head of the Foreign Policy Research Institute of the University of Pennsylvania. A vigorous advocate of the hard-line approach in relations with Communist regimes, Strausz-Hupe also favors stronger U. S. ties with western European nations, particularly France and West Germany.

ANOTHER LIKELY member of this task force is Stefan T. Possony, 50, of the Hoover Institute of Stanford University. Like Goldwater, Possony opposed the nuclear test ban treaty and is against selling grain to Communist countries unless they grant major concessions in the cold war.

Other task forces and experts who will be asked to serve on them are:

Dr. Edward Teller, noted atomic scientist and "father" of the H-bomb; Milton Friedman, University of Chicago monetary authority; Karl D. Butler, former Cornell University agricultural specialist; G. Warren Nutter, University of Virginia economist; Gottfried Haberler, Harvard economist; Gerhard Wiemeyer, Notre Dame political scientist.

Slated to be coordinator of the task force is Edward A. McCabe, 40, Washington attorney, now Goldwater's chief research assistant. McCabe was assistant general counsel on President Dwight D. Eisenhower's White House staff, and has been one of Goldwater's key advisers.

'Enrichment' College Courses Are Clarified For Trustees

MARIN JUNIOR COLLEGE District board members asked some pointed questions last week about courses being offered for the fall semester adult education program.

Kent O. Seymour, the "conservative" member of the board, asked Ellsworth R. Briggs, dean of the extended day and adult education program, on a course entitled "recorder playing (beginning and intermediate)".

Briggs admitted that this course had stumped the State Department of Education which had asked if the college was planning to teach adults how to put records on a phonograph.

No, Briggs said, this was not the case. It is a course designed to teach persons how to play a musical instrument, the predecessor of the flute, whose use is being revived.

Board member Robert E. Rogers asked if a course called "human relations for supervisors" was aimed at a certain five-man board which governs unincorporated areas.

BRIGGS REPLIED that the course had a wider appeal. It was aimed at persons in supervisorial and foremen's positions who would be taught how to deal with those persons under them.

A request was made by the board to change the name of the "preparation for European travel course," since it sounded too much like a course which imparted such essential knowledge as how many tooth brushes one should pack for a three-week tour of Europe.

Briggs said the course name would be changed, pointing out that persons taking it were shown slides and given lectures on the cultures of various European countries.

Lest we become too cynical and unbalanced in our report, let us look at how and for whom the program is designed.

About two-thirds, or 100 courses at night, are designed for "enrichment." The remaining one-third of the courses are given for credit and center mainly around the hard-core academic subjects.

Briggs, in explaining the make-up of the adult education program, states that a survey made by the college disclosed that those persons taking the credit courses are mostly young and seeking to better themselves through education.

THOSE TAKING the non-credit courses are in an older age bracket. "They have had all the education they need and are now after enrichment," he said. Thus, a doctor could sign up for "survey of American jazz" or a lawyer could become interested in "lapidary art."

It seems, judging from numbers alone, that all types of persons have taken advantage of the course offerings. Last school year, a faculty of 100 instructors taught 52 credit courses with 1,800 students and 95 non-credit courses with 3,200 students.

About one-half the adult education program is financed by the state, one-fourth by taxes gathered by the junior college district and one-fourth by student fees.

Briggs points out that the College of Marin's program is in the top 10 per cent of those programs being offered by junior colleges in the state in terms of the number of course offerings and breadth of the program.

Some colleges, he states, only offer credit courses.

State Water Recreation Cost

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—William E. Warne, state director of water resources, estimated yesterday that recreation facilities within the vast state water project would cost 214 million dollars during the next 20 years.

Warne told the Assembly interim committee on water that the figure represented about 10 per cent of the project's total cost, now estimated at 2.14 billion dollars.

The project approved by voters in 1960, is designed to carry surplus Northern California water to arid regions of Southern California through a system of dams, reservoirs, aqueducts and pumping plants.

Most People Drink One Ton Or More Of Water Every Year

Most people drink a ton or more of water each year. It is second only to air as an essential to human life.

AMERICA IS still the givingest nation on earth. Our contributions to philanthropic causes rose from 5.4 billion dollars in 1954 to 10 billion dollars in 1963.

Does your dog have keen hearing? If he does, he should be able to hear a watch tick up to 40 feet away.

Bats frighten the ladies and are often taken as a symbol of doom. But the Mayans worshipped the bat as a god and to the Chinese the flying mammals are a sign of good luck. In India and New Guinea bats are an item on the gourmet's menu.

One reason doctor bills are so high: A modern X-ray therapy machine can cost $100,000 or more.

The ordinary worker makes about seven job changes between the ages of 20 and 65. Most of the time he has to make them whether he wants to or not. It is estimated that of some 8.5 million job changes this year only 14 per cent will be voluntary.

ONE AMERICAN in five is fat, and probably getting fatter as he grows older. Salt often contributes to overweight. We need only about a quarter of a teaspoon of salt daily, but many people take from five to 20 times that much.

We're all interested in how famous people have managed to keep their health and vitality into old age. This is the advice of financier Bernard Baruch: "Always do one thing less than you think you can do."

It was Winston Churchill who observed, "I am an optimist. It does not seem too much use being anything else."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

A political fair where the public could meet all Congressional, state and local candidates for office was held at College of Marin. Only 200 people showed up.

A confused Reed School District board of trustees election was clarified finally, and J. Franklin Hogue, a salesman of Bel Aire, was declared elected.

20 YEARS AGO

Mill Valley Planning Commissioner Morette declared the sewage disposal method now in practice, that of dumping refuse in the bay, will become a thing of the past at the end of the war. He proposed an initial bond issue of $75,000 to establish a treatment plant suitable for a city of 6,000.

Today is Thursday, July 23, the 205th day of 1964 with 161 to follow.

On this day in history:

In 1886, New York tavern keeper Steve Brodie claimed he had jumped off the Brooklyn Bridge into the East River.

In 1945, Henry Petain, former French Chief of state, went on trial for treason in Paris.

A thought for the day—Franklin D. Roosevelt said: "The Truth is found when men are free to pursue it."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

True Bridge Players Must Sometimes Be A Bit Selfish

The trouble with most of us is we're too unselfish. We're always thinking of others, never of ourselves. What we need, at the bridge table especially, is more selfishness. I wouldn't tell you this if I couldn't prove it with a bridge hand.

Opening lead — ♠ 3

East won the first trick with the ace of spades and returned a spade for his partner to ruff. It was a fine beginning — two tricks already in the bag, and none for South. Maybe this was the day that declarer was never going to make a trick.

As you can see, East was a dreamer. By the time he woke up, declarer had scored the game and rubber.

It didn't matter what West led back at the third trick. South could win a club or a diamond and lead a trump. East could win with the ace of trumps, but West was now out of trumps; and the defenders were out of tricks. South could easily draw another trump and claim the rest of the tricks.

TOO FAST

East was too fast to consider his partner's welfare when he returned a spade at the second trick. This play would give West a ruff, but East should have been thinking of a ruff for himself.

At the second trick East must return his singleton club. South wins and returns a trump.

Now it is time for East to remember his partner. East takes the first trump trick with the ace and returns a spade for West to ruff. West is then in position to return a club, and East ruffs. This gives the defenders four tricks instead of only three.

The point is that West's ruffing trick is also an entry—the only entry to the West hand. East can make good use of that entry only if he first clears the singleton club out of his hand.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player bids three diamonds (weak jump overcall). You hold:

♠ Q J 5 2
♥ K Q 8
♦ 7
♣ 10 8 6 5 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid four spades.

You would probably bid three spades with three low hearts, just on the strong trumps and the singleton. The heart strength is worth a higher bid. In this situation a raise to three is grudging; you must jump to show real strength.

BARGAIN AUCTION

Navy Upping Anchor At Old Net Depot

If you're in the market for a 6,000-pound fluked anchor, a 45-foot, 930-pound chain, or an old overhead crane, the Navy is having a bargain auction at what used to be the Tiburon Net Depot.

The material is being cleared out to make way for takeover by the Department of the Interior, making possible expanded and more permanent facilities for the interior research offices "renting" space there.

The Navy in the past year and a half has sold some 15 million dollars worth of machinery, fittings, tools and furniture to close out its net depot operation, Cecil Layton, a disposal technician reported.

Another eight to 10 million dollars worth of supplies and equipment has been transferred to other military bases, Layton said. Two sales next month will almost completely clear out salable material.

Prospective buyers may view materials from July 30 to Aug. 19 when sealed bids will be opened on such things as nine spherical floats weighing 680 pounds each, which are 58 inches in diameter and originally cost the government $575 each. Buyers already have snapped up about 4,500 of them for such uses as water tanks.

There are approximately 450 anchors left, weighing 3,000 to 6,000 pounds each and originally costing about $1,000 each.

There are items such as 30 wire rope sockets, shackles, lengths of 45-foot-long 1½ and 1¼-inch chain weighing from 930 to 700 pounds each.

Viewing of "scrap" items which are expected to be the last materials sold from the base will be from Aug. 7 to Aug. 27 when sealed bids will be opened.

The "scrap" includes an overhead crane, cable winch and flat bed truck in not very good condition, and 124,800 pounds of zinc castings.

Collision Brings Damage Suit

A $100,000 personal injury damage suit has been filed in Marin Superior Court by Jose Gallina, 44 Martens Boulevard, San Rafael, in a March 19 traffic collision in San Rafael.

Gallina, represented by attorney Robert D. Marshall Jr., also of San Rafael, alleges Alex Kandis, San Francisco, was negligent in operating his northbound automobile on East Francisco Boulevard and the accident resulted.

Gallina charges he suffered mental and physical damages.

Worker Improving

Jack Silva, foreman for the city of Mill Valley, is recovering at Marin General Hospital from two fractures of the left leg suffered about a week ago when he was struck by a ditch digging machine. Silva, who lives at 16 Ryan Avenue, is expected to be in the hospital for several weeks, according to his wife.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

A severe burn injures the largest organ of the body. It also is an illness because the charred tissues create chemical changes involving electrolytes and proteins. When this balance is altered, the efficiency of many other organs of the body is disturbed. In addition, the victim may develop complications such as pneumonia, hepatitis, or stroke.

THE CARE OF these individuals presents problems that seldom are discussed. It is so time-consuming only the very poor and the very rich can afford it. Hospitalization may continue for months. Hours of daily care from nurses, physicians, and other attendants are required.

When a large area of the skin is involved, the person is helpless and must be cleaned, fed, and helped with all bodily functions. A tube is placed in his stomach and in the bladder and needles in the veins for intravenous feeding. He cannot see or hear if large bandages cover the eyes and ears.

THUS, HE MAY be isolated completely from the world. Any movement is painful because it stretches or rubs the burned part. Complications add to his misery. Coughing hurts and infections irritate the involved skin.

The charred skin requires meticulous attention. Surgeons beg people to donate skin to cover the large raw areas. These grafts seldom last more than three or four weeks but help pull the victim through the early and more critical period. The patient's own skin will be used to cover strategic areas such as the face, neck, and hands. These autoplastic grafts are permanent.

THE HOSPITAL MUST be equipped for this type of care. Special beds may be needed to turn the patient without producing pain or disturbing the burn or the skin graft. Many severe cases require a dozen or more blood transfusions. Few physicians have the patience and personality to limit their practice to burns. For this reason, large medical centers are opening facilities for treatment of these patients.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

BONE INFECTION

Mrs. B. writes: 1. What bacteria cause osteomyelitis? 2. Can any type of infection bring recurrences?

REPLY

1. Virtually every type of micro-organism is capable of causing bone infection. But staphylococci and streptococci account for 90 per cent of all cases.

2. Recurrences are always possible.

BRONCHIAL SECRETIONS

P. M. J. writes: A man of 62 coughs up a large amount of thick, gluey secretions from the lungs. Could this be cystic fibrosis?

REPLY

This is doubtful unless he has been bothered with a heavy secretion since infancy. Chronic bronchitis is a more likely cause, due to smoking, bronchiectasis, or emphysema.

ACTIVITY AFTER SURGERY

W. W. writes: Is it true that exercise is needed after an operation to prevent the development of phlebitis?

REPLY

Activity helps by improving circulation and preventing stagnation of blood. The exercises are mild—such as wiggling the toes and fingers or sitting on the side of the bed.

HYGIENIC PRECAUTIONS

M. B. writes: Is it safe to visit a home where a member of the household has hepatitis?

REPLY

Yes, provided those caring for the victim sterilize the dishes and linens and practice good hygiene.

Today's Health Hint—If a job requires protective equipment, use it.

Burglary Charge Hearings Slated

Preliminary hearing for Juan Jose Reimoneng, 19, of San Francisco, charged with burglary of a Novato service station, was scheduled yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Co-defendant John Edward Padilla, 21, San Francisco, is also scheduled for preliminary hearing at that time. The men were arrested following a 100-mile-per-hour chase Saturday on Highway 101 by police and sheriff's officers. They allegedly were seen taking eight tires from Smith's Flying A Service, 7351 Redwood Highway.

Hopes Riding On Moon Shot Set Next Week

PASADENA (AP)—Ranger 7 will carry more than cameras when it is launched at the moon sometime next week: On it will be riding the hopes and perhaps the futures of the men who made it.

After Ranger 6 hit the moon last February but failed for the fourth straight time to return close-up pictures of the lunar surface, scientists at its Jet Propulsion Laboratory birthplace came under severe criticism from the parent U.S. space agency and in Congress.

JPL operations since then have been overhauled and Ranger 7 has been subjected to minutely detailed tests.

50-50 CHANCE

Result: JPL chief William Pickering gives it a 50-50 chance, compared with the 1-in-4 chance given Ranger 6.

"We are more confident about Ranger 7—we give it one chance in two — because we have one more shot behind us and some changes have been made to improve the reliability of the craft," Pickering said in an exclusive interview.

"I believe the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is now convinced that this is a complex and difficult job, but that we will be able to get pictures of the moon from at least one of the next three shots."

LAST THIS YEAR

Whether Ranger 7 succeeds or not, Pickering said, there will be no more launchings this year due to other commitments at the Atlantic range.

"But we fully expect to fly two more Rangers early next year," he said. "Ranger 8 is already assembled and work has begun on Ranger 9."

All day today some 300 scientists and engineers here went through a full-dress simulation of the flight in the laboratory's new 14.6-million-dollar tracking center, which will control the spacecraft after launch.

12-HOUR DRILL

Working with them in the 12-hour drill, as they did in a similar rehearsal Monday, were 500 technicians at tracking stations around the world plus another 100 at Cape Kennedy.

What will happen if, despite all precautions, Ranger 7 fails to send back pictures scientists need to select a site for manned Apollo moonship landings later in this decade?

That's anybody's guess, but NASA has ordered a new deputy director, retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Alvin R. Luedecke, to come here next month, reportedly as a condition for renewal next December of its contract with the laboratory.

Industry sources here expect Luedecke to be ruthless if Ranger 7 fails.

Moro Sworn In As Italy Premier

More and his cabinet took the oath before President Antonio Segni at the Presidential Palace.

Only two changes appeared in the new government, which is the 26th since the fall of fascism in 1943. Like More's earlier regime, it has 16 ministers from his Christian Democrat party, six Socialists, three Democratic Socialists and one Republican.

No Complaint Due After Family Fight

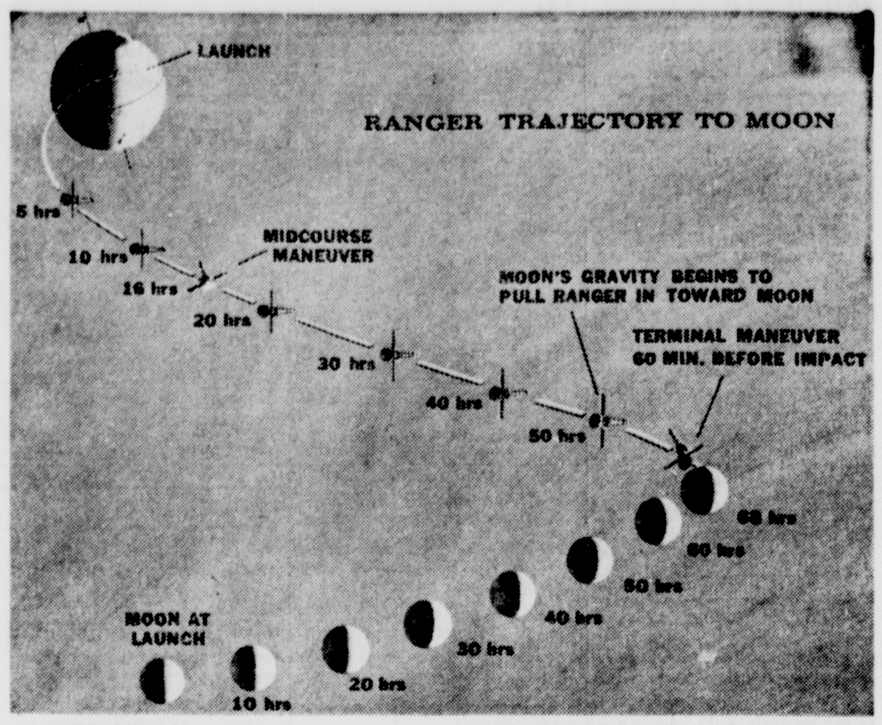
No complaint will be filed against John B. Hernandez, 27-year-old Richmond man arrested Saturday following a family fight in Forest Knolls, the district attorney's office said yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Bail of $1,239 was ordered exonerated by the court. Hernandez had been booked for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon by sheriff's deputies at 377 Montezuma Road, Forest Knolls. Unwillingness of relatives involved to sign a complaint was given as reason for failure to prosecute.

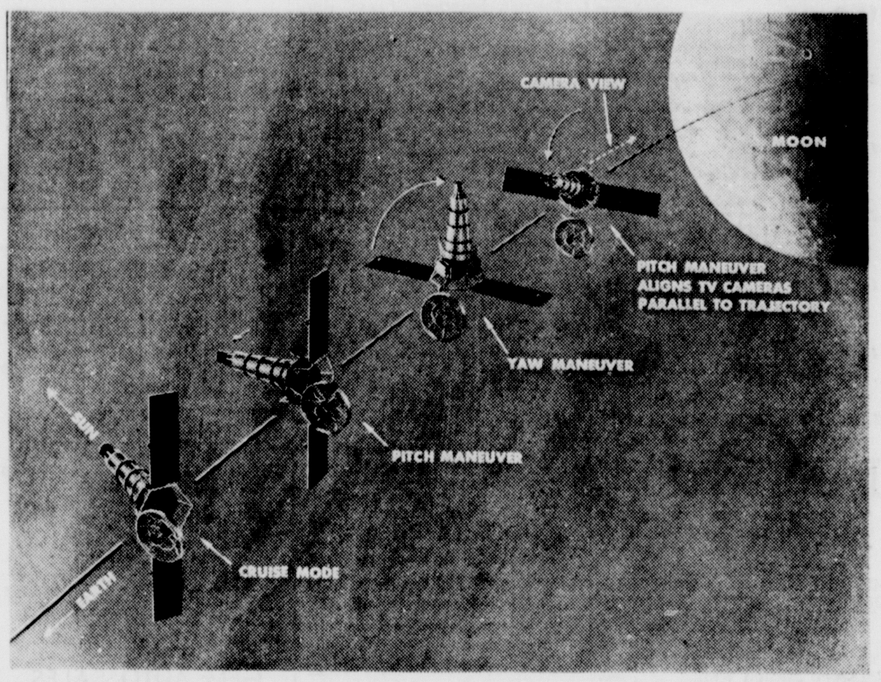
English Postmen Still Plan Strike

LONDON (UPI) — A last-minute effort to avert a nationwide mail strike set for midnight Saturday failed today when the postal union rejected a government peace plan.

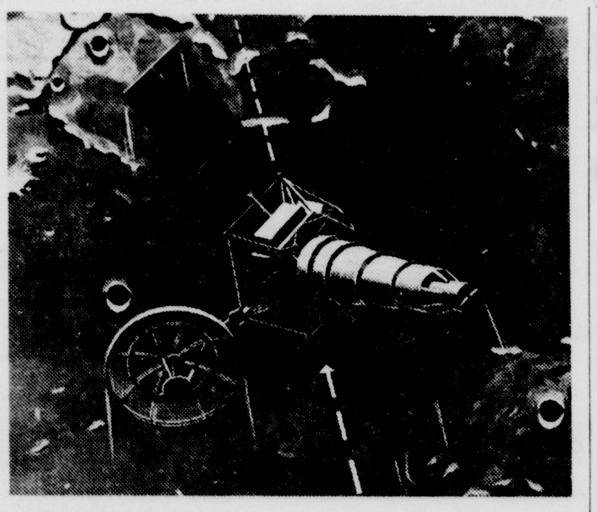
A union spokesman said: "The union emergency committee has met to consider the government offer, and the strike is still on."



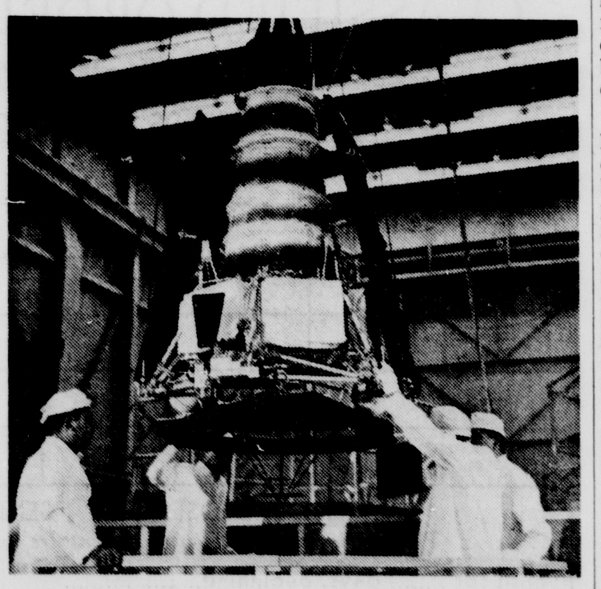
LONG, LONG JOURNEY — Ranger 7, unmanned spacecraft designed by the Jet Propulsion Laboratories at California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, will be shot aloft from Cape Kennedy next week, not at the moon, but at a point where Luna will be 68 hours later. The Ranger's main task is to take photos and transmit them via radio, back to earth as the insect-like craft plunges onto the moon's surface. Crucial times after the launching will be the mid-course maneuver, 20 hours out, and the terminal maneuver one hour before the impact. Ranger 6 cameras failed to send back pictures, although it landed right on target.



SPACE TWIST — Ranger 7 will fly "sideways" to the moon during most of its 68-hour journey, so that the wing-shaped objects protruding from it catch full sunlight. The paddles bear thousands of silicon cells to convert sunlight to electricity, thus charging Ranger's batteries to power the cameras and radio equipment it needs to send back pictures of lunar surface. During the flight's final moments, on command from JPL scientists, the Ranger will pitch and yaw to aim the cameras directly along its moonward course; the telemetry "dish" antenna will also twist to stay aimed at the earth.



FINAL MOMENTS—Ranger 7, if all goes well on its journey to the moon next week, will plunge onto the lunar surface as pictured by an artist, with dish antenna busy transmitting pictures taken by a battery of cameras in the spacecraft's main section.



DELICATE TASK—Technicians at Jet Propulsion Laboratories in Pasadena, lower new Ranger spacecraft onto the adapter which holds it to its launch rocket, in a "match mate" test. Extreme care is being taken to see that Ranger 7, due to go on a voyage to the moon next week, does not fail in its chore of taking and sending back closeup pictures of the lunar surface, vital to the Apollo manned moonship program for selecting a landing site. Previous failures have put JPL on the spot as to whether its space exploration program will be continued by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Protests On School Plan Questioned

Marin Aid to Retarded Children has sent a letter to several residents on Indian Valley Road near Novato questioning their protest on proposed location of a classroom for mentally retarded in a home at 1854 Indian Valley Road.

The letter, signed by Irene St. John, vice president of MARC, said parents of retarded children "have waged a long and discouraging fight" for acceptance of their children in the community.

"We have seen our children housed in dim and chilly basements of schools, isolated from other children, forced to play on broken concrete with outmoded equipment," the letter said.

"Those of you on Indian Valley Road who protested the use of a residence for classrooms because of fear of our children's presence in your neighborhood are obviously not aware of the difference between the mentally retarded child and the psychotic, potentially homicidal, delinquent child. Mental retardation has nothing in common with mental derangement or mental illness."

Supervisors, after hearing protests from residents July 14 denied the application for the classroom asked by the county schools office. Denial was over the recommendation in favor of the classroom by the county planning commission.

Many who protested, cited fire hazard, sanitation, traffic and lack of water as reasons for denial. However, Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said it appeared to be fear of mentally retarded children that was really bothering neighbors. He calls the fears largely unfounded.

Supervisors voted unanimously to deny the permit.

HOUSTON (UPI)—With a show of patriotism and a pledge to "buy back the federal reserve system," the Constitution parties of the United States opened their joint convention today.

Cubans Protest Death At Guantanamo Base

HAVANA (UPI)—Cuba sent a protest note to U.N. Secretary General Thant last night over the death of a Cuban sentry it says was shot by U.S. Marine guards Sunday.

The note rejected the U.S. version of the incident, which said that Marines fired a single shot over the heads of Cuban sentries on the boundary of the Guantanamo Naval Base in eastern Cuba. The United States said the Cubans first fired on the Marines.
